SUPREME COURT TO REVIEW WORTHEN STREET CLOSING

HUSBAND LOSES RACE WITH DEATH
TO REACH BEDSIDE OF WIFE WHO PASSED AWAY HERE

With the death last night at St. John's hospital of Mrs. Emma S. David of Passaic, N. J., her husband, Evans J. David, lost a race with the Grim Reaper in his attempt to reach her bedside by the fastest method of land and air travel with the clock of time.

Notified in St. Louis, Mo., yesterday by telegram of the dangerous condition of his wife following an operation, the husband prepared for a record dash half way across the continent in a desperate effort to reach her bedside while life still lingered, but the sand trickled out of the hour glass while he sped eastward.

Although an Associated Press despatch from St. Louis this morning told of arrangements made by Mr. David for airplane flights from Dayton to Cleveland and from Cleveland to Lowell, no word of his progress had reached this city at noon today, although it was understood he planned to land at Springfield. It is doubtful whether any aviator would attempt to land here without a municipal field of well defined landing spot.

Mrs. Emma S. David was a former resident of Lowell where she was born and educated in the public schools. For the past few weeks she was at the beach with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Claus of 41 West Sixth street. A sudden illness made an operation necessary. Besides her husband and mother and father she leaves a sister.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT HANDED OVER TO MILITARY DICTATORSHIP

BERLIN, Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.) At a hurriedly called midnight session of the German cabinet, attended by Gen. Von Seeckt, the chief of staff, the immediate proclamation of a state of emergency throughout Germany was decided upon and Minister of Defense Gessler was given executive authority to put into force any military or police measures he might deem warranted in the circumstances. (This action is continued in Paris, London and other quarters as virtually placing Germany in the hands of a military dictator.)

Follows Action of Bavaria
The action of the German government was taken when news of the appointment of Dr. Von Kahr as military dictator of Bavaria was received, and the proclamation issued was intended as an effort to the Bavarian manifesto.

Bavaria's action was wholly unexpected and the government leaders were at first at a loss to account for it. Although it is not viewed as a studied affront to the central government the manner in which it was launched, nevertheless, was construed as a piece of cowardly criticism of the way in which the Berlin government had called off passive resistance in the Ruhr. This view prevailed despite assertions from Bavaria that her measures were wholly prompted by the suspicions of the guards of Adolf Hitler, the national socialist leader, and their allied organizations.

Official opinion in Berlin inclines to the belief that Dr. Von Kahr will be fully able to cope with the situation in Bavaria and that the outbreak there is unlikely to extend beyond the P. ca frontier, despite the noisy agitation of the factions classed as "super patriots" whose fighting strength is exaggerated to be grossly overestimated.

Full of Possibilities

PARIS, Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.) The German government has practically been handed over to a military dictatorship. It is deduced at the foreign office from dispatches received this forenoon from Berlin. The situation is full of possibilities.

CONFLICT IN OKLAHOMA DEVELOPS INTO A FIGHT TO FINISH

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.) The conflict between Gov. J. C. Walton and the lower house of the Oklahoma legislature developed today into a fight to the finish. The lawmakers prepared to take their case to the courts.

Meanwhile the state is in doubt as to the official status of its lower legislative branch.

The dramatic action of national guardsmen in dispersing on orders of the governor 66 house members who gathered yesterday in the state capitol at their own call to consider impeachment charges, left the executive victorious after the first brush. The contention of the legislators that the house formally was convened, notwithstanding the military interference presented an unprecedented problem which a court must solve.

From the maze of charges and counter charges revolving about Gov. Walton's fight against mob violence and masked depredations in Oklahoma, has appeared a tense situation which observers say is the prelude to a spectacular climax.

The use of military forces to combat "hooded outrages" will continue until domination of one-third of the counties in the state by the K.K.K. is broken, the governor said. Within the next few hours, he added, he will place another county under rigid martial law at the request of some of its citizens. Rumor has it that Murray county is the one to which he referred, although this finds no confirmation in official quarters.

Asserting that the proceedings in the state house yesterday constituted an official assembly despite the intervention by the military, the "rebel" legislators went ahead today with plans to institute court proceedings to test their right to meet without a call from the governor.

Attorney-General Jay R. Benton Announces He Will Lend His Name to Proceedings as Petitioned for By Opposing Citizens—Writ of Certiorari Will Issue to Be Returnable Sometime in October

Attorney-General Jay R. Benton today announced he will allow his name to be used in connection with proceedings in the supreme judicial court to test the legality of the action of the Lowell city council in granting permission to the Saco-Lowell shops to close a portion of Worthen street to public travel as asked in a petition of citizens argued before him on Sept.

LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE DULLED
HIS SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR WIFE AND FAMILY

The romance of the land of make-believe is far different from the stern realities of life, as Eustathios Metropoulos learned this morning. As the romantic young lover he has probably listened many times to the plaudits of the multitudes, and no doubt the flattery have went softly into their hands as he passionately extolled his love for the beautiful young heroine.

But in real life things were far different. For he it known that Eustathios wiped romance out of his every-day life when he rid himself of the grease paint and the spangles of the young prince in the play. And when he stepped out from behind the footlights, there was never a thought of such mercenary things as providing support for his wife.

As a result of this, Eustathios, who claims Lowell and Chicago as his

PHILADELPHIA

Distilling Company at Eddington, Pa., Raided by Band of 40 Men

Guards Handcuffed and Covered While Bandits Roll Barrels to Trucks

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—A band of about 40 men, some of them masked and armed, bound and gagged the guards at the warehouse of the Philadelphia Distilling Co. at Eddington, near here, today, and escaped with from seven to ten truck loads of whiskey.

This was the second raid on the distillery within a month, a large number of men being driven away the first time after they had bound several guards, but before they were able to secure any of the whiskey.

$250,000 Worth of Whiskey

Whiskey valued at $250,000 was stored in the warehouse and a legal battle is now in progress in the federal court here over its ownership.

There were three night guards and two engineers in the building when the bands appeared. Some of them carried sawed-off shotguns. The five men were handcuffed and assembled in the engine room and held under guard while others of the bandits rolled out

SUITS FOR $14,000 IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

As a result of an automobile accident in Dunmer street a couple of months ago when a machine operated by George Goudas of Boston climbed over the sidewalk, striking and injuring several persons, suits were today entered against Goudas for approximately $14,000.

It will be remembered that Goudas, who had hired an automobile in Newtonville, drove to Lowell and parked his machine in Dunmer street, while he went into a restaurant. When he returned to the car, so it is claimed, he started the engine and when he released the brakes, the machine shot over the sidewalk into a crowd of pedestrians. George Goudas sustained fractures of both legs in the crash and is still confined to St. John's hospital. Several others were injured, but not so seriously.

Goudas appeared in district court this morning to answer a charge of

MAYOR INVESTIGATING
FIREWORKS BILL

Mayor John J. Donovan yesterday began a personal investigation into the bill of $1000 submitted by the American Fire Works Co. for the July Fourth display in this city, when he held a lengthy conference with Daniel F. Fitzgerald, company representative, and James J. Gallagher, city council president.

As result of a council vote to the effect that the bill should not be paid without thorough investigation, the mayor has withheld his approval.

He did not care to give out any statement regarding it today, but said an announcement will be made within a few days.

BOSTON & MAINE OFFICIALS PLAN
ERECTION OF HOMES FOR THE SHOP WORKERS

Project Receiving Exclusive Mention in The Sun Several Weeks Ago Now Well in Hand—Housing Corporation to Be Formed by Railroad Will Build Homes, Amusement Places and Stores

Officials of the Boston & Maine railroad have taken up with officials of the town of Billerica the matter of erecting homes in that town for car shop workers. Several officials of the railroad were in Billerica yesterday to explain to town officials just what is contemplated by the railroad and to learn public sentiment in connection with their plan.

The Sun several weeks ago made exclusive announcement of the fact that the railroad corporation intended to build homes for the men hired at the shops to replace the workers who went on strike in April, 1922. It is planned to erect a small community, with amusement places and stores, on Salem road south of the shop property.

A housing corporation will be formed by the railroad. This corporation will build homes, rent them to car shop workers, arrange for workers purchasing them on the pay-as-rent plan if desired, and assume general charge of the erection and upkeep of the entire property.

Railroad officials yesterday told officials of Billerica that the development as proposed will add $500,000 valuation to the town. They wished assurance that streets to be laid in this new property would be accepted by the town as soon as possible after completion.

FRUIT, FLOWER AND VEGETABLE
EXHIBIT AT LIBERTY HALL
AN ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

To gain a realization of what beautiful flowers, fruits and vegetables are raised in this vicinity one should attend the annual show of the Middlesex North Agricultural society which closes tonight at Liberty hall. The hall was quite well thronged throughout the day with visitors but it is confidently expected that the largest crowds of the whole show will be on hand tonight. The greatest advertisement thus far given the show is that of those who have visited it and hastened to spread to their friends and neighbors the suggestion that they, too, take in the exhibit.

The show opened at noon yesterday and members of the committee in charge were justly proud of the fine exhibit which is the outcome of their efforts. Long tables fill the hall, even the stage, and on them are exhibited various products of the soil of the locality. These products are all the finest seen in Lowell in some time and cause one to marvel at their near perfection.

The success of the show is due solely to the pride of growers in their products. No admission is charged to the show and no prizes are given. The flowers, fruit, vegetables, jellies and

Four Men Who Were His Companions at Time Held on Charge of Murder

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 27.—Thomas A. Chisnell, patrolman, member of the New Bedford police department liquor and vice squad, lies dead as the result of a mortal wound received in a scuffle early this morning at a roadhouse in Mattapoisett, at which he was present while off duty. The four men who were his companions at the time are under arrest, charged with murder. Two of them, Clifford A. Harley, cook, of 353 Belmont street, and Joseph C. Reilly, driver, of 394 Union street, New Bedford, were slightly wounded in the fracas. The other two, James W. Walsh, real estate dealer, 80 Main street, and James E. O'Leary, driver, of 11 George street, were unharmed. The four rushed Chisnell to St. Luke's hospital, New Bedford, in an automobile and were arrested while at the hospital.

THE FATAL "ACHE, YES!"

This Refrain From Old Song
Made France Laugh and
"Tiger" Roar

By MILTON RHONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Sept. 27—"Ach, yes!" These words—refrain to a savage bit of French doggerel—made all France laugh, decided an important election in the Var district, won the undying enmity of Clemenceau, and finally brought Ernest Judet to the bar of justice, charged with being a traitor to France in time of war.

Back in the early nineties Ernest Judet was one of the most famous editors in France. He presided over the fortunes of both Journal and drew a huge salary.

Clemenceau in those days was earning his terrible name of "Tiger." Ministry after ministry fell before the onslaughts of the grim old statesman. Then he himself ran for re-election to the French Parliament in the district of the Var.

His enemies got back something of their own. Petit Journal under Judet led the pack. By editorials, by cartoons, by scathing articles, by ribald songs it pursued Clemenceau.

"The climax came when Judet printed in his paper, 'The Litanies of M. Clemenceau.' Its general tone can be guessed from the opening lines:

"I am poor, Clemenceau uselessly repeats.

"Ach, yes!"

"I have never speculated in Panama.

"Ach, yes!"

"All kinds of insinuations against the grand old man were thus gathered up and dished, only to be negated by this—"Ach, yes!"

When Clemenceau went to the Var to make speeches, French voters shouted—"Ach, yes!"—at him.

It beat him. It stopped his career at a time when he could hope for everything. He never forgave Judet.

Many years passed. Judet had fallen upon hard days. He was editor of a paper which was not prosperous. Clemenceau was France's wartime prime minister. Judet went over to Switzerland. He said he went to serve France. His enemies said he went to betray France.

Then Clemenceau pounced. Accusations were brought against Judet. It was charged he entered into negotiations with Germans, whereby he was to foster the pacifist movement in France.

Judet did not return to France at the original date fixed for his trial. The case went on just the same and last February he was sentenced by default to perpetual detention in a fortified place for having intelligence with the enemy during war time.

Then one fine day Judet returned to France, gave himself up and demanded a trial where he could face his accusers. The trial lasted 11 days. Ten minutes after the jurors got the case they acquitted Judet.

Thirty years after his original feud with Clemenceau, he is once more free to pursue hostilities if he wishes.

But Clemenceau is 82 and out of office.

And Judet is 72 and out of a job.

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
N. E. A. Service Staff Writer
WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Art spells poverty, not money. We learned that in school.

Yet art, like oil, spells cash sometimes. An art loom, as unique as many an oil boom, has put the village of Woodstock on the map. This is a suburban "Hollywood Village" with a golden lining.

Rents have doubled and tripled. Farming has been abandoned in favor of art. Villagers used to hate the art students when they first came to Woodstock because they left their plant rags lying around and Woodstock cows ate 'em and died. Now they turn barn stalls and hay lofts into studios, rented at New York prices, and charge you a dollar for boarding house meals. "Rooms come high," says Al Daiber, proprietor of Twin Gables, boarding house de luxe. "I get more because my house has a bathroom."

I came out here to see the first autumn exodus of the cash-breeding art colony. In winter Woodstock has 700 people; in summer 1700. You could rent a whole house and garden for $15 or $20 a month a few years ago. Now York artists had solved the high cost of living problem. Now it's different—houses at $50 a month ($75 with bathroom); barn lofts for $200 a season; rooms without private bath (for public either) $3 a night; board and room $25 a week!

Oh, no Woodstock villagers don't sneer at art and artists now. They're simply crazy about art, wonderful art! All except one woman—Mrs. Dan Sully, who stubbornly refuses to acknowledge that art is better, in dollars and cents than agriculture.

Cheap in the country? Don't let anybody tell you that! Not in art, and Woodstock. I had a talk with Grace H. Britton, who came to Woodstock to paint but remained to sell real estate.

"I could get you a barn loft," she said, "without running water or anything for $100 a season. Twice as much with. But a house? Twenty dollars a month? Are you mad?"

I went across the street to where a chunky little woman was selling vegetables. There were some tomatoes that could be bought for a penny, but some knobby looking cucumbers were selling for ten cents apiece. Even vegetables have gold paint now!

For the Woodstock farmers aren't farming much nowadays. When they aren't renting out barns or setting up garages or waiting table for the summer boarders they're hiring out as "types" to the art students at 50 cents an hour. Some of them are thinking seriously of going into the movies.

Only the grand old woman of Woodstock has proved obdurate. Mrs. Sully, now in her 69th year, was born in Woodstock. She used to be on the stage.

Twenty years ago, at the height of her career, she came back to Woodstock. For 14 years she ran the Woodstock saw mill, sawed logs and made barrel heads. She owns eight houses and a thousand acres of land and looks after them all. She drives her own team, milks cows and does all her housework in her bare feet.

Other Woodstock inhabitants first scorned, then endured, then embraced the artists. Mrs. Sully alone will have nothing to do with them.

"Call that stuff art?" she sniffs. "I've got better stuff in my attic."

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of tiresome exercise, starvation diet, and absurd greases and salves. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists the world over at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.—Adv.

TAO TEA is more economical than ordinary good teas. Each Tao Tea Ball makes a pot of the most delicious tea you ever drank—4 to 5 cupsful, according to strength desired.

Ten days' supply of Tao Tea for a quarter—forty or fifty cups of this supreme tea! In larger packages, even cheaper. There's three weeks' supply in the forty-five-cent tin, and enough for about two months' use in the Tao Caddy, for the average family. The caddy, a big fifty-ball tin, is the most economical of all.

Flowery ORANGE PEKOE Blend

Tao Tea, the most fragrant and flavorful tea procurable. Tea of this quality sets a new standard—you will never again be satisfied with ordinary teas. Only the tiny bud leaves from the tips of the plants of the fairest gardens of Ceylon, India and Java are choice enough for Tao—the supreme tea.

"MAL" HALLET'S ORCH.

AT ASSOCIATE HALL

The people of Lowell will have the opportunity of hearing Mal Hallett's orchestra at Associate hall tonight. This orchestra has set Merrimack vallues made with its latest New York Blue numbers, and when it comes here at a popular price it is bringing a New York sensation that made Hallett and his orchestra very popular this summer. A large crowd will be here from Lawrence and Haverhill to enjoy this music in Associate hall. The orchestra will play the new floor, make it New England's premier dance hall. A concert will be given from 8 to 8:15; dancing, 8:15 to 12.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The underground castle of Bluebeard—the of the many wives whose story for countless years has caused shivers to chase up and down human spines—has been immortalized in motion pictures. For vision scenes in "Bluebeard's 8th Wife," a Sam Wood production for Paramount which is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre, a replica of the story book castle, with underground caves and dungeons, was constructed at the studio. Big heavy strong padlocks, black long narrow passages. Miss Swanson and Huntley Gordon, her leading man, are the only two characters appearing in this sequence of the picture. Both wear costly costumes of heavy material, bejeweled and hung with valuable ornaments.

In connection with the showing of "Bluebeard's 8th Wife," the management, in co-operation with local women's shops, has arranged an excellent style show, featuring nine beautiful models, who appear twice daily.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Pianocapers" is a vaudeville classic, as put forward by its originators, Al and Fanny Steadman, at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. The comedy of Al and the singing and dancing of Fanny are of big league calibre. Buckridge & Casey is another team which gives unalloyed pleasure. Miss Buckridge is straight from musical comedy, and Casey is a former moving picture actor. They make a delightful pair. "Papa's Secretary," as played by Kelso & DeMonde, is one of the best turns on this bill. It is farce played at a fast pace. Russell & Marconi, in "Bits of Hits," and Valentine & Bell, in many things wound together, complete the big bill. The picture feature is "Stormy Seas."

MERRITT'S SALE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Sept. 4, 1923. Taken on execution and will be sold at public auction on Saturday, Oct. 20, 1923, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon at my office, Room No. 434, in the Apollon Bank Bldg., No. 174 Central street in Lowell, in said County, all the right, title and interest which Michael A. Ansara of said Lowell had, not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution on Jan. 22, 1923, at 1 o'clock in the forenoon, being the time when the same was attached on mesne process in and to the following described lots or parcels of real estate, to wit:

The land in said Lowell with the buildings thereon situated on the southerly side of Merrimack street, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the northeasterly corner of the premises on said Merrimack street and at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack river to James E. Barnes by deed dated July 31, 1920; thence westerly on said Merrimack street, forty-seven feet, thence southerly at a right angle ninety-four and 1/2 feet; thence easterly in a line parallel to said Merrimack street forty-seven feet to said Barnes land; thence northerly on said Barnes land ninety-four and 1/2 feet to the point of beginning. Containing 411 1/2 square feet, more or less. This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions that no building shall ever be erected within less than ten feet from said Merrimack street, and said strip of ten feet shall forever be kept open as a sidewalk. Being the same premises to Michael A. Ansara conveyed by deed dated June 17, 1920, one from Mary E. Barrett, executrix, the other from Mary E. Barrett individually recorded with Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 623, Page 43.

Also a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, containing 637 1/2 square feet of land situated on the southerly side of Varney street in said Lowell, bounded as follows: Beginning at a stone bound on said street at the northeasterly corner of the premises at last formerly of one Grosvenor; thence at a right angle southerly on said Grosvenor land eighty-six and 5/8 feet to a stone bound; thence at an angle of 107° 14' five and 20-100 feet in a corner of a fence; thence at an angle of 90° 33' eighty-five and 5-100 feet to a passageway; thence northerly on said passageway seventy-six feet to said Varney street; thence easterly on said Varney street sixty-seven and 66-100 feet to the point of beginning. Together with all my right, title and interest in and to said passageway. Being the same premises conveyed to Michael A. Ansara by deed from Amasa Pratt dated Sept. 16, 1919, and recorded in said Registry of Deeds, Book 511, Page 175.

Also the land in said Lowell with the buildings thereon, situated on the southerly side of Varney street, and thence bounded, viz: Beginning at the northeasterly corner of the premises on the southerly side of said street at a drill hole in a stone; thence southerly on said street ninety feet to a stone bound at land of one Smiley; thence southerly along said Smiley land eighty-six and 5/8 feet to a stone bound; thence turning about a right angle southerly ninety feet to a mark on a stone at land of one Grosvenor; thence southerly along said Grosvenor land ninety and 55-100 feet to the point of beginning. Containing 7989 square feet, and being the same premises conveyed to Michael A. Ansara by deed from Joseph Barber, Trustee, by deed dated January 25, 1918, recorded in said Registry of Deeds.

Also the land in said Lowell situated on the northwesterly side of Suffolk street, containing 5589 square feet, the buildings thereon now supposed to be numbered 98 to 100 on said Suffolk street, and the bounded, viz: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of the premises at the northeasterly corner of land conveyed by the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack river to John Gates by deed dated March 16, 1920; thence northerly by said Suffolk street sixty feet to a corner; thence at a right angle westerly eighty-six and 5/8 feet to a corner; thence southerly at an angle of 102° 52' sixty-one and 55-100 feet to said Gates land; thence southerly at an angle of 77° 8' 2" 20-100 feet by said Gates land to the point of beginning, and being the same premises conveyed to Michael A. Ansara by deed from George H. Henson by deed dated August 16, 1915, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the Northern District of said County Book 542, Page 401.

Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Lowell on the easterly side of Adams street containing 2753 square feet, more or less, the buildings thereon now supposed to be numbered 177 to 183 on said Adams street and thus bounded: Beginning at the northwesterly corner of the premises on said Adams street at the southeasterly corner of land now or formerly of Frank E. McNabb at a point distant southerly forty feet, more or less, from the intersection of said Adams street with the southerly side of Broadway; thence easterly by said McNabb land thirty-four feet, more or less, thence southerly still by said McNabb land fourteen and 5-10 feet, more or less; thence easterly still by said McNabb land six feet, more or less, thence southerly still by said McNabb land twenty feet, more or less; thence easterly still by said McNabb land four and 5-10 feet, more or less, to land now or formerly of Timothy A. Crowley; thence southerly by said Crowley land thirty feet, more or less, to land of the estate of Edward Costello, now or formerly; thence westerly by said Costello land sixty-four feet more or less to said Adams street; thence northerly by said Adams street fifty-five feet more or less to the point of beginning. This conveyance is made subject to the condition that no building or obstruction shall ever be placed on the above described premises within six feet of said Adams street, but that the said six feet shall be forever kept open as and for a sidewalk. Being the same premises to said Michael A. Ansara conveyed by George H. Henson by deed dated July 19, 1916, and recorded in said Registry, Book 557, Page 508.

PTOMAINS CAUSE SERIOUS ILLNESS

Mr. Turner Suffered for Months from Disordered System Resulting From Food Poisoning

Debility may result from a great many causes such as grief or a sudden shock. It may follow an acute illness such as grippe or influenza. The symptoms are generally alike, stomach disturbance, nervousness, pale complexion, breathlessness, fluttering heart. In the case of Mr. Frank W. Turner, a mortician, of No. 84 Allen Place, Hartford, Conn., ptomaine poisoning was the cause of the disturbance to his system.

"My stomach would not digest my food," Mr. Turner says, "and I was dizzy a great deal of the time so that I almost staggered when I walked. I was constipated, had no strength and felt weak all over. I suffered from dizziness and palpitation of the heart. I had pains after eating and sour risings in the throat. This resulted from ptomaine poisoning and for two months my system did not recover from the effects although I had medical treatment.

"I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills years before with good results and I thought they might help this condition, so I tried them. While I was still taking the first box I noticed that my stomach was better and the gas spells less frequent. My heart stopped bothering me. All of the disagreeable symptoms disappeared and I am stronger now and feel good all the time. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to a number of people. They certainly helped me."

Your own druggist can supply you or the pills will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for a copy of the booklet, "Building Up the Blood." It is free.—Adv.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"The Tidal Wave," also known under two other titles, "The Beachcomber" and "Mother Love," is creating a long line of drama lovers at the Opera House this week and, judging from the opinions of those who have seen it, it is one of the best offerings so far this year. Fine parts are afforded for Victor Browne, Hazel Corinne, Miss Andrews, Lloyd Sabine and others of the players.

Gravest interest was expressed at the announcement that Mr. Tommie Martelle is to appear at the Opera House the week of Oct. 29th.

Comedy is comedy only when there is a laugh around. Nobody knows that better than Lupino Lane, the comedy idol of two continents, who is now appearing at the Rialto in his latest William Fox offering, "A Friendly Husband."

The added feature presents Reginald Denny in "The Abysmal Brute." In this picture Denny is seen in the role of a Leather Pusher, a hero of the squared arena. He falls in love with a highly cultured, superlative society girl, but does not tell her his profession for fear that she will think less of him. When she does finally discover his vocation she dismisses him, although she really loves him. How he uses "leave man" methods to win her love back and how he succeeds makes "The Abysmal Brute" a dramatic story above par. Buddy Messenger, Mahel Jullien Scott and Hayden Stevenson are in the cast.

THE STRAND

Heralded throughout the country by critics as Maurice Tourneur's "greatest masterpiece" and a thrilling dramatic spectacle of unrivalled beauty, "Laura Doone" is surely winning unqualified praise and commendation during its run at the Strand during the week-end. Tourneur's fictionalization of Blackborn's famous novel has attracted world-wide attention and for once the critics have forgotten to complain that the picture is nothing like the book.

If you want to see what the best of the ocean looks like, then don't miss the novel pictureization "Vengeance of the Deep," a story of the South Sea pearl fisheries, where some of the most wonderful underwater scenes are shown in which some of the most daring and brutal of the natives are also reflected on the screen. You will marvel at it.

CHAMPIONSHIP DANCE

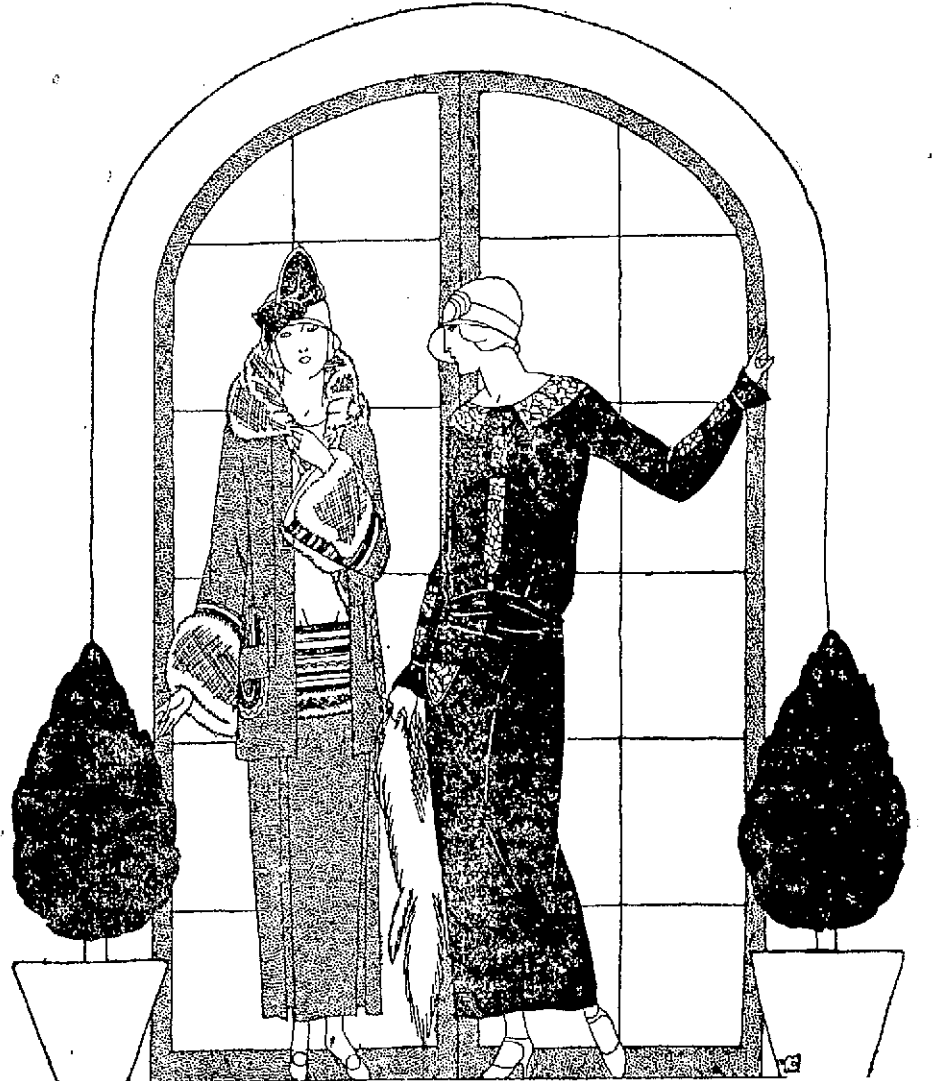

Arthur Carroll and Dominick Monahan, who, with their female partners, will compete in a championship waltz contest at the Casino tomorrow night, informed the management this morning that they are prepared to go on with the test and will be in their best shape for the competition when the judges make the "on with the dance" announcement. Since both couples are well known in this city and have large followings, a record attendance is expected. The rivals are evenly matched and will dance to music provided by Campbell's orchestra, which also will play for the general dancing before and after the contest.

SECOND DAY OF BIG ANNUAL FAIR BY TYNGSBORO GRANGE IN THE TOWN HALL

Undeterred by the frowning skies, the people of Tyngsboro and surrounding villages cheerfully wended their way to the Tyngsboro town hall this morning bent upon spending the whole day and most of the evening at the fair which is being conducted there by Tyngsboro grange, 222.

Shortly after the doors of the hall had opened at 10 o'clock this morning,

Don't Blame Wife's Cooking If Your Digestion is Poor!

When your appetite isn't what it should be, the medicine is named, not only used to be and your digestion is poor. When food scours on your stomach, causes gas to form on the stomach, causes you to feel nervous and uncomfortable after meals. When you don't get refreshment and sleep and wake up half-dressed and are often constipated. Don't blame your food and don't take soda or drugs that may hurt the lining of your stomach.

Build yourself up! Strengthen your digestive organs so that they function naturally at every meal. Dr. H. S. Thacher, the noted specialist, perfected a delicious vegetable tonic that is ideally suited to the weakened stomach. Dr. W. Dows and Co., Noonan's Drug Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, as, store—Adv.

the affair were swept away and the committee in charge knew well that this year's fair had broken all records in attendance as well as in exhibits.

Today's program provides for something doing all day long. From 10 to 12 o'clock the exhibits were the main attraction and the judge's awards were carefully checked up. At noon a dinner was served in the basement of the hall by the women folks of the Tyngsboro grange.

At 3.30 p. m. a program of sports will be run off at the school yard weather permitting. The sports are open to all boys and girls in the town and cash prizes will be awarded the winners.

During the late afternoon the exhibits will be removed from the hall to make room for the entertainment and dance in the evening. At 6 o'clock supper will be served and at 8 p. m. an entertainment will be given. The entertainment, consisting of character sketches by a Boston actor, will last for about an hour and, following this, dancing will be enjoyed until midnight.

The fair opened yesterday at one o'clock and the afternoon was given over to a baby show and to the judging of the exhibits by C. B. Tillson, representative of the Middlesex County Farm Bureau, and Miss Forbes, who judged the household exhibits.

Baby Show New Feature
The baby show was a new feature of the fair and was held at 3 o'clock. About 20 babies were entered and prizes were awarded by popular vote. There were three prizes offered, one for the prettiest baby, one for the best natured baby, and one for the youngest baby. Virginia Louise Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Knapp of North Chelmsford, was voted the prettiest baby; May Elaine Reno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reno, of North Chelmsford, was judged the best natured baby; and Gloria

Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donovan of North Chelmsford, aged 3 months, was awarded the prize as the youngest baby exhibited.

Stomach Troubles Are Due to Acidity

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a glass of water, or in a glass of cold water after eating, or whenever gas, sourness or acidity are felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, but certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose. Adv.

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. Everett E. Hunt of Belzoni, Okla., who has three children and never any sickness, and Mrs. F. B. Kuklenski of Prosser, Wash., always give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeling by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Syrup Pepsin.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative," and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are physics that never should be given to children—calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a coal-tar drug that causes skin

THE NEW JEWEL THEATRE

Reginald Denny, devotee of the padded mitt, will be seen in the first chapter of a new series of "Leather Pushers" stories. This young man is fast becoming one of the great leaders in his profession, and he has already been starred in big productions, among them "Sherlock Holmes" and "The Abysmal Brute," both wonderful additions to the movie industry. Two regular length features, a comedy and other short novelties will round out a whiz of a program at this popular and cozy little movie house.

A New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and

FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Linit penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

You will be interested to know that Linit was originally developed for the use of the great Fabric Makers to give that smartly fashionable finish now so much in vogue.

With Linit you can keep your shirt waists looking like new. The children can have their garments finished in the daintiest style, equal to the most beautiful French finish.

Linit is sold by
all grocers, 10c

—Perfection in starching is guaranteed or your money refunded.

Linit is made by the Corn Products Refining Company—makers of the famous Argo Starch—Karo Syrup and Mazola Salad and Cooking Oil.

WARD MURDER TRIAL NEAR END

This is the best photograph yet to be published of Mrs. Beryl Curtis Ward, wife of Walter Ward, and their two children, since Ward went on trial at White Plains, N. Y., for his life for the slaying of Clarence Peters, former sailor. It was taken at Sutton Manor.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Opening with a vigorous attack on the four hour and fifteen minute address to the jury yesterday by Isaac N. Mills, chief of the defense staff, Attorney General Carl Sherman today began the summation of the prosecution's case against Walter S. Ward, charged with murdering Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass. Mr. Sherman characterized Mr. Mills' address as a pitiful demonstration against conclusive and damaging evidence and said it was intended as a smoke screen to camouflage the inability of the defense to disprove the state's testimony.

The attorney general said there has been ample evidence to convict Ward since last year when he recommended prosecution after the first indictment was handed down.

Mrs. Ward, the defendant's wife, came to the court room before the session opened with half a dozen handkerchiefs in one hand and a packet of letters in the other from which several other handkerchiefs protruded.

homes, appeared before Judge Bright in district court this morning to answer to a complaint of his wife charging non-support. He pleaded guilty, and an agreement was entered whereby he will contribute $12 each week towards his wife's support.

The court was informed that the defendant was leading man in a traveling company of Greek dramatic players.

Other Non-Support Cases

Three other defendants were also called before the court this morning to answer to complaints of non-support. George Wade, father of six children, was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction, but entered an appeal, and the court ordered him to pay $25 each week to his wife while the appeal was pending. Later this sentence was revoked, and Wade was given another chance upon his promise to pay $15 each week towards the support of his family.

Mrs. Wade testified that trouble started when Wade began keeping company with another woman and Probation Officer Cronin informed the court that the woman in question is now on probation on a suspended sentence from the court.

Wake objected, however, to such testimony being introduced against him, and angrily inquired of the court:

"How long are they going to keep bawling over that?"

It was then that the six months' sentence was imposed but later Wade repented and as his wife was willing to accept $15 per week, the sentence was changed.

Hector Christian was not in court when he was called to plead to a complaint of non-support and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Aged Man Assaulted

Alex Sedrick was fined $75 on a charge of assault upon Edward Broule in Chelmsford yesterday. Mr. Broule, an aged man, had to be assisted to the stand. He claimed that he delivered milk at Sedrick's home and that the defendant owed him for three weeks' milk. When he asked for the money, and told Sedrick he wouldn't leave any more milk until the bill was settled, he said Sedrick set upon him and struck him on the arm and over the head with a stick.

Sedrick admitted the assault, but said it was because Broule made improper proposals to his wife. Mrs. Sedrick also said that Broule had made advances to her, the first time last Tuesday morning, and again yesterday morning. She told her husband of it Tuesday, and he laid in wait for Broule Wednesday morning.

Because of the seriousness of the assault the court was at first inclined to impose a jail sentence, but in view of the finding of the court that the husband was probably angered because of the wife's complaint about Broule, Judge Bright said he would impose a substantial fine instead.

Continued For Sentence

The case of Frank W. Chapman of Hudson, N. H., charged with drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor, was continued one month for sentence. The court informed the defendant that if he made restitution for damages during that time, it would be taken into consideration. But, at any rate, the defendant was informed that there would be at least a fine of $100.

Chapman was charged with crashing into a machine owned and driven by Hugh Wong last night. The crash drove Wong's car forward so that it crashed into a car owned by Edmund Frank of Salem. Frank and Wong had stopped their cars behind an electric car, which had stopped to let off passengers.

Henry J. Savasaku was fined $25 on a charge of operating an auto without a license and $25 for driving without a certificate of registration. The court was informed that the defendant was driving the car in such a manner that he nearly hit a woman.

barrel under barrel of whiskey to the trucks. How many were taken cannot be determined until an inventory is made.

The guards believe they were held in the engine room for an hour after the trucks left, so that they could not give the alarm. When the last of the handbills left the handcuffs of one of the men were unlocked by another of the guards, who found that the thieves had left a handpick key behind them.

An alarm was immediately sounded and the police of Bucks county and Philadelphia notified. The state police were also summoned and systematic search of all roads leading away from Edgington was under way today.

Allegation was made, but it apparently has died there.

Councilor Lambert's suggestion was for the appointment of a traffic commission to include the superintendent of police, chief of the department, traffic supervisor, city engineer and one member of the planning board.

FINAL REGISTRATION FOR BOWEN TO BE RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

BROCKTON, Sept. 27.—William E. Bowen of Beaver, East Bridgewater, will be released from the Brockton hospital tomorrow. He has been under treatment there since he made an attempt on his life Sept. 10, when he drank a bottle containing a poisonous mixture and slashed himself with a razor. The police guard was removed from his bedside today. Arrangements to allow Bowen to go to his home were made through the efforts of his counsel, Attorney William J. Callahan, who today received a letter from District Attorney Reading of Middlesex county.

The letter contained a list of restrictions under which Bowen is to be placed. He is not to leave his home under any conditions and is to be continuously watched by members of his family. He is to talk to no one, except in the presence of his counsel, and the district attorney. He is not to be allowed to read newspaper or magazine articles dealing with the case.

One pleasing thing noticed of the patients this year is that they are of a much higher grade and are more adult than usual. A great many of the registrants are between 20 and 30 years of age and already a father and son and a mother and daughter have registered for the coming year.

Two new courses of study have been added to the curriculum. One is for the special benefit of persons working in the department stores and is termed "commercial law and salesmanship." In this course one hour each evening is given over to the study of commercial law and the remainder of the school period to the proper methods of salesmanship. The other new course is termed "secretarial" and is open only to graduates of the day or evening high schools. The course is to prepare stenographers and clerks for secretarial positions by increasing their speed in stenography and typewriting and familiarizing them with the various office appliances and methods.

BY N. E. A. SERVICE

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Itumor has it that Jimmy Burke, now assistant to Manager Frank Chance at Boston, will be the next manager of the St. Louis Browns.

Burke is product of St. Louis and is still a resident of the fair city. He is a big favorite with the fans and his appointment would do much to popularize the Browns.

Jimmy Burke as manager is not playing a new role in St. Louis. Prior to the coming of Lee Fohl, Burke was in charge of the Browns. Bobby Quinn, always strong for Fohl, made him Burke's successor.

Now that Quinn is president of the Boston Red Sox, it is only plausible to believe that he will make Fohl the manager of that club for 1924. If such is the case it is almost certain that Burke will not be with the team.

If Slater is well enough to manage the Browns next year the job is his for the asking the doers say. Whether he will be able to take charge is a question. If not Slater, then it must be someone else.

Some have argued that Jimmy Austin, now acting as manager, would get a chance if the club made a good showing under him the rest of the season. Austin is hardly of the managerial type as to temperament, so he can hardly be considered in the running.

All these things make it seem that there may be more than mere rumor behind the reports that Jimmy Burke may manage the Browns next season.

preserves shown at the show will be divided among the hospitals and other charitable institutions absolutely gratis at the close of the exhibit. There is not a jarring commercial note anywhere and the exhibit is better by far than many where the striving for commercial preference is the keynote.

Much credit for the success of the show is due to the untiring efforts of the school children of Lowell to put it across. The various exhibits, many of these exhibits being raised by the children themselves and many being donated in the name of the school by the children's parents through the children.

Dahlias in Profusion

The exhibits accredited to the various schools take up a considerable amount of room and are all extremely interesting to lovers of fruit, flowers and vegetables. Varnum, Washington and Pawtucket schools seem to have the largest and most complete exhibits. At the Pawtucket school display three of the school pupils, Frances Monette, William Walker and Edwin Montgomery, were at hand for a part of the time as a committee to meet the visitors and call particular attention to their exhibit.

Miss Alice T. Lee, supervisor of primary grades, arranged the school's exhibits in the hall and was particularly proud of the exhibit of Cabot street school which consisted of articles all raised in the school garden by its pupils. Other schools represented by the exhibits were Lincoln, Sycamore street, Pine street, Laura Lee, Moody, Riverside, Middlesex Village, Morey, Bartlett and Greenhalke.

To many the outstanding feature of the entire exhibit is the dahlia display of Will Rounds. Scores of varieties, each tagged by its proper name, are exhibited by Mr. Rounds who was personally on hand to talk with the many visitors who stopped at the booth. All colors were shown in simple and the most remarkable combinations. The various tints, from the primary colors to the most unusual color combinations presented a pretty, pleasing and kaleidoscopic effect. Judging alone from hushed exclamations of surprise and pleasure or from the great number of inquiries the dahlia exhibit was to the majority of the school children in attendance, the greatest feature of the show.

Some fine specimens of apples are shown by the various farmers of the locality and the temptation to sample them is hard to down in many cases. These apples, without blemish or flaw are indeed pleasing.

The School Exhibits

Varnum school requires two full tables. Several jars of jellies and preserves are shown together with some fine strawberries. Outstanding among the exhibits of Greenhalke school is the dahlia exhibit of the Mrs. Cingmars. A new guinea hen, a species of guinea, is shown as a part of the large exhibit of the Washington school. Everything exhibited from this school was raised from free seeds provided through Congressman Rogers.

Several fine baskets of fruit are shown by the Moody school Clyde Longue. It was a bit late for the Laura Lee school to exhibit its vegetables but the school children there, bound to be exhibitors, sent several grocery displays. Edison school has a generous display. Chief among the Edison display in interest is a fine center basket of fruit from the children of Miss Marron's room, the fourth grade.

Pine prize potatoes form a part of the exhibit of Lexington avenue school. White carrots, raised from free seeds secured through Congressman Rogers, are the featured articles in the display of Riverside school. Jams, jellies and preserves in tempting array are tagged as from Bartlett school. Lincoln school has a fine display that is very comprehensive in scope as is the display of Pawtucket school.

Vegetables Look Good

The vegetables, and there is a pro-

fusion of them, are all well worth viewing. Some monster heads of lettuce, pumpkin, squash and other farm yard specimens are at hand, all tagged by the proud exhibitors. Corn there is in fine lots.

The display of fruit and vegetable preserves is a fine one that it would be indeed hard to match anywhere. A display of groceries and bakers' goods is also highly attractive.

The list of individual contributors, listed by localities, follows:

BALTIMORE WOMAN'S

MESSAGE TO MOTHERS

At 820 W. Haywood Ave., lives Mrs. Henry Johnson, who a few weeks ago wrote what may be termed a good message to all mothers. She said: "I have used Dr. True's Elixir for more than ten years and know it is good." She used Dr. True's Elixir the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, to rid her children of worms. There is hardly a child but what needs Dr. True's Elixir, for they all usually have worms when growing up. Mrs. Johnson appreciates what Dr. True's Elixir accomplishes. Your children will be in better health through its use.

Symptoms to watch: Constipation, offensive breath, slow fever, biliousness, pains in stomach, red points on tongue, swollen upper lip, starting during sleep with troublesome dreams. 40c—50c—$1.20—Adv.

SAUSAGE

With the coming of cold weather, pork may be introduced into the diet. While this delicious meat is more difficult to digest, a moderate use of it can do no harm to the ordinarily healthy person.

If pork is well done and accompanied by the proper dishes there is no reason why chops and roasts and sausage should not appear on most dinner or luncheon tables once a week. The amount of fat in other foods served in a meal with pork should be decreased. Sausage is almost one-third fat pork, so choose vegetables lacking in fat. Let the salad be a simple green or fruit salad with French dressing and the dessert a custard or rice or fruit tapioca.

These recipes for sausage may be new to you. They provide a meat course lacking in protein but rich in fat, so supply the deficiency in the dessert.

Stuffed Apples

Four large apples, 1/2 pound bulk sausage, whole cloves.
Wash apples and remove cores. Stick a few cloves into the flesh of the apples. Fill cavities of apples with sausage. Put in a baking dish with a very little water. Cover and put in a hot oven for 30 minutes. Reduce heat and remove cover and bake an hour in a slow oven. Baste with the juice in the pan.

With Canned Apples

One pound sausage, 4 apples, 1 cup vinegar, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, cracker dust.
Small sausages or linked sausage should be used. Dip sausage in boiling water to cover and let simmer half an hour. Drain and put in a hot frying pan. Prick with a fork and fry half an hour, turning frequently.

Make a sirup of the vinegar, brown sugar and spices. Pare apples and remove cores. Cut in slices one-fourth inch thick. Drop in boiling sirup and cook until clear. Remove from sirup and roll in cracker dust. Brown quickly in hot sausage fat and serve around sausage.

Sausage Rolls

Four small sausages, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 tablespoon lard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, milk to make a soft dough.

Parboil sausage for 10 minutes. Cool and remove skin. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in lard with tips of fingers. Put in milk with knife. Roll on a well-floured board to about one-half inch thickness. Cut in oblong-shaped pieces large enough to completely cover each sausage. Roll and pinch edges together. Prick top of each roll several times with a fork. Bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven.

Serve with scalloped or creamed potatoes, spinach, shredded cabbage, caramel custard or pruna whip.

INSULIN
Insulin, the new patent preparation for the treatment of diabetes, is the discovery. If such it may be called, of Dr. Fred G. Banting of Toronto, Canada.

Many efforts have been made during the past 20 years to carry the results of experiments in the use of pancreas extracts into the field of therapeutics. No direct success was attained as the extracts contained some protein matter which rendered hypodermic administration unsafe.

Dr. Banting is the first to arrive at a real logical conclusion. Quite a large number of patients have been under successful treatment during the past six months.

The idea that a properly prepared extract of the pancreas, freed of its digestive action, would be of great benefit in the treatment of diabetes was confirmed. It was experimentally tested in the laboratory and found to show surprising results. First with animals, then with great caution, on real patients.

Insulin seems to have the power of allowing the diabetic organism to burn sugar, thus causing sugar in the urine to disappear and blood sugar to drop to normal.

It has been given to patients to bring them out of diabetic coma, long enough to overcome serious infections. Surgical operations, under its use, may be performed on the severest cases of diabetes. Best of all, it is claimed that it will permit development and growth in children and young adults, where formerly there was no hope.

Insulin is given to the patient, hypodermically, three times a day before meals. It cannot be used without very careful diet control and must be administered by a physician.

To the sufferer from diabetes this new treatment—it is not yet termed a cure—comes as a welcome boon, almost a call to new life and action.

Have you got hay fever? Carry a handkerchief so you can stop your nose if it tries to run.

A grouch may be a man who married a woman to share his troubles only to learn she caused them.

SAN FRANCISCO

BY A. H. FREDERICK

N. E. A. Service Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—This city plans expansion along the lines made famous by New York and more recently by Los Angeles.

With moves already started to bridge the bay at several places, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, and other nearby towns, will be brought into close contact which may eventually lead to amalgamation.

Also San Francisco is looking down the peninsula toward Burlingame, Hillsborough and San Mateo, and committees are working toward consolidation.

If the peninsula cities are brought within the city limits, San Francisco will have acquired, in Hillsborough, the best known millionaire colony in the west.

Burlingame, with 5000 population, is another exclusive millionaire colony. While San Francisco thus plans a moderate expansion, not so Los Angeles.

This city has the greatest area of any city in the country, and ranges in scope from the high mountains to the sea.

Tourists to Los Angeles, of whom there are thousands annually are greeted by the street signs and areas marked "New addition to So and So" long before they see any other marks of a city.

Oakland claims to be the nearest rival to Los Angeles for Pacific coast boom town honors. And to verify the claims, it points to:

Fifty million dollars in building permits in two years; whole tracts of orchard and grazing lands turned into urban dwelling districts; 300 new homes a month requested for postal delivery; and bank clearings showing an increase of $3,000,000 average over the similar week a year ago.

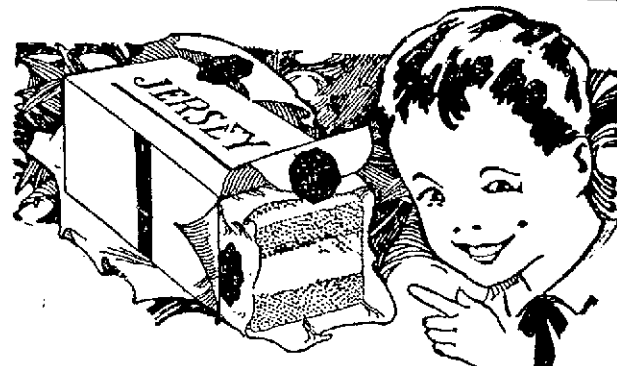

Aristocratic Tramp

The guests at a dinner party were being bored by a snob with a loud voice who wanted every one to know that his family belonged to the aristocracy. At last an old man asked him what he meant by aristocracy. "Well," replied the snob, "I should describe the aristocracy as those who do not work for a living." "You surprise me," said the old man. "I always thought people like that were called tramps."

SOLVING THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

What shall we do with our New England railroads?
The answer to that question will depend upon the point of view. The stockholders who are thinking of their financial interests alone say, "consolidate" the New England railroads into one regional system, overcome local competition and mismanagement, cut down overhead expenses and thus rehabilitate all the roads under the new merger proposed and which is to be capitalized under the government valuation. That will do no harm, of course. Indeed it may do some good by eliminating some of the waste, dropping lines no longer needed, and overcoming the evils of mismanagement; but it can never make the roads prosperous.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford road is in bad shape financially. The Boston & Maine is in very fair condition at present; and the same may be said of some other New England roads. But are these roads in such a strong financial condition, that they can enter a combine on equal terms with the N. Y., N. H. & H? Would they be as strong financially after taking on this bankrupt road and its obligations as they were before? We think not, and hence the consolidation scheme proposed could not, in our judgment, result in financial rehabilitation of the roads involved. The sum of the parts can never exceed the whole; and hence it is, that apparently too much is expected to result even in a financial way from this proposed consolidation of the New England railroads.

But what of the service to the public which is in crying need of improvement? Would that be greatly improved by the consolidation recommended by the Storrow committee? Possibly yes slightly; but it can never wholly solve the New England transportation question.

The claim made by the advocates of consolidation is, that the system could then give its outside business to the trunk line that offered the desired service on the most acceptable terms. They could have the Pennsylvania road, the N. Y. Central and the Erie, or the Baltimore and Ohio compete for the New England business. That sounds well, but it will not bring any of the great companies into New England with leased or proprietary interests which would assuredly induce them to make extensive improvements that are greatly needed.

On the contrary, let the Pennsylvania company come in here and take over the New Haven and Boston & Maine systems and we shall soon see changed railroad conditions in New England. Even the port of Boston would soon feel the benefit of connection with this great trunk line and all its progressive policies.

In a conflict among the trunk lines the New York Central might seek control of some of the New England roads; but it has leased the Boston and Albany and, in any case, it will favor that road as its pet system, for the reason that it has given the stockholders thereof financial guarantees that it must maintain during the life of the lease. Let another trunk line come in here and do for some of our New England systems what the New York Central did for the Boston and Albany.

The policy of the government is to have but seven or eight railroad systems in the country; and those that are linked with the great trunk lines will avoid the dangers of isolation which for New England—consolidation or no consolidation—would eventually be fatal. Therefore, we assert with all confidence and with firm conviction based upon a study of the situation, and in spite of all the arguments to the contrary, that the safeguarding of the interests of New England demands that a substantial part of her railroad system shall pass into control of the Pennsylvania road.

This company at present comes only to Heli Gate bridge at New York, and would be glad to come to Boston and put new life into the moribund system of railroads that are making nothing for themselves and giving, with few exceptions, but very indifferent service to the public. The great railroad system that in spite of the Vanderbilt and Morgan interests entered New York, tunnelling under the Hudson and East rivers at a tremendous expense, would soon bring prosperity to the New England system and to the port of Boston. It would then have a direct interest in New England prosperity and would be a competitor that would save our industries from the merciless discrimination of the New York Central and other trunk lines whose interests run counter to those of New England.

Anyone with the slightest comprehension of our present railroad problems can see at a glance that if the great Pennsylvania railroad could come into New England and do for its main lines what the New York Central has done for the Boston and Albany, the results would inevitably benefit the railroads, the industries, the investors and the traveling public of New England.

THE SUGAR SITUATION

Price-cutting in sugar rations on the part of some of the large refining companies, has caused widespread comment on the part of both wholesalers and retailers, as well as the general public. That sugar refiners have apparently engaged in what many consider at present near-legal practices, has greatly disturbed the sugar market and has, therefore, caused most of the price-slashing, according to one refiner. The price is still too high.

Some of the sugar distributors have been consigning shipments to buyers' warehouses instead of placing it on the open market, in order to keep the price up as long as possible. This gives some buyers an unfair advantage over their competitors. This factor, together with lack of confidence in the general trade, has made the market a "waiting one."

Cuban producers continue to maintain that their sugar will shortly be in demand again at higher prices. Cuba's actual new sugar production plus probabilities (as of June 30) should total more than 25,000,000 bags, or about 3,500,000 tons, according to island representatives of the larger sugar corporations.

OUR NATIONAL DEBT

The national debt now is a trifle under 22 billion dollars, after deducting Uncle Sam's surplus funds. This means that the national debt is $207 for every man, woman and child in the country. While even that is a large sum, it is not enough to drive us to the poorhouse. The income of all the American people for less than half a year would wipe out every penny of the national debt. A great many Americans would be thankful if their personal debts were not any larger than their share of the national debt.

A NATIONAL CEMETERY

The people will heartily endorse the recommendation of Congressman Rogers that a National cemetery shall be provided in New England in which service men of all classes who may die in poor circumstances shall be buried. It is somewhat surprising that a cemetery of that kind has not been already established in New England while over 30 such are located in the other parts of the country. It is expected that the war department, through Secretary Weeks, will select a suitable site for such a burial place and make it available as soon as possible. The nation should never allow any war veteran to be buried in a pauper's grave.

OUR VISITORS

Tourists are the worst offenders against traffic laws, according to one of the local traffic officers. This is not so much due to ignorance of local regulations, for there are plenty of signboards, but rather because it is human nature to cut loose from restraint when away from home, a tendency we all notice at conventions. Tourists, of course, cannot be expected to be familiar with local routes or street signs. As a rule the officers deal gently with them and they are all willing to comply with the traffic laws once their attention is called to the restrictions on speed and the other precautions for public safety.

Henry Ford is at a loss to know what he will do with the Wayside Inn now that he has purchased that famous hostel. If he arranges that it shall provide a first class meal for a reasonable price and that it maintains an atmosphere of respectability, it will always be popular; but if it be made the resort of joy riders and bootleggers it will be avoided by respectable people.

The Middlesex North Agricultural society has a splendid exhibit of farm products at Liberty hall which should be seen by every resident. The exhibits entered by school children are also very creditable and altogether the fair is a striking miniature of the old time agricultural fairs conducted at the Fair Grounds.

After all, the anticipated trouble in Oklahoma did not materialize. The members of the legislature showed good sense by avoiding collision with the troops. If they have been interfered with in their rights, they can have redress in the courts.

Too many boys engage in the dangerous practice of stealing rides on trucks. Already several have been killed as a result of this craze, but this apparently does not deter others from taking a chance.

SEEN AND HEARD

Few of the successful gold-diggers of today, observes the Legion Weekly, are forty-niners.

No matter how great a range a singer may have it never sounds as sweet as the kitchen range.

A man often tells a girl he would die for her, but that is because he never has tried it.

A Thought
A gentleman that loves to hear himself talk will speak more in a minute than he will stand in a month—Shakespeare.

Good For Huffy
Huffy, having moved to the country, had to stand for a lot of near-humor from his downtown friends, and got very tired of it. Hence the following dialogue: "Hello, Huffy." "Lo." "So you now live in the suburbs?" "Yes." "How high is the water?" "Four inches in the garden; higher at the grocery store."

Full of Triangles
"Have you a book writ by a fellow named Euclid?" The bookseller was disconcerted for a moment, but finally admitted that he had. "I'm in the movie business," continued the stranger, "and I think maybe this book would make a good five-reel feature." "What gave you that idea?" "I overheard a literary guy talking about it. He said it was full of triangles."

On Same Errand
"That guy," said the proprietor of a soft drink emporium, confidently indicating a departing figure with his thumb, is a prohibition enforcement gink looking for bootleg whisky." "So'm I," replied the new customer, draping himself along the edge of the counter. "What? You a prohibition agent?" demanded the other in alarm. "No—O, no, no, no," hastily. "But I'm on the same errand."

A Short Story
It was between dances. They were sitting in a dim corner of the porch. He moved towards her, gently, caressingly, until her face was close to his. "You have such wonderful eyes," he murmured. "Yes?" she inquired excitedly. "The way they stare?" he went on. Her head went up to his. Her lips almost brushed his, as he panted. "They are so very bright." His arm went out, his hand fumbled in his pocket. With a quick gesture he drew forth a glittering object. "They are so very bright," he repeated passionately. He thrust his watch before her. "See if you can see the time in the dark."—Williams Purple Cow.

Drawing a Fine Line
Many Indianapolis needy people go to a certain charity worker for advice as well as for aid. The other day a woman came with a lacerated face. She told her story in plain language. It was but what he had heard when he wanted exercise. She wished the charity woman to tell her how to cure him of the "fall." The charity worker looked at her a few minutes. Then she said, "A man who beats a woman needs pretty severe treatment. Have you a rolling pin?" For a minute the woman stared at her. Then she caught at what the other woman was suggesting. "No, I don't got no rolling pin," she returned, "but lady, I has got a razor."—Indianapolis News.

Will of the Wisp
Three young men of a more romantic than adventurous turn of mind who are spending the summer in the Catskills were recently startled when after dark a new and weird flashing light appeared at irregular intervals under a neighbor's apple tree. The next morning they sought their neighbor out. "Last night," said they in unison, "under that tree we saw what do you think? A will of the wisp." The neighbor grinned politely, neither agreeing nor denying. "You're wrong," he returned, "Not for worlds was he going to give away his secret. He's an ardent fisherman, hampered a bit by the difficulty owing to the dry season of obtaining water. In fact, he might have had to give up his pastime altogether had he not adopted the scheme jealously passed on by a friend. 'Sprinkle salty water on the ground,' had been the advice. 'At night the worms will come to the surface. Take a flashlight and nab them as they appear.' And that's all there was to the whole thing."—New York Sun and Globe.

An Inopportune Time

Tommy Askit was parked at the top of the stairs, a book in his hand. He had forgotten to go to his lesson the night before. "Pa, what is an epidemic?" The poor man had just begun to leave. "You, who are naps, can just imagine. Narrowly averting a nick in his nose, pa answered gently: "An epidemic is anything that spreads, and started to shiver his chin. "Is butter an epidemic?" asked Tommy. Innocently, Pa looked around for something to throw. "Pa, how many voyages did Columbus make?" The tortured parent swallowed hard. "Four, if I'm not mistaken," he replied. "But after which voyage did he die, pa?" With his eyes on the shaving brush full of lather, pa deliberately made a move toward it. Tommy took the hint and slid down the stairs quickly. "Pa, do you know a liquid that don't freeze?" he called up. "No, I don't," roared down Pa. "There is none!" "How about hot water?" asked Tommy. "Pa went on with his shaving. "And pa, what is tellurium?" asked Tommy. His parent kept silent. "And what is uranium?" Pa remained silent. "Now tell me what is the difference between tellurium and uranium?" asked Tommy. "If you ever bother me again when I'm shaving I'll wring your neck!" roared pa. After which the bathroom door went shut with a bang that vibrated the roof.—Detroit Free Press.

I Don't

No man should try to get the drop on any woman who can out-trick him. Nor fail to heed his sign to stop. I don't.

A man should never drive too fast. Or break about the cars he's passed. I don't.

One safety first should be his creed. There really isn't any first. To drive a car at reckless speed. I don't.

A man should never lose his head when plotting a gas machine. I don't.

On city street or open road A man should at all times keep the code. Nor follow farers incommode. I don't.

He should not scare equestrians. Nor chase the poor pedestrians. I don't.

In fact, I have no car to run. I'm shy the cash to purchase one. You'd think I wouldn't have much fun, from taking a chance. I don't.

Do your eyes hurt you? Quit looking daggers at people.

People who worry about everything worry about nothing.

Are your feet swollen? This is not dangerous. Not half as bad as if you had the swell head.

Does dandruff bother you? Worry about it until you are bald and the dandruff will leave.

Do your trousers bag at the knees? Loan them to a bow-legged man and he will take the bag out.

Always chew tobacco while calling on a girl you do not want to kiss. It works fine.

Cry when a girl starts kissing you. Stamping on her feet is another way to make her stop it.

Damp feet are said to be one cause of bad colds. It shouldn't be so hard to give them up.

When a bad cold meets a good disposition the bad cold wins.

Put on too much speed ahead and you may meet with reversals.

The first sign of winter is when you wish it was summer.

Is your face your fortune? That is why so many men feel cheap when they need a shave.

Screens may be taken down properly by hiring a man to help you and then helping him.

A woman marries a man to mend his ways and finds all he wants her to mend is his clothes.

Never worry about how late it is because it never is as late as it will be a little later.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Again I am indebted to Arthur Strout of Centralville for an account of a meeting of the Continental Congress in Watertown, Mass., in 1775. The old bookie, giving an accurate and comprehensive report of the meeting, was printed by hand in Westford and although somewhat aged, the copy is legible and easy to follow. The late Kirk Mans, an intimate friend of Mr. Strout's and a historical researcher, was shown the document some time ago and realizing its historical value, notified the Watertown Public Library of its existence. The authorities of that city wrote back and offered $10 for it, but Mr. Strout refused to part with it. Such records are rare.

In discussing city planning and zoning at the Liberty hall meeting last Tuesday evening, Patrick O'Brien, chairman of the Lowell Planning board, said that many civic improvements could be had in Lowell if the people would only become interested in planning and zoning. Still in its infancy, the Lowell Planning board has accomplished much in arranging tentative plans for a better city, and it only remains now for the citizens to interest themselves in the development of the plans. In the near future 2000 questionnaires will be distributed among the citizens. If you have any suggestions to make, ideas that will tend to beautify the business or residential sections of the city, the Planning board will be only too glad to have you submit them.

According to statistics published in the Panama Canal Record, now at hand, the number of commercial transits through the canal during the month of August was 454. This is 20 less than those in July but exceeds the number in June. The number of transits during the month of July, 1923, was 474, and the number during the month of June, 434. There were seven transits of small launches on which tolls were paid but which are not taken up in the commercial traffic, and 22 transits of government vessels on which no tolls were paid, making the total transits for the month 483, or an average of 14.45 per day.

Tolls for the month aggregated $2,050,555.97 on the 454 commercial vessels and $25,000 on the seven launches, making a total of $2,075,555.97 or an average of $6,151.03 per day.

Considerable interest has been shown by the traffic officers in regard to the way the pedestrians and automobilists treat the recently laid out crossing zones. "Eddie" Connors, traffic supervisor, says that 60 per cent of the people crossing the square cross on the space laid out for their use and that the other 40 per cent walk all over the streets before getting to the point of safety to another. He considers the painted crossings as great things for the safety of the pedestrian and expressed a wish that all the people would use them as jay-walkers only "lull-up" traffic and make it harder for the officers.

NURSES GRADUATED AT TEWKSBURY HOSPITAL

Twenty young women were graduated from the nurses' training school in Tewksbury yesterday afternoon. The exercises were held in the infirmary chapel, opening with the invocation by Rev. Henry B. Mason. The graduates were seated in a semi-circle before the platform, while the junior nurses, dressed in white, occupied an entire section of the floor.

A trio comprising violin, piano and drum rendered the entrance march and also gave selections from the addresses.

Galen L. Stone, chairman of the board of trustees, presided and presented the diplomas. As the graduates received their diplomas they were decorated with the school badges by Mrs. Nellie E. Talbot, secretary of the board of trustees. After receiving her diploma, each young woman was presented a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

Robert Lincoln, chairman of the Boston and Dr. G. Forrest Martin of this city, who is a member of the board of trustees, addressed the graduates.

At the close of the formal exercises the graduates formed a line in front of the platform and received their friends. Luncheon was then served, and in the evening dancing was enjoyed from 8 to 12 o'clock.

The platform of the chapel was beautifully decorated with autumn foliage and flowers, forming a pretty background for the white-robed nurses in their caps with the regulation black bands.

Mr. O'Brien, on being introduced, addressed the graduates in part as follows:

"You will expect me to say something to you about the honorable calling that you have chosen, but I feel so incompetent to do that that I am going instead to tell you a story of my own profession, a story of an aged editor and his four reporters. The reporters came into the office one after another and reported there was no news. They were rebuked by the editor who then went out and accosted the first three men whom he met, engaging them one after another in conversation, and each of the three men told him a story that made news of importance. The lesson is that there is a story in every one of you and that you must find it. Remember that you are entering into the story of someone else's life. In that person's life there is some kind of a story. It may be a tragedy, a farce or a comedy. And you are contributors in your life to the story in the life of every person with whom you come in contact. And your study of the stories in the lives of others will add to your store of knowledge."

"I have been at the crossroads long enough to have a fairly good notion of the path that young people take who are bound for service in the world. There are four headlines of attainment by which you may measure the usefulness of your school work here or your subsequent training or study in the world. First, by taking the concentrated wisdom of the past.

"By studying that we may walk into the experience of years.

"A second object in all studies is the development of perspective. The third is the idealism of the ideal. The fourth is the extreme of idealism. Our aim should be to speak the inexpressible word, to do the impossible deed and to walk the impassable way."

"In conclusion I want to say that the world is waiting for you, waiting for your help in the embellishment of the lives of others. We sometimes think that there is difficulty in finding things to do, but the truth is exactly opposite. The world is waiting for the young, for their enthusiasm, for their training and for their skill. Those of you who are graduating today may truly say that the world is waiting for you, for your service and your inspiration and your enthusiasm."

The names of the graduates of the class of 1923 are as follows:

Mary Ellen Boyat, Mae Patricia Myrtle, Florence May Hayes, Elizabeth Mildred Ormiston, Margaret Isabelle MacEachern, Mary Helena Johnson, Anna Mae MacKillop, Rose Gertrude Dowd, Beatrice Pearl Simpson, Helen Jane Dolan, Emma Natalie Miller, Mary Margaret Winfield, Gladys Geneva Guignon, Winifred Constance Guignon, Dorothy Helen Guignon, Catherine Genevieve Mc-

Mighty Healing Power of Peterson's Ointment

For Eczema, Ulcers, Old Sores and Piles

"I wish I could publish all the grateful letters I get every week," says Peterson. "I don't believe anyone on this earth has such a happy time at work as I have. All I do is make Peterson's Ointment and read letters like these that come right from the heart."

"I had an ulcer on my ankle—had it 30 years and could not get it healed. For the last six years I had several doctors. I got one box of your ointment and almost healed it and I used the second one. I don't think there is a better remedy on earth."—Mrs. J. C. Henderson, 529 Sprague Street, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Peterson's Ointment is just as good for piles as it is for old sores. It stops itching of eczema almost instantly. There isn't anything in the way of pimples or face blemishes that it won't chase away, and for sore feet, chafing, sunburn, scalds, cuts and bruises there is nothing so sure or speedy as 35 cents a box at any drug store.—Adv.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

Isn't It?

Things are always exactly right,
Luck will frequently go astray,
Skies aren't always entirely bright,
Yet, there's plenty to make us gay;
A lilting song, or a day in May,
A silver moon or a balmy sun,
A jolly dinner, a clever play,
Life is really a lot of fun!

I get a thrill from a cloud that's white,
From scents of flowers and new mown hay,
An aeroplane, or a gull in flight,
A ship that's sailing "To far Cathay,"
A romp with kids, or a holiday
Out in the car for a country run;
Of joys like these there's a large array,
Life is really a lot of fun!

The smile of a friend, or a softer light
In eyes of violet, brown or gray;
Love and laughter and work and light;
A city street, or a country way;
The things that people will do and say,
The jokes well told and the yarns well spun,
Give a "kick" to this mortal clay,
Life is really a lot of fun!

ENVOY

Pessimists tell you it doesn't pay,
But they are the kind of guys to shun;
We're here, of course, for the briefest stay,
But life is really a lot of fun!

Military Dictator

ation is regarded as full of possibilities but as furnishing no basis at present for any action on the part of the allies.

The authorities of occupation in the Ruhr however, are said to be prepared to meet any emergency as a consequence of today's proclamation in Berlin. The extreme measures resorted to are regarded as partly in response to the action of the Bavarians in setting up a dictatorship, and in any case, as solely related to the requirements of interior politics, entirely independent of the foreign situation.

Nether President Ebert's proclamation announcing abandonment of resistance in giving the control over to the military authorities is considered as changing the situation so far as it concerns the allies.

It was said in official circles that it had been fully expected that the Germans would move in some direction to make their capitulation in the Ruhr "invisible."

Miners in Protest Strike

DUESSELDORF, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—The miners in the Rhine districts, the heart of the Ruhr mine fields, declared a general strike today as the first action in protest against the Berlin government's decision to give up passive resistance, and also against the exploitation of the Ruhr by the French. It is estimated that 5000 miners had quit work up to noon, with thousands of others expected to follow.

The report on the miners' action received at French headquarters here, raised some alarm, as it was feared the strike might be followed by general rioting, necessitating severe repressive measures. The French report says the movement was prompted solely by the communist factions, which have mustered an unusually large following since the position of the miners became so unsettled.

Aside from this movement of the miners the population of the occupied territory is apparently calm, taking the Berlin decision philosophically.

Curial Freedom of Press

TO DRAW UP NEW TRAFFIC AND PARKING CODE

At a meeting of the public safety committee of the city council late yesterday afternoon Police Superintendent Thomas R. Atkinson and Traffic Supervisor Edward Connors were named to draw up a new code of traffic and parking regulations for presentation to the council in the form of an ordinance.

The meeting also discussed the need of more patrolmen, particularly on the traffic squad and although nothing was definitely decided, Supt. Atkinson said his appropriation will allow him to put on several additional men and the mayor declared he would favor any reasonable increase to the force as recommended by the chief.

In connection with parking regulations in downtown streets, Supervisor Connors strongly recommended an enforced time limit, particularly in streets that lead into the square.

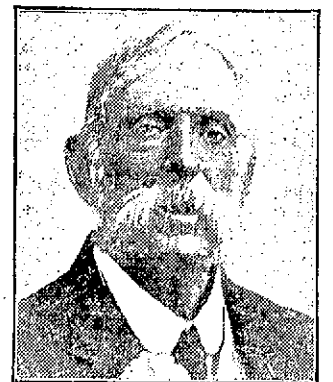

He said that the patrols Merrimack street up to John street to see that no cars remain parked too long and also goes into Prescott and Central streets as far as Warren street, it being purposed to have these streets open for traffic up to those points.

BOSTON COLLEGE ALUMNUS HAS SURPRISING RECOVERY

Years of Suffering From Indigestion, Gastritis, Constipation, Headaches and Nervousness Wiped Out by Dreco

SYLVESTER PARSHLEY

Sylvester Parshley, a well known G.A.R. veteran, living at Dracut, near Lowell, Mass., in talking of his experience with Dreco says:

"Treatments and medicines failed to help me a bit. I had insufferable pains in my back and limbs, so bad that I couldn't move without torturing myself. I couldn't lay down and sit down without causing intense pain.

"Food was my enemy. Whenever I ate I suffered for hours from sharp indigestion pains and my stomach bloated and felt sore. I would belch. I had terrible pains when everything would go black before my eyes and I would faint. I was thin and rundown, in a terrible state. My system was supplanted by the poisons of constipation that clogged the passages and closed my bowels.

"Night after night I was awake and tossed till morning. I was never relieved of my suffering by sleep. And as I said before, everything that I tried failed to help me. Then I started taking Dreco. Without pain this wonderful remedy soon got at the root of my troubles, wiping out all signs of my suffering. The pains in my back and limbs are gone. I can eat and enjoy my food. I sleep fine and my system is a hundred per cent. better and stronger. And now I only hope that Dreco will lift every sufferer out of the abyss of agony and torture as it has me."

Dreco is being specially introduced by Green's Drug store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Gov. Cox Issues Proclamation—Points to Loss of $14,246,228 Last Year

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Gov. Cox yesterday issued the following proclamation:

"I hereby designate and set apart Oct. 7 to 13, inclusive, as Fire Prevention week.

"The fire loss for the commonwealth of Massachusetts during the year 1922 was $14,246,228. The per capita loss in the commonwealth was $3.69. The total fire loss in the United States, ascertained from the most reliable figures, was over $500,000,000.

"Fire losses from the so-called preventable causes are always heavy. In our commonwealth such losses are estimated to have been more than $4,779,882 in 1922.

"To the tremendous losses already set forth must be added the loss of human lives and the great destruction of growing timber.

"It is appalling to think of this loss of life and property which might have been prevented by care on the part of individuals. Everything possible should be done to lessen the fire hazard.

"During Fire Prevention week let there be earnest consideration of methods to accomplish this purpose, and to make the fire loss for the next year the lowest in the history of the commonwealth."

JUDGE SAYS LAWRENCE IS "WIDE OPEN"

LAWRENCE, Sept. 27.—"The city of Lawrence is wide open," Judge Jeremiah J. Mahoney declared in district court yesterday when he dismissed a liquor case for lack of evidence. He commended the prosecuting officer, and said it was too bad he did not have more co-operation in his work.

"Police officers have plenty of opportunity to go out, catch offenders and bring them and plenty of liquor as evidence into the court," the judge declared. "Instead, an offender is occasionally brought into court with nothing in the line of evidence to help convict him."

through the appointment of new officers, he said that he knew the people would be willing to pay for more protection than that which they are at present receiving in certain districts of the city.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

"FLEW" ACROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

About the time that a Lowell boy was swimming across the English channel a Chelmsford girl was flying over it from Paris to London. Miss B. Alta Byam, of South Chelmsford, has with four other friends, under the guidance of Miss Mabel Hill, spent the summer visiting places of interest in England. With one of the party Miss Byam left the others and spent a short time in Paris, from which they returned by aeroplane to join the party in London. The plane in which they made the trip is one of the regular "Handley-Page Twin Engine Service" fleet, which is maintained between these two points.

Miss Byam describes the trip as a delightful one and a most pleasant way of traveling. Miss Byam sailed on the President Arthur from New York on June 16, and landed at Plymouth, and with the exception of a short time in Paris spent the entire summer in England, returning last week. Miss Byam's trip was especially interesting and enjoyable throughout, and her first experience of aeroplane traveling stands out as one of the unusual features.

CROMWELL GIVES OFFICIALS' NAMES

NEW YORK, Sept. 27. Seymour L. Cromwell, president of the New York Stock Exchange, yesterday disclosed to the grand jury the names of persons to whom he referred in his address before the American Bankers' association at Atlantic City on Monday, when he said that three public officials had threatened reprisals against the exchange unless favors they sought were granted.

"I have disclosed the names and the public will know them within a few days," Mr. Cromwell said, as he emerged from an hour and a half session with the grand jury. He refused to amplify that statement. He will appear as a witness before the grand jury again today.

Three other members of the New York Stock Exchange, whose identities were not revealed, will be witnesses with Mr. Cromwell before the grand jury. They have made affidavits supporting the story told by Mr. Cromwell.

LOWELL SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Lowell school of religious education will open at the Y.M.C.A. on Oct. 15, continuing for twelve weeks, exclusive of Thanksgiving and Christmas. Classes will close on Jan. 15. Enrollments are now being made through various ministers of Lowell churches and their Sunday school superintendents.

Dr. John Suter, educational director for the diocese of Massachusetts, will be the instructor in "How to Teach Religion" and "Elementary Psychology." Miss Elizabeth Harris of Boston university, formerly young people's director for the New York state Sunday school association, will teach "Story Telling" and "Junior Methods." Dr. W. N. Penovan of the Biblical department of the Newton Theological seminary will teach "The Teaching Value of the Old Testament" and "How We Got Our Bible."

DRACUT FIREMEN ENTERTAIN

The firemen of the Navy Yard, Dracut, company were the hosts Tuesday night to 40 townspeople at an oyster supper and whisky party held in the company's quarters. Among the guests of the evening were several town officials and many of the men who formed the original Navy Yard fire company. The affair was the first social held by the firemen this season and the guests of the evening congratulated them upon its success and expressed the hope that it be the first of many such affairs.

NERVOUS WOMAN COMPLETE WRECK

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"Now I want to tell you just what induced me to take your medicine. It seemed that I had some kind of weakness so that I could not carry a child its full time. The last time I was troubled this way I had a nervous breakdown and was a complete wreck. The doctor thought I would not live, and if I did that I would never be well and strong again. But I told them I was going to get well, that I was not going to die just then. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took six bottles of it. I soon got strong again and had three more children. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound ever since, and if you could see me now you would think I had always been well."—Mrs. MARY F. HERRICK, 234 Detroit St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire reproductive system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intends.

There's a "dollars-and-cents" reason behind the fact that hundreds of big companies operate their motor vehicles with Tydol Economy Gasoline.

Here it is! Tydol holds their business because, in competitive tests, Tydol operates motor vehicles at less cost-per-mile. Tests prove that Tydol gives easier starting, increased power, more miles per gallon, lower oil consumption, and less carbon.

No matter whether you operate a single taxi—or a fleet of heavy trucks, you can operate on a "save-per-mile" basis with Tydol.

Why don't you let Tydol prove its economies in your equipment? Test Tydol's cost-per-mile against the gas you are now using. A Tide Water engineer will be glad to assist you. Write or phone today.

FORREST WINS WAY INTO FINALS WITH 3 AND 2 VICTORY OVER "BILL" REILLY

Marshall W. Forrest, with the city golf championship already under his belt yesterday afternoon took a healthy stride toward fresh honors when he defeated "Bill" Reilly in the semi-finals for the Vesper championship. Both players are well in their stride and each is capable of sensational golf.

On Columbus day, October 12, Forrest and Walter Clarkson met in the Vesper club finals and from this distance it looks like a hair-raising finale. Both players are well in their stride and each is capable of sensational golf.

When Forrest found trouble on the long eleventh Reilly took advantage and flattened the match with a par. The twelfth was halved in four. Then came the turning point.

Both were well along down the hill on their drives at the 13th with Forrest in the lead. Reilly's ball landed in the fairway. He played his maulie niblic 12 feet beyond the hole. Reilly's ball landed in the fairway. He played his maulie niblic 12 feet beyond the hole.

HORNSBY FINED AND SUSPENDED

Champion Batsman of Nat. League Refused to Play in Yesterday's Game

Fined $500 and Indefinitely Suspended by President of Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Rogers Hornsby, champion batsman of the National League, was suspended indefinitely and fined $500 for declining to play in yesterday's game against Brooklyn.

Sam Braden, president of the St. Louis Nationals, who announced the suspension last night, declared Hornsby refused to appear in the lineup after the club physician had advised the star second baseman that he was in condition to play. Hornsby has been out of the game since Sept. 9, with a skin ailment.

Hornsby, who has been a member of the Cardinals for eight years, explained his action by saying that he was a member of the Cardinals and was not a member of the Cardinals.

The slugger said that shortly after he informed Branch Rickey, manager of the team to that effect yesterday, President Braden told him that "you or nobody else on the team is going to run my ball club" and handed him notice of the fine and suspension.

Reports that Manager Rickey and Hornsby were not on the best of terms were taken notice of recently when it was learned that the two had come to blows in the clubhouse at New York on Aug. 23, after an argument over directing the team. Later official announcement was made that the incident was a misunderstanding and that neither would be said or traded to another club, were declared to be without foundation.

DISTINGUISHED PRIMA DONNA WILL APPEAR HERE MONDAY

MARY GARDEN

It was an unexpectedly happy and eventful day in the career of the late Oscar Hammerstein as an operatic impresario, when he launched Mary Garden, an unpress-agented, unknown quantity as far as the United States was concerned, upon the quasi-melodramatic opera in New York.

The distinguished prima donna will be heard in the Memorial Auditorium next Monday evening.

SALVATION ARMY
HOLDS "BUNDLE DAY"

The Salvation Army is today conducting a "bundle day" for the benefit of the Japanese refugees and the response to their appeal has been especially satisfactory to the local army officers. Commander Abbott and a corps of able assistants are touring the city collecting bundles they have been notified are ready and other officers of the local unit are taking care of the methods of the prima donnas of the older school; because she dared to be herself, and knowing her own idiosyncrasies and realizing her talents merged that very self into alien feminine figures; infusing into them her own original, complex, complete and above all, charming personality.

Miss Garden will be assisted in her local concert by Giulia Casini, noted cellist, and other supporting artists. She has just returned from Europe where she has added innumerable owners and jewelry of remarkable beauty and value to her already extensive collection. Some of these she will wear next Monday evening.

The advance sale for the Garden concert has been remarkably brisk, but there are still a few good seats in the Victoria department of Chalfont's.

bundles brought to the home on Appleton street.

In several cases monetary donations have been made in place of old clothing. Such contributions have also been gratefully received and will be added to the fund which the army is sending over to its representatives in earthquake-stricken Japan.

Commander Abbott stated today that he felt it would be impossible to complete the collection of bundles in one day and that he would continue the work during the remainder of the week. Any person desiring to contribute clothing, blankets, or any win-

NOTICE

TO ALL WHO SUFFER WITH PILES

I am not in the medicine business, but in my travels I found a man who has had an old Pile Remedy handed down from his forefathers, which has always been kept a secret in the family and given only to select sons for generations back. I told him he ought to put it on the market so that suffering humanity could get the benefit of it. We therefore made arrangements whereby I should market the product. Before going into it too deeply, I gave samples to a number of men and women to satisfy myself that the remedy had merit and I am pleased to say I have letters from nearly all of those who tried the remedy, stating that they were cured, some of the cases so bad and so long standing that they were about to go to the hospital for surgical treatment. "JASS PILE REMEDY" costs $1.00 and is guaranteed to give satisfactory results in three days or money will be cheerfully refunded by the following druggists:

"How Nuxated Iron
Helped Me Win
Four Great Battles"JACK DEMPSEY
"TIGER OF THE RING"

Tells A Secret Of His Training—Advises People Who are in a Weakened, Rundown Condition to Use Nuxated Iron to Increase Their Strength, Vigor and Vitality.

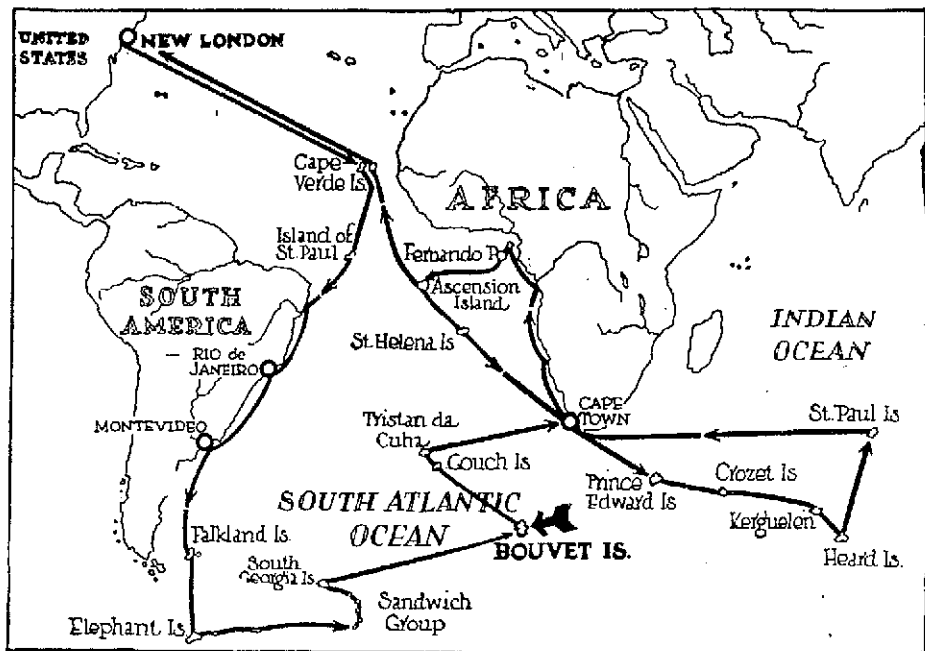

Today, recognized as the physical superior of any fighting man, the superman of the age, Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, explains below the part Nuxated Iron played in helping to prepare him for the four supreme tests of his career. First he used Nuxated Iron as a part of his training to increase his strength and endurance in his decisive victory over the mighty Willard who had never before been knocked from his feet. In this battle Dempsey displayed a dynamic, overwhelming strength and power never before known in the history of the ring; then in his phenomenal victories over Carpentier and Gibbons he displayed that same indomitable force and nerve never before seen in any human being. Now again in his victory over Firpo, he has demonstrated the great advantage possessed by an athlete whose blood is rich in iron. The fact that Dempsey took Nuxated Iron as part of his training for Willard, Carpentier, Gibbons and Firpo is convincing evidence of the importance he attaches to keeping his blood rich in strength-giving iron, and the high regard in which he holds Nuxated Iron as a master strength and blood builder.

In a statement made at his headquarters after his last fight Jack Dempsey said: "In training for the Firpo fight I felt that the basis for all my other work was to be sure that I would possess that stamina and power that is impossible unless one's blood is rich in iron. I took Nuxated Iron faithfully all through my training for the Firpo battle as I felt that it had helped put me in superb condition for Willard, Carpentier and Gibbons. The result with Firpo proves that I possessed all my old time strength and punch." It should occur to every thinking person that if a man as physically fit as Dempsey should consider it advisable to take Nuxated Iron, in training for his battles, how much more important it is for the average man or woman to see that there is no lack of iron in the blood. Thousands of men and women are weak, rundown and old before their time, their nerve force shattered and their health wrecked simply because they have allowed worry, overwork, grief, constant nervous strain and excesses of various kinds to sap the iron from their blood. In such cases one may suffer from terrible physical fatigue such as great nervous irritability, heart palpitations, indigestion, splitting headaches, pains across the back, dizziness, sleeplessness and extreme weakness. In such cases it is often worse than foolish to take mere stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, which cause the body to need something to put more iron in your blood. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron.

How Nuxated
Iron Works
To Increase Your Strength, Energy, Endurance
and Physical Power

Science has now proved that every muscle, nerve and organ in your body is composed of thousands of little cells that are being used up and worn out each day, and then rebuilt from the food you eat. It is the iron in your blood which carries the digested food from your stomach to these little cells. Without iron your food merely passes through you—you can't get the good out of it and the little cells of your body become soft and flabby and lose their power to rebuild the wasted muscles. The body without iron is exactly like a wooden building compass with one built of steel. Nature put organic iron in your body in the form of grain and the skins and peels of vegetables and fruits, but modern methods of cooking throw these things away so that physicians' tests now show that an enormous number of people lack 100% iron in the blood. Nuxated Iron contains organic iron like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples. If you are anxious to build up your strength and bodily powers, you should at once try mixing a little of this peculiar form of iron in your daily food, to help build strong, iron-like cells. Surprising results have been obtained in many cases, in two weeks of time. In fact a former medical inspector and clinical physician of the Board of Health, N.Y. City, says: "There are countless numbers of men today who are broken in health and steadily going down to physical and mental decay. Yet there are thousands of the same men who undergo a remarkable transformation the moment they get plenty of iron into their blood." This new form of iron is comparatively inexpensive and may be obtained from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron, to be mixed with your food as directed on each package. Do not make a mistake and get one of the old forms of metallic iron instead of Nuxated Iron, which is a totally different thing. Many a prize fighter has won championships because professional trainers know the secret of great strength and endurance, which comes from having plenty of iron in your blood. It would seem that the average man would realize how much more important it is for him to build up his strength and resistance to disease and go right to the nearest druggist and get a package of Nuxated Iron.

Adventurous Souls to Attempt Exploration of "Mystery Island"

MAP SHOWS ROUTE EXPEDITION WILL TAKE. RIGHT IS THREE-MASTED SCHOONER BLOSSOM, MEN WILL USE.

By MAURICE JENLE
NEA Service Writer
CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 27.—"Bou-vo!" Mention that word to a hardened mariner. Watch the lids of his eyes tighten. Watch him grow a shade whiter. For "Bouvet," of the mysterious South Atlantic ocean, has baffled, so far as is known, all attempts at exploration, all efforts of civilized white men to plumb its secrets.

On or about the coming Oct. 15, 16 adventurous souls will point the nose of a three-masted schooner toward Bouvet, and the myriad of other romantic nooks in the South Atlantic and Indian oceans, about which folks know so little.

These men, commanded by George Finlay Simmons, will leave New London, Conn., in the interests of science. Sailing under the colors of the Cleveland Museum of Natural History, they will be gone two long years. They will visit many places, gather many natural specimens, see strange sights—nothing so intriguing the imagination as their contemplated and determined exploration of Bouvet, mystery island.

About two years ago Paul Marshall Rea conceived the idea of a greater museum for this city. His idea expanded so rapidly, he now is ready to undertake a $100,000 expedition in a vessel that costs $35,000, merely to insure something worthwhile for the Ohio metropolis.

A new building will be finished by the time the expedition returns in two years. And Cleveland promises to have an institution rivaling its famous "competitor"—the Museum of Natural History of New York city.

What the 16 men will find on Bouvet they do not even profess to guess. Whether they will find it in itself a question.

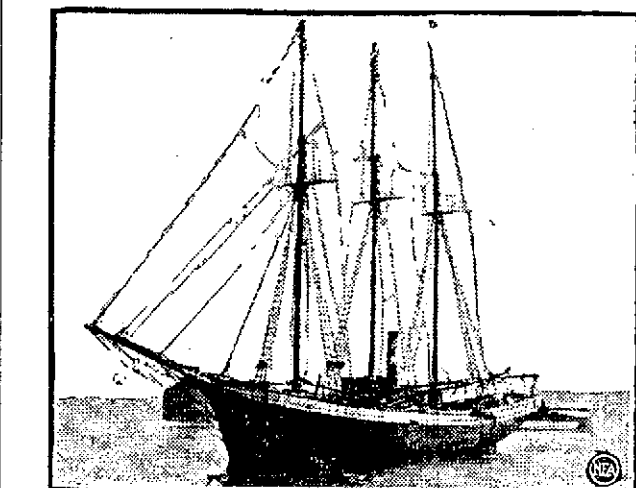

When others approached it, it seemed to vanish in vapor. And yet, despite the repeated failure of mariners to land on Bouvet, seafaring men are positive such a place exists.

It is about a thousand miles southwest of Cape of Good Hope. The legend goes that the Frenchman, for whom the island is named, and two others are the only ones ever to locate it. And it is not certain they were able to land, for no record of what they found ever came back to the world.

It is the question mark of the seas, fully as mysterious as "Island X," the brain-child of a novelist in a recent effort.

Many other islands will be visited, probably 50 in all—Fernandorona, Trinidad, the Sandwich group, Kerguelen and many more.

In all probably 30,000 miles will be traveled. That could only be a guess, though, Commander Simmons explains. The winter season will be spent in Africa, with Cape Town as the base of operations.

In two years the expedition will return.

CLIQUE HAVE NO PLACE IN GENUINE DEMOCRACY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 25.—"Cliques can have no place in genuine democracy," President William H. P. Faunce of Brown told the faculty and student body this morning at the opening of the 16th college year. "College men should show the world that all their smaller loyalties are swallowed up in one great loyalty to the college itself—that is true preparation for citizenship."

Continuing, Dr. Faunce said: "We hear of the farmers' bloc, and the labor bloc and the railroad bloc—until one would like to ask, 'Where is the American bloc?'"

"Above our little group of friends always rises our college, and above our college our country. That is the spirit that makes an institution or a nation. Unity, work, loyalty—these are the three indispensable elements of successful college life."

In his introduction President Faunce alluded to physical changes at the university during the year and its needs.

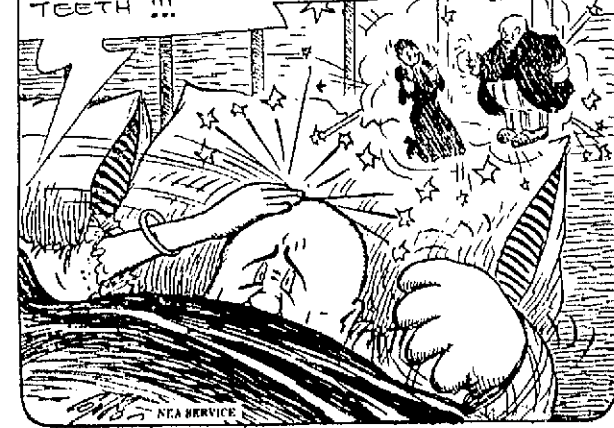

Foremost among the new advantages he named was the Jesse Metcalf chemical laboratory to be dedicated on Oct. 30.

The Arnold laboratory, "built to accommodate 100, must now house 800," he mentioned as having another story built on. Although registration figures are not complete, it is expected that the total number of students will be about the same as last year—1260.

EDUCATION OF PRISONERS THEIR ONLY HOPE

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—Why not a correspondence school for prisoners? Butler R. Storke, then a prisoner in state's prison here, asked himself the question some months ago, as he noticed how much idle time convicts had. And the more he thought of it, the more he realized it was the solution of the prison problem.

So he started the idea, which recently culminated in the incorporation of the Nation Intra-Wall Institute, which is destined, if successful, to carry knowledge into every federal and state prison cell in the country.

Free Now
Storke, convicted of forgery in connection with a financial deal, passed 22 months in prison. Now he is free—a conditional pardon that he continues with his work.

BUTLER R. STORKE

Storke interested Prison Chaplain T. O. Reed of Columbus and Napoleon Hill of New York in the idea. They eagerly took it up.

For his services he consents to draw but $100 a month, instead of the $250 offered him.

Will Succeed
"I have but one wish," Storke says, "and that is to serve others who have been caught in the toll of justice in all parts of the country. When I went into the penitentiary, I was but a wreck of my former self after months spent on the northwicket of Europe, during which time I was gasped and shell shocked," he said.

"I will soon be 31 years of age, physically, but my life in the prison has made me twice as old in experience and lessons taught."

"I am convinced beyond any doubt that the prison school organization is going to be a wonderful success. We

PRES. BRYDON SOUNDS WARNING

Head of National Coal Association Addresses American Mining Congress

Public Must Make Sure Officials Do Not Befog or Run Away From Issue

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press).—The American public, faced by the termination of the United Mine Workers contracts in the bituminous fields next April 1, must hear a hard now and make sure the representatives of the public in official position, do not "befog or run away from the issue, but meet it squarely and vigorously," was the advice presented in an address by J. C. Brydon, president of the National Coal association before the general sessions of the 26th annual convention of the American Mining congress today.

From the standpoint of the public, Mr. Brydon declared, there is but one clear principle which must sooner or later be recognized if the artificial power of combination in labor relations is to continue to be permitted. This, he said, carried recognition that this power assumes certain limitations, viz: "It shall not bear the public over the head with a bludgeon of a nationwide strike." It must in the failure to agree by negotiations be willing to submit differences of opinion to voluntary impartial arbitration.

According to Brydon there must be arranged a system of contractual relationship in which responsibility for observance of contracts will be enforced and recurring crises in the industrial life of the nation eliminated.

"There has never been and there is today not the remotest possibility of monopoly of capital in the soft coal industry, for, as some one has said, 'geology enforces the Sherman act,'" said Mr. Brydon. "There are enormous undeveloped coal reserves. Under these circumstances, supply always potentially equals or exceeds demand, and hence competition may be relied upon to prevent high prices."

"It is only when the competitive processes are reversed by nation-wide strike in the mines or on the railroads that a runaway market occasioned by competition of buyers is possible. Stop runaway strikes and you prevent runaway markets."

The speaker said the chief element in the cost of producing coal is labor. It approximates 63 per cent of the total cost of production and it is the element of cost that has increased most markedly since the pre-war period. That cost is 133 per cent higher than in 1914. The cost of living is only 63.3 per cent higher. Their wages are higher than those of every other variety of unskilled labor and they are even higher than those of almost every class of skilled labor. In other words, bituminous miners in 1922 made 63 per cent more than the average unskilled laborer and 36 per cent more than the average skilled worker in the manufacturing industries of the country."

The reason for these alleged inflated values Mr. Brydon assigned to the fact that "labor in other industries is competitive, while labor in the bituminous coal industry is largely a monopoly."

ASKS ARREST OF SECRET SERVICE MEN

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 25.—While the case of Angelo Lucchetti, Joe Lawrence, Joe Mouchie and Patsey Tomes of South Attleboro, Julius Alvis, Pawtucket and Mike Mariano, North Providence, charged with violating federal laws concerning counterfeiting money, was being heard before United States Commissioner Matteson today, a deputy sheriff served Secret Agents John J. McGrath, Harry Cooper and Alfonso McCormick of Boston, with writs for $25,000 damages in action of trespass and for assault and battery on Lucchetti while in their custody. Lucchetti's counsel asked the commissioner to issue warrants for the arrest of the secret service men and the commissioner heard testimony on Lucchetti's claim that he had been assaulted in an effort to force him to sign a confession. The case was continued until later in the day to hear other testimony.

Where Speeders Literally Eat Their Own Dust

THIS IS THE WAY IT IS DONE

By NEA Service
DETROIT, Sept. 27.—River Rouge, whose city limits butt against those of this Michigan metropolis, stands out today as the originator of a "safety first" system unique in modern methods.

River Rouge is making speeders "eat their own dust," and literally, too. For, this little city tiring of the mad rush of bootleggers, of drunken drivers and others making its streets a speedway, has taken advantage of an ordinance which makes possible sentencing of city prisoners to work. Municipal Judge John R. Valois and Chief of Police Oliver G. Brown recently decided to "bring in" every speeder. On Judge Valois would devolve the duty of sentencing the guilty ones to work on the city streets.

Get Uniforms
Daily the commissioner of public works may be seen supervising his gang of convicted speeders in either street cleaning, laying of bricks, or any other odd job that may be necessary.

Overall uniforms, with the words "City Prisoner" and a number, are provided. These the speeders are forced to don and then go their way to street work for the period of sentence, be it two days, a week or month.

The experiment has been a great success. Where a dozen or more used to be brought into court daily this number has been reduced to two and threes, for the spectacle of the uniformed, the thoughts of calloused hands and the humiliating nature of the work has had a most salutary effect.

Over "25"
River Rouge has a speed limit of 15 miles an hour. However, this is not enforced to the letter, the motorcycle officers being instructed to arrest only those who are proceeding at more than 25 miles an hour.

Lying between Detroit and Ecorse, the latter place being internationally famous because it has been and still is the principal spot at which booze and beer is run over the Detroit river from Canada, River Rouge has had much trouble with "wild" drivers.

Now, however, things have changed and, to all evidences, the "business" of Chief Brown and Judge Valois will steadily decrease.

Lawrence Woman Moves to Prevent Husband Spending Money on Girl

SALEM, Sept. 26.—The petition for an injunction by Mrs. Sarah Dunn of Lawrence, to prevent her husband, Charles W. Dunn, from paying attention to or spending money on Miss Ouida Delorme, came up in superior court today before Judge Joseph P. Quinn. Counsel for the defendants filed a demurrer on the grounds of insufficient facts and that the law provides remedy in the probate court. Counsel for Mrs. Dunn cited a recent Detroit case as a precedent for this unique action. Judge Quinn announced that he would render a decision within a week, warning the parties in the meantime, that any continuance of their relations "would be at their peril."

CHINA TO INDEMNIFY FOREIGN VICTIMS

PEKING, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press). The Chinese government desires of "its own accord" to indemnify the foreign victims of the Lincheng bandit outrage and accepts as a basis for payment the schedule set forth in the note of the powers. But China does not believe that demand for future reforms and guarantees are proper under the circumstances.

This information is contained in the government's official reply to the demands made by the foreign diplomatic corps for indemnification and guarantees as a result of the kidnapping incident. The reply rejects the demand for "guarantees for the future."

Although denying responsibility for the outrage of last May in which a number of Americans and other foreigners were kidnapped from a Peking-Shanghai express train and held captive for more than a month, the government has already begun the reorganization of its railway police, is preparing to punish the provincial officials for their negligence and is conducting a campaign throughout a number of provinces for the extermination of the growing brigand bands.

President and Federal Prohibition Commissioner Attacked by Brokmeyer

General Attorney for Association of Retail Druggists Speaks at Boston

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—An attack on President Coolidge and Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes was launched by Eugene C. Brokmeyer of Washington, general attorney for the national association of retail druggists, in an address at the convention of the association here today.

"If the present incumbent of the White House or any other is going to play politics and if, as has been intimated, the delegation from Ohio has been promised him by the Anti-Saloon League, favoring his nomination on the platform, that he is going to permit an appointee of the Anti-Saloon league to administer the prohibition law regardless of the limitations of the federal constitution, I want to know it," Brokmeyer said and added:

"There has been too much law-making and law enforcement for political gain."

RUNAWAY HORSES DASH THROUGH WINDOW

Shortly after noon yesterday, two horses attached to a dump cart, for some unknown reason became frightened at the corner of Rogers and North streets as their driver and owner, Joseph Lemire was preparing to give them their noon-day meal. The startled animals dashed across the sidewalk and crashed through the plate-glass window of the store owned by Edward Deslanders known as "Eddie's," and were brought to a stop by framework in the interior of the store.

Mr. Deslanders, who was standing near the window at the time, narrowly escaped serious injury and attributes his good fortune to the framework which impeded progress on the part of the excited horses. Both animals were slightly cut by the flying glass, but were able to resume the hauling of

Traffic Manager of Brockton Chamber of Commerce Testifies at Hearing

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—Harold A. Hood, traffic manager of the Brockton chamber of commerce, was the first witness at today's session of the interstate commerce commission hearing on the question of consolidation of New England railroads. He said his organization had voted in favor of the recommendation of the joint New England railroad committee for a consolidation of all New England roads except the Boston & Albany and lines controlled by Canadian railroads as opposed to a consolidation of New England roads with trunk lines.

Many Brockton manufacturers, he said, frequently had to ship their products to the west by express because of inadequate freight service and congestion at the gateways. Most of the tonnage for the west from Brockton, he added, was sent by truck to Boston and sent from there over the Boston & Albany in preference to the Boston & Maine on account of more satisfactory service. This summer, he said the New Haven service had compared favorably with that of the Boston & Albany.

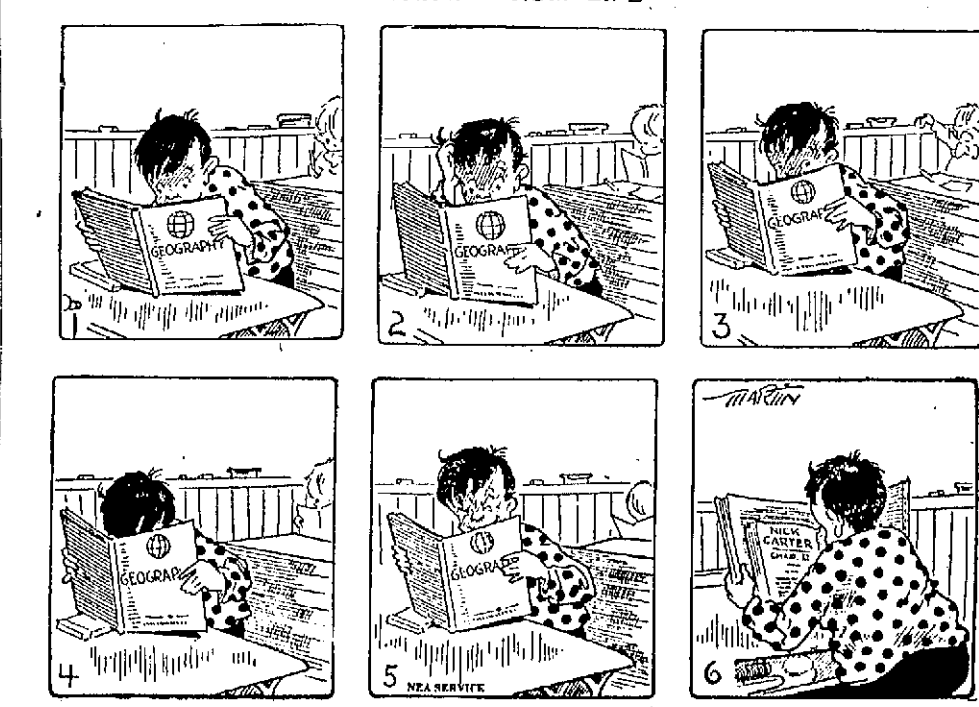

E. J. Dowd, representing the Holyoke traffic bureau and the Holyoke chamber of commerce, said that both had recorded themselves as in favor of a New England management of New England railroads and opposed to a trunk line consolidation as endangering existing water routes and Canadian differentials. He said that shipments from Holyoke for the Pacific coast by water were sent over the New Haven road by way of New London to Boston because a better rate obtained in that way for delivery at Commercial wharf than by the more direct routes of the Boston & Maine.

FIGHT WITH EAGLE

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 26.—A fight with an eagle at the top of a steel smokestack, is reported by Romeo Herbe, a painter. The stack was erected by spring at the George H. Fossa laundry. Herbe today mounted the stack to paint it. The bird scratched his face and hands and beat him with its wings. Fossa watching from the ground, pounded the base of the shaft with a hammer, the noise frightening off the bird.

WASHINGTON Sept. 26.—Former Representative Thomas U. Sisson, of Mississippi died of apoplexy here early today. Mr. Sisson, a democrat, served seven terms in the House, retiring last March.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 15

"Where is the land of jewels?" asked Jack. "Well, the best way to find out is to go there," replied Goldie Locks. "First of all we will walk over and watch the little band of chain men at work and then we'll go to the land of jewels." And shortly the chain men were reached.

Jack was surprised at the sight that greeted him. It looked just like a blacksmith shop. Anvils were here and there and hanging from them were long watch chains and necklaces. Out of the little links of gold. There was a tap, tap, tapping of hammers as the chain men worked.

"That's the way they make chains," explained Goldie Locks. "Each little gold link is hammered into place and, after the chain is completed it is put in a box and sent to the land that you came from. In that land the chain is sold to women and girls." (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

THERE, ON A FALLEN LOG, STOOD THE MOST GORGEOUS BIRD THAT EVER HAD BEEN SEEN. A FAIRY TALE.

Mister Gallop motioned to Nancy and Nick to come nearer to the place where Misses Grouse was talking to Chatterbox Magpie.

So they all slid off their ponies and crept up ever so softly on their hands and knees. They were so close now they could see the wicked gleam in Chatterbox's eyes as he went on teasing poor Misses Grouse about her brown feathers and her plain family.

"Why doesn't your husband stay with you?" teased Chatterbox. "Is it because he's ugly, too, and ashamed of being seen? I hear that he goes far back into the mountains and keeps hatching his hall."

"Did you ever see my husband?" asked Misses Grouse in a queer voice. "Ha, ha, ha! He, he, he!" laughed Chatterbox. "That's a good one! I never see him! Why not, indeed! He never stays at home long enough for anybody to see him. I'll bet you he's as ugly as a mud fence."

Misses Grouse didn't say anything. Indeed, she didn't appear to be listening to Chatterbox at all, but to something far away.

Then the twins and Mister Gallop heard a faint call that came nearer and nearer, and pretty soon a loud drumming that nearly deafened them.

DRAMATIC PERFORMANCE HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Altissima Club of North Billerica to Present "My Wild Irish Rose"

In Thomas Talbot Memorial hall, North Billerica, tomorrow, Friday evening, the Altissima dramatic club of that town will present "My Wild Irish Rose," a comedy-drama of Irish life in three acts under the auspices of the Holy Name society of St. Andrew's parish. By mistake an item in yesterday's Sun said the play would be given tonight. This drama was presented last June in aid of the Father Mathew society, and the great success attained on that occasion prompted a repetition which was put off until tomorrow evening because the "indoor sports" season was about to close at the time of the original showing.

Good amateur work, therefore, will be witnessed by those who attend. The steady sale of tickets indicates that there are many in and around Billerica who are interested in a talented group of amateurs set to work on a clean wholesome show.

After the June success, the cast of "My Wild Irish Rose" met for the purpose of organizing a club whose aim would be to promote and present—when opportunity or invitation warranted—the best of amateur theatricals to the public. This aim is reflected in the name the club chose to carry—"The Altissima"—which means, "the highest or best." The officers are as follows: President, Myles J. Finnegan, vice-president, Katherine A. Condon; secretary-treasurer, Mary A. McCarthy.

Rehearsals for Friday night's performance were held in Matthew hall through the kindness of that organization. Rev. Richard F. Gosselin, who is temporarily assigned as assistant at St. Andrew's parish, is in charge. He will be assisted by Patrick J. Mahoney, president of the Holy Name society. Neil H. Mahoney, the well known postmaster, Edward M. Quinn, James P. Condon, Charles Lyons and John Kelleher, Miss Grace Finnegan will preside at the piano. The Misses Evelyn and Catherine Kearney will render a piano and violin solo. A dancing specialty will be given by Mary Healey, Henrietta Mullin, Anna Hayes and Ellen Wigglesworth. Norma Conley and Rona Brown, pupils of Miss Doris Conley, Lowell's youngest dancing teacher, will present the "Hinkville Rubes." It is possible that some will be contributed by visiting artists. The greatest hit of all, outside the show itself, will be Myles Finnegan and John B. Maxwell in "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen." Although the Gallagher-Sheen stunt is old, the manner in which these two put it across will be positively and absolutely new. Those remembered in their "roll-call" are asked to keep their seats, until the performance is completed.

Former Mayor Thompson Will Address High School Students, Monday

The regular weekly assembly of the students of the high school will be held in the Cyrus W. Irish Auditorium next Monday at 12.15 p. m. instead of 8.20 a. m. as has been customary in the past. The speaker will be Hon. Perry D. Thompson, who will address the students on a subject of vital importance. Last year Mr. Thompson succeeded in arousing considerable enthusiasm among the pupils in the support of athletics and other school activities.

Headmaster Harris has received an invitation from the entertainment committee of the Middlesex County Teachers' convention, which meets in Boston on Oct. 17, requesting the presence of the high school regimental band on this occasion. The convention will probably be held in Symphony hall.

Reports of first year classes will be distributed on Oct. 16, Nov. 15, Dec. 11 of this year, and Jan. 15, Feb. 19, March 25, April 23, May 27 and June 23, 1924. These reports must be signed by the parents and returned.

The first in the sum of $14,000 and was brought by George Jolomatos. The other four were for $1000 each, and were brought by Athanasios Pileis, Lambros Michopoulos and Panagiotis Michailidis, who are also suing for personal injuries, and John Combouras, who is endeavoring to recover for damage to his store front and chairs.

The Jolomatos suit was entered by Trull, Wier & O'Toole, while the papers in the other four suits were from the office of J. J. Bruin.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the Immaculate Conception rectory when Mr. Alfred A. Burns, son of Maria D. Burns and the late Andrew J. Burns, of 237 East Merrimack street, and Miss Winifred Regina Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Curran, of 158 Pleasant street, were united in marriage by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, assistant pastor of the church. The bride was attired in a gown of white tulle and lace, trimmed with tulle and lace. She wore a veil of tulle caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Cooper, wore a gown of white tulle and lace, trimmed with tulle and lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's best man, Mr. John O'Brien, was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. Joseph Tansey of Cambridge and Mr. Royal Carter of Francis O'Brien of this city. Immediately after the ceremony Miss Rose McCarthy sang "O Promise Me," accompanied on the organ by Mr. Frank Halls. The altar decorations of Mr. and Mrs. Burns were of palms and white chrysanthemums. A wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride, who is a graduate of the Lowell high school, class of 1918, is an employee of the Chalfoux company, while the bridegroom was formerly a colonel of the O.M.I. Cadets and is now employed as buyer for linens at the Chalfoux store. Mr. and Mrs. Burns received many beautiful gifts. They left on a wedding trip to New York and Washington. Upon their return they will make their residence at 155 Pleasant street.

Porter-Corfield
Mr. Charles Arthur Porter and Miss Mary A. Corfield were married last evening at the home of the bride, 24 Clifford street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. J. Seizer. The best man was Mr. Joseph Crann, while the bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Fletcher. The couple will make their home in the Lincoln apartments in Chelmsford street.

Smith-Daly
Mr. Edward G. Smith of Haverhill and Miss Evelyn M. Daly of Tewksbury were married last evening at the home of the bride, 24 Clifford street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. J. Seizer. The best man was Mr. Joseph Crann, while the bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Fletcher. The couple will make their home in the Lincoln apartments in Chelmsford street.

FORMER LOWELL MAN SEEKS DIVORCE

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—A romance shattered after 23 years of married life was revealed in Suffolk divorce court yesterday by the suit of Everett M. Treavor against his wife, Emma L. Treavor. Both are 52 years of age. They formerly lived in Lowell, but at the time of their disagreement lived at 18 Willow street, Holyoke. The husband charges desertion.

The wife on the stand yesterday admitted that she left that address in April, 1917, taking several articles of furniture, bed linen and dishes with her. She charged that her husband left the home two months previous and did not return until she had gone. She said she was merely visiting her daughters in Southwick and in New Hampshire. Judge Morton took the case under advisement.

Court Will Review Action Which Closed Worthen St. Continued

close the street in question. The action will be entered as the Attorney General versus the City of Lowell. The petitioners for a review by the supreme court contend that a substantial injury will be done to the general public if Worthen street is closed. They further contend the street was closed not because it was no longer needed as a public way but rather because the city council considered it offered an opportunity to increase the industrial capacity of the city and permit further extension of the Saco-Lowell shops. They argue the motive of the council was improper, although they make it clear there is no allocation of graft.

Whatever the outcome of the case, it is not believed it will affect the present building operations of the Saco-Lowell company whose new plant, built close to the sidewalk line in Dutton street, does not extend over any of the area formerly used as Worthen street. It was the contention of the shop representatives, however, when the petition to close the street was being sought, that additional expansion plans in future years contemplated the use of all the land as far back as the property of the Locks and Canal. The Saco-Lowell shops owned all of the tenement property, now torn down, which was on both sides of Worthen street and that side of Broadway between Dutton and Worthen streets.

They were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, this city, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Alphonsus Archambault, O.M.I. The best man was Mr. Roland Irving Stearns, while the bridesmaid was Miss Cecile Boudreau. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in Haverhill.

DRAMATIC RECITAL AT CHRETIEN'S CONDITION NOTRE DAME ACADEMY GREATLY IMPROVED

An excellent dramatic recital was given at the Academy of Notre Dame yesterday afternoon by Rev. Father Dawson Byrne, artist, actor, priest. Father Byrne has been touring the world interpreting the various characters in Dickens' novels and Shakespeare's plays. He has been on the stage since the age of 15 years, and has played with famous English actors such as Henry Irving and Martin Harvey. He has recently returned from London, where he played the role of "Sydney Carton," the hero of Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," for nine months running.

He opened his recital with an interpretation of "Ugiah Reap," the red-haired, crippled, deceitful lawyer, in "David Copperfield."

This scene of the "Old Grandfather" weeping at the grave of "Little Nell," and crying out "She's not dead; she only sleeps; she will wake tomorrow," from "The Old Curiosity Shop."

The part of "McCauley," "Daniel Derwent" from David Copperfield; and "Bill Sykes," and "Fagan the Jew" from Oliver Twist, were equally well interpreted, by the priest-actor.

His interpretation of "Sydney Carton" from "The Tale of Two Cities" was simply wonderful. The robes which he wore in the presentation of this character at the Academy yesterday were the same which he wore in London in the same presentation which had a nine-month course.

Father Byrne's interpretation of "Cardinal Wolsey," from Shakespeare's Henry VIII, was most remarkable, and in his scintillating robes, Father Byrne made a striking appearance, as he quoted the cardinal's last words to "Cromwell."

Father Byrne closed his recital with the representation of an old Irish gentleman, who was returning to Ireland with his granddaughter, Alanna, after spending 50 years of his life in America. They are seated on a ship, the upper deck of the ship and each is anxiously watching for the first glimpse of the Irish shore. At last the grandfather catches sight of it, and quotes John W. Locke's famous poem, "The Dawn on the Hills of Ireland."

To all his characterizations, Father Byrne wore the identical costumes worn by the various characters as depicted in the classics.

The reverend father left for Boston last evening and will leave today for Washington. From Washington Father Byrne will go west where he will present his world famous interpretations.

Fr. Byrne is connected with the Apostolic mission house, Catholic university, Washington, D. C. His aim in giving these recitals is to raise funds and thereby secure the necessary education for young men who wish to become "servants of God." Fr. Byrne said yesterday, "If any one present knows of a young man who desires to enter the priesthood, you have but to send me his name and address and I will put him through college. The work of Christ must be carried on, and I, in my humble way, am trying to perpetuate this work."

FORESTERS' CONVENTION THE BIG A. O. H. CARNIVAL

Lowell Man Returns From Convention of French-American Foresters

Lawyer J. H. Guillet of this city, founder and past grand chief ranger of the French-American Foresters, has returned from the biennial convention of the order, which was conducted at Westbrook, Me.

Mr. Guillet reports that the convention was one of the most successful ever conducted under the auspices of the order and considerable business pertaining to the welfare of the members was transacted.

One of the features of the convention was the reception of the following message from President Calvin M. Coolidge:

The White House, Washington, D. C.

To O. F. Moreau, F. F. A. Westbrook, Me.

Please express to the convention my sincere thanks for their message of encouragement and support. I know the members of your organization and indeed our French-American citizens throughout New England can always be counted upon to uphold the fundamental principles of our government and that in loyalty and patriotism they yield to none.

orchestra played during the afternoon at the pavilion.

Committees in charge were as follows: Reception, George Stevens, Harry G. Pollard, Joseph F. Talbot, H. Hutchins Parker, William A. Mitchell, Gardner M. Macartney, Return J. Meigs and Harry A. Thompson; transportation, William A. Mitchell, Gardner Macartney and Ernest D. Scribner; music, Thomas Burke, Russell C. Smith and Joseph A. Mulloy; printing, Julian B. Keyes and Robert W. Thomson; entertainment, Julian B. Keyes, Elmore I. MacPhie, Dr. Frank R. Brady and C. R. Howe; ball game and sports, Harry Pitts, Robert W. Thomson and Joseph F. Talbot.

Monster Carnival Next Week at Kasino Will Be Best Ever

The committee in charge of the big A.O.H. carnival, which is to be conducted in the Kasino in Thorndike street all next week, will meet in A.O. H. hall, Grosvenor building, this evening, to develop plans. Since it is the consensus of opinion that the coming affair will be the biggest and best ever attempted by the local Hibernians, the members of the various Irish societies have united and will work together to perfect the arrangements.

Since the announcement of the carnival, interest has been at a high pitch and the Hibernians have received numerous inquiries regarding it. Tickets are now on sale and a large number have been disposed of to date. Season tickets, entitling the bearer to admission on each of the carnival nights, are selling at 50 cents apiece. The single admission will be 10 cents.

The several hundred prizes to be awarded in connection with the event are now on exhibition in the Grosvenor building headquarters of the Hibernians and may be publicly inspected any evening. They will be displayed in attractively decorated booths at the carnival.

Campbell's orchestra will be in attendance to furnish dance music, while special entertainments will be provided each night and on Saturday afternoon.

Husband Loses Death Race To Lowell

HUSBAND, LOSES RACE WITH DEATH TO REACH BEDSIDE OF WIFE WHO PASSED-AWAY HERE

With the death last night at St. John's hospital of Mrs. Emma S. David of Passaic, N. J., her husband, Evan J. David, lost a race with the Grim Reaper in his attempt to reach the bedside of his wife who passed away here.

Notified in St. Louis, Mo., yesterday by telegram of the dangerous condition of his wife following an operation, the husband prepared for a record dash half way across the continent in a desperate effort to reach her bedside while she still lingered, but the sand trickled out of the hour glass while he sped eastward.

Although an Associated Press despatch from St. Louis this morning told of arrangements made by Mr. David

GERMAN GOVERNMENT HANDED OVER TO MILITARY DICTATORSHIP

BERLIN, Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—At a hurriedly called midnight session of the German cabinet, attended by Gen. Von Seeckt, the chief of staff, the immediate proclamation of a state of emergency throughout Germany was decided upon and Minister of Defense Gessler was given executive authority to put into force any military or police measures he might deem warranted in the circumstances. (This action is construed in Paris, London and other quarters as virtually placing Germany in the hands of a military dictatorship.)

Follows Action of Bavaria

The action of the German government was taken when news of the appointment of Dr. Von Kahr as military dictator of Bavaria was received, and the proclamation issued was intended as an offset to the Bavarian manifesto.

Bavaria's action was wholly unexpected and the government leaders were at first at a loss to account for it. Although it is not viewed as a studied affront to the central government the

MILITARY ACTIVITIES EXTENDED TO THIRD OKLAHOMA COUNTY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press).—Military activities were extended to a third county in Oklahoma today. Wagoner, as preparations were made in the capital city by members of the house of representatives to institute injunction proceedings in the district court to restrain Gov. J. C. Walton from prohibiting the meeting of the lower chamber.

"The fight is over so far as the house is concerned," Gov. Walton said at noon. He added that when court action was begun by the lawmakers, he probably would not appear or be represented in the action.

Questioned concerning the probability that martial law might be made less stringent, the chief executive said: "As soon as I am assured that the opposition against the visible government is crushed, I will be ready to contract the military power."

LAND OF MAKE-BELIEVE DULLED HIS SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY FOR WIFE AND FAMILY

The romance of the land of make-believe is far different from the stern realities of life, as Eustathios Metropoulos learned this morning. As the romantic young lover he has probably listened many times to the plaudits of the multitudes, and no doubt the flappers have wept softly into their handkerchiefs as he passionately extolled his love for the beautiful young heroine.

But in real life things were far different. For he it known that Eustathios wiped romance out of his every-day life when he rid himself of the grease paint and the spangles of the young prince in the play. And when he stepped out from behind the footlights, there was never a thought of such mercenary things as providing support for his wife.

As a result of this, Eustathios, who claims Lowell and Chicago as his

BOSTON & MAINE OFFICIALS PLAN ERECTION OF HOMES FOR THE SHOP WORKERS

Project Receiving Exclusive Mention in The Sun Several Weeks Ago Now Well in Hand—Housing Corporation to Be Formed by Railroad Will Build Homes, Amusement Places and Stores

Officials of the Boston & Maine railroad have taken up with officials of the town of Billerica the matter of erecting homes in that town for car shop workers. Several officials of the railroad were in Billerica yesterday to explain to town officials just what is contemplated by the railroad and to learn public sentiment in connection with their plan.

FRUIT, FLOWER AND VEGETABLE EXHIBIT AT LIBERTY HALL AN ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

To gain a realization of what beautiful flowers, fruits and vegetables are raised in this vicinity one should attend the annual show of the Middlesex North Agricultural society which closes tonight at Liberty hall. The hall was quite well thronged throughout the day with visitors but it is confidently expected that the largest crowds of the whole show will be on hand tonight. The greatest advertising thus far given the show is that of those who have visited it and hastened to spread to their friends and neighbors the suggestion that they, too, take in the exhibit.

FOUR HELD FOR OFFICER'S DEATH

New Bedford Policeman Mortally Wounded in Scuffle at Roadhouse

Four Men Who Were His Companions at Time Held on Charge of Murder

NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 27.—Thomas A. Chisnell, patrolman, member of the New Bedford police department liquor and vice squad, lies dead as the result of a mortal wound received in a scuffle early this morning at a roadhouse in Mattapoisett, at which he was present while off duty. The four men who were his companions at the time are under arrest, charged with murder. Two of them, Clifford A. Hurley, cook, of 353 Bolton street, and Joseph C. Reilly, druggist, of 394 Union street, New Bedford, were slightly wounded in the fracas. The other two, James W. Walsh, real estate dealer, 80 Mc street, and James E. O'Hearn, groom, 11 George street, were unharmed. The four rushed Chisnell to St. Luke's hospital, New Bedford.

BIG RAID NEAR PHILADELPHIA

Distilling Company at Eddington, Pa., Raided by Band of 40 Men

Guards Handcuffed and Covered While Bandits Rolled Barrels to Trucks

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—A band of about 40 men, some of them masked and armed, bound and gagged the guards at the warehouse of the Philadelphia Distilling Co., at Eddington, near here, today, and escaped with from seven to ten truck loads of whiskey.

This was the second raid on the distillery within a month, a large number of men being driven away the first time after they had bound several guards, but before they were able to secure any of the whiskey.

A search of the warehouse showed that at least $20,000 worth of liquor had been stolen. A revenue officer believed at least 50 barrels were taken.

Whiskey valued at $25,000,000 was stored in the warehouse and a legal battle is now in progress in the federal court here over its ownership.

SUITS FOR $14,000 IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

As a result of an automobile accident in Dummer street a couple of months ago when a machine operated by George Goudas of Boston climbed over the sidewalk, striking and injuring several persons, suits were today entered against Goudas for approximately $14,000.

It will be remembered that Goudas, who had hired an automobile in Newtonville, drove to Lowell and parked his machine in Dummer street, while he went into a restaurant. When he returned to the car, so it is claimed, he started the engine and when he released the brakes, the machine shot over the sidewalk into a crowd of pedestrians. George Jojemetros sustained fractures of both legs in the crash and is still confined to St. John's hospital. Several others were injured, but not so seriously.

Goudas appeared in district court this morning to answer a charge of

ARGUMENTS ON MOTIONS TO QUASH INDICTMENTS

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 27.—Before arguments were started in the superior court this afternoon on motions to quash the indictments against Dr. William M. Roth for the murder of Mrs. Alice M. Wolschendorf, Merrimack river suit case victim, and against Dr. Dava H. Swape, as an accessory, Judge McLeod announced that they would be confined at this stage to questions of law.

Judge McLeod said that the state had not filed any answer to the defense motions for jury trial of the questions of fact involved in the motions to quash and therefore this matter would not be argued today. If after arguments on

This Refrain From Old Song
Made France Laugh and
"Tiger" Roar

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Sept. 27—"Ach, yes!" These words—refrain to a savage bit of French doggerel verse—made all France laugh, decided an important election in the Var district, won the undying enmity of Clemenceau, and finally brought Ernest Judet to the bar of justice, charged with being a traitor to France in time of war.

Back in the early nineties Ernest Judet was one of the most famous editors in France. He presided over the fortunes of Petit Journal and drew a huge salary.

Clemenceau in those days was earning his terrible name of "Tiger." Ministry after ministry fell before the onslaughts of the grim old statesman. Then he himself ran for re-election to the French Parliament in the district of the Var.

His enemies got back something of their own. Petit Journal under Judet led the pack. By editorials, by cartoons, by scathing articles, by ribald songs it pursued Clemenceau.

The climax came when Judet printed in his paper—"The Litanies of M. Clemenceau." Its general tone can be guessed from the opening lines:

"I am poor, Clemenceau uselessly repeats.

"Ach, yes!"
"I have never speculated in Panama."

"Ach, yes!"
All kinds of insinuations against the great old man thus gathered up and dished only to be negated by this—"Ach, yes!"

When Clemenceau went to the Var to make speeches, French voters shouted—"Ach, yes!"—at him.

It beat him. It stopped his career at a time when he could hope for everything. He never forgave Judet.

Many years passed. Judet had fallen upon hard days. He was editor of a paper which was not prosperous. Clemenceau was France's wartime prime minister. Judet went over to Switzerland. He said he went to serve France. His enemies said he went to betray France.

Then Clemenceau pounced. Accusations were brought against Judet. It was charged he entered into negotiations with Germans, whereby he was to foster the pacifist movement in France.

Judet did not return to France at the original date fixed for his trial. The case went on just the same and last February he was sentenced by default to perpetual detention in a fortified place for having intelligence with the enemy during war time.

Then one fine day Judet returned to France, gave himself up and demanded a trial where he could face his accusers. The trial lasted 11 days. Ten minutes after the jurors got the case they acquitted Judet.

Thirty years after his original feud with Clemenceau, he is once more free to pursue hostilities if he wishes.

But Clemenceau is 82 and out of office.

PEGGY'S PARAGRAPHS

IF

As Napoleon said, an army marches on its stomach, the progress of all humanity depends largely on dinnerware. The difference between civilization and the other thing is very much a matter of dishes. In our dinnerware shop, third floor, you will find a complete assortment of American and imported dinnerware. All stock patterns. Ranging in price from $7.95 to $40.

ENEMIES

A bouffant cap—no matter how beribboned and dainty I always consider a dear enemy. It is so utterly unbecoming—but the tiny bouffant bands that are used as a substitute, and that are sold in our Robbon shop for $1.50—Oh they are different!

AUTUMN

Leaves have started to turn color along wilderness trails. Nights are brilliantly cool. Dark frocks appear—luxurious fur trimmed coats make one think of football games—and first thing you know we will soon hear the familiar warning: D. V. C. S. E.

MEANTIME

Every wise woman knows that to wear the new frocks now is to be truly fashionable. Silk dresses for dressy occasions—twill ones for street and business wear—beautiful velvet and brocaded frocks for evening wear—you'll find the dress you want in our fashion shops, second floor.

Wall Paper

Adds so much, yet costs so little.

In our Wall Paper Department, fifth floor, you will find artistic wall papers that lend the finishing touch of perfect taste to homes of particular women.

Strahan's Fast Colored Beautiful Blended Tapestry Papers—Suitable for living rooms, dining rooms and halls—

Warm Underwear

Investing in warm underwear is a distinctly worth-while proposition. Keeping the body warm means no colds this winter. Not only that, but thin stockings, and thin underwear have a most annoying habit of making one's nose red. So lest anything so unfortunate should happen check up your needs from the following:

Women's Medium Weight Union Suits—Fine quality, high neck, long or half length sleeve. Dutch neck, knee or ankle length. No sleeve, knee or ankle length. Bodice top, knee or ankle length.

Regular sizes $2.00
Extra sizes $2.25
Extra Extra sizes $2.75

Women's Medium Weight Union Suits—Dutch neck, elbow sleeves, knee or ankle length, also sleeveless style, knee or ankle length. $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75

Women's Medium Weight Wool Vests—All styles and prices. $1.75, $2.00 and $2.25

Women's Medium Weight Cotton Vests—In all styles and sizes. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Women's Vests—Medium weight, band top, no sleeve; regular and extra sizes 69c

Misses' Medium Weight Vests—Dutch neck, elbow sleeve, 65c and 75c

Misses' Medium Union Suits—Dutch neck, knee or ankle length $1.25, $1.50 and $1.75

Exclusive Autumn Millinery

New soft hats in tan and off-the-face shapes—tiny cloche turbans—pokes—large brimmed hats.

The colors are all the various shades of brown from sand to dark log cabin, as well as navy and black. Black is very popular, especially used with trimming in all shades of brown from light to dark.

The leading materials used are Lyons velvet, hatters' plush, panne velvet.

Many of the hats are self-trimmed, although elaborate jeweled ornaments are quite a feature; others are very attractive with velvet choux or bow trims, peacock, Ostrich and Chinese embroidery.

FARMERS NEGLECT CROPS TO GET RICH ON THE ARTISTS

BY JOSEPHINE VAN DE GRIFT
N. E. A. Service Staff Writer
WOODSTOCK, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Art spells poverty, not money. We learned that in school.

Yet, art, like oil, spells cash some times. An art boom, as unique as many an oil boom, has put the village of Woodstock on the map. This is a suburban "Greenwich Village" with a golden lining.

Rents have doubled and tripled. Farming has been abandoned in favor of art. Villagers used to hate the art students when they first came to Woodstock because they left their plant rags lying around and Woodstock cows ate 'em and died. Now they turn barn stalls and hay lofts into studios, rented at New York prices, and charge you a dollar for boarding house meals. "Rooms come high," says Al Daiber, proprietor of Twin Gables, boarding house de luxe. "I get more because my house has a bathroom."

I came out here to see the first autumn exodus of the cash-breeding art colony. In winter Woodstock has 700 people; in summer 1700.

You could rent a whole house and garden for $15 or $20 a month a few years ago. Now New York artists had solved the high cost of living problem. Now it's different houses at $50 a month ($75 with bathroom); barn lofts for $200 a season; rooms without private bath (for public either) $3 a night; board and room $25 a week! Oh, no. Woodstock villagers don't sneer at art and artists now. They're simply crazy about art, wonderful art! All except one woman—Mrs. Dan Sully, who stubbornly refuses to acknowledge that art is better, in dollars and cents than agriculture.

Cheap in the country? Don't let anybody tell you that! Not in art-mad Woodstock. I had a talk with Grace H. Britton, who came to Woodstock to paint but remained to sell real estate.

"I could get you a barn loft," she said, "without running water or anything for $100 a season. Twice as much with a house? Twenty dollars a month? Are you mad?"

I went across the street to where a chunky little woman was selling vegetables. There were some tomatoes that could be bought for a penny, but some knobby looking cucumbers were selling for ten cents apiece. Even vegetables had gold paint now!

For the Woodstock farmers aren't

farming much nowadays. When they aren't renting out barns or setting up garages or waiting table for the summer boarders they're hiring out as "types" to the art students at 50 cents an hour. Some of them are thinking seriously of going into the movies.

Only the grand old woman of Woodstock has proved obdurate. Mrs. Sully, now in her 68th year, was born in Woodstock. She used to be on the stage.

Twenty years ago, at the height of her career, she came back to Woodstock. For 14 years she ran the Woodstock saw mill, sawed logs and made barrel heads. She owns eight houses and a thousand acres of land and looks after them all. She drives her own team, milks cows and does all her housework in her bare feet.

Other Woodstock inhabitants first scorned, then endured, then embraced the artists. Mrs. Sully alone will have nothing to do with them. "Call that stuff art!" she sniffs. "I've got better stuff in my attic."

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of tireless exercise, starvation diet, and absurd greases and salves. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists the world over at one dollar for a case, or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The underground castle of Bluebeard—ho of the many wives whose story for countless years has caused shivers to chase up and down human spines—has been immortalized in motion pictures. For vision scenes in "Bluebeard's 8th Wife," a Sam Wood production for Paramount, which is now playing at the Merrimack Square theatre, a replica of the story book castle, with underground caves and dungeons, was constructed at the studio. Big heavy doors, bound with steel and locked by strong padlocks, block long, narrow passages. Miss Swanson and Huntley Gordon, her leading man, are the only two characters appearing in this sequence of the picture. Both wear costly costumes of heavy material, bejeweled and hung with valuable ornaments.

In connection with the showing of "Bluebeard's 8th Wife," the management, in co-operation with local women's shops, has arranged an excellent, style show, featuring nine beautiful models, who appear twice daily.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"Pianocapers" is a vaudeville classic, as put forward by its originators, Al and Fanny Steadman, at the B. F. Keith theatre this week. The comedy of Al and the singing and dancing of Fanny are of big league calibre. Buckridge & Casey is another team which gives unalloyed pleasure. Miss Buckridge is straight from musical comedy, and Casey is a funny moving picture actor. They make a splendidly paired "Papa's Secretary," as played by Kelso & DeMonde, is one of the best turns on the bill. It is farce played at a fast pace. Russell & Marconi, in "Bits of Hits," Bernard & Garry, southern syncopators, and Valentine & Bell, in many things wound together, complete the big bill. The picture feature is "Stormy Seas."

SHERIFF'S SALE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts—Middlesex, ss. Sept. 4, 1923. Taken on execution and will be sold at public auction on Saturday, Oct. 20, 1923, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon at my office, Room No. 424, in the Appleton Bank Bldg., No. 174 Central street, Lowell, in and about all the right, title and interest which Michael A. Ansara of said Lowell had, not exempted by law from attachment or levy on execution on Jan. 22, 1923, at 3.30 o'clock in the forenoon, the time when the same was attached on mesne process in and to the following described lots or parcels of real estate, to wit:

The land in said Lowell with the buildings thereon situated on the southerly side of Merrimack street, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the northeasterly corner of the premises on an old Merrimack street and at the northwesterly corner of land conveyed by the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack river to James R. Barnes by deed dated July 31, 1839; thence westerly on said Merrimack street, forty-seven feet; thence southerly at a right angle ninety-four feet and 4 inches to the point of beginning. Containing 44 1/2 square feet, more or less. This conveyance is made subject to the restrictions that no building shall ever be erected within less than ten feet from said Merrimack street, and said strip of ten feet shall forever be kept open as a sidewalk. Being the same premises to Michael A. Ansara conveyed by two deeds dated June 17, 1920, one from Mary E. Barrett, executrix, the other from Mary E. Barrett individually recorded with Middlesex North District Registry of Deeds, Book 628, Page 48.

Also a certain lot of land with the buildings thereon, containing 630 1/2 square feet of land situated on the southerly side of Varney street in said Lowell, bounded as follows: Beginning at a stone bound on said street at the northeasterly corner of the premises at land formerly of one Grosvenor; thence at a right angle southerly on said Grosvenor land eighty-six and 83-100 feet to a stone bound; thence at an angle of 102° 42' sixty-two feet to a corner of a fence; thence at an angle of 90° 33' eighty-five and 8-100 feet to a passageway; thence northerly on said passageway seventy-six feet to said Varney street; thence easterly on said Varney street sixty-seven and 88-100 feet to the point of beginning. Together with all my right, title and interest in and to said passageway. Being the same premises conveyed to Michael A. Ansara by deed from Amasa Pratt dated Sept. 16, 1919, and recorded in said North District Registry of Deeds, Book 611, Page 166.

Also the land in said Lowell with the buildings thereon, situated on the southerly side of Varney street, and thus bounded and described, viz: Beginning at the northeasterly corner of the premises on the southerly side of said street at a drill hole in a stone; thence westerly along said street ninety feet to a stone bound at land of one Smiley; thence southerly along said Smiley land eighty-six and 81-100 feet to a stone bound; thence turning about a right angle and running easterly ninety feet to a mark on a stone at land owned by Rhoda L. Grosvenor and Jonathan P. Grosvenor to Amasa Pratt; thence at about a right angle northerly along last named land ninety and 88-100 feet to the point of beginning. Containing 799 square feet, and being the same premises conveyed to Michael A. Ansara by Joseph Barber, Trustee, by deed dated January 25, 1918, recorded in said Registry of Deeds.

Also the land in said Lowell situated on the northwesterly side of Suffolk street, containing 553 square feet, the buildings thereon now supposed to be numbered 95, 100 on said Suffolk street, and thus bounded: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of the premises at the northeasterly corner of land conveyed by the Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack river to Elihu Gates by deed dated March 16, 1839; thence northerly by said Suffolk street sixty feet to a corner; thence at a right angle westerly eighty-six and 21-100 feet to a corner; thence southerly at an angle of 102° 42' sixty-one and 53-100 feet to said Gates land; thence southerly at an angle of 77° 2' eighty-four feet by said Gates land to the point of beginning, and being the same premises conveyed to Michael A. Ansara by deed from Amasa Pratt dated August 16, 1915, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the Northern District of said County, Book 512, Page 401.

Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Lowell on the easterly side of Adams street, containing 723 square feet, more or less, the buildings thereon now supposed to be numbered 177 to 185 on said Adams street and thus bounded: Beginning at the northwesterly corner of the premises on said Adams street at the southwesterly corner of land now or formerly of Frank E. McNabb at a point distant southerly forty feet, and from the intersection of the easterly side of said Adams street with the southerly side of Broadway; thence easterly by said McNabb land thirty-four feet, more or less; thence southerly by said McNabb land fourteen and 5-10 feet, more or less; thence easterly still by said McNabb land six feet, more or less; thence southerly still by said McNabb land twenty feet, more or less; thence easterly still by said McNabb land four and 8-10 feet, more or less, to land now or formerly of Anthony A. Crowley; thence southerly by said Crowley land thirty feet, more or less, to land of the estate of Edward Corbello, now or formerly; thence westerly by said Corbello land sixty-four feet more or less to said Adams street; thence northerly by said Adams street fifty-five feet more or less to the point of beginning. The premises on said subject to the condition that no building or obstruction shall ever be placed on the above described premises within six feet of said Adams street, but that the said six feet shall be forever kept open as and for a sidewalk. Being the same premises to said Michael A. Ansara conveyed by George H. Manning by deed dated July 19, 1916, and recorded in said Registry, Book 557, Page 306. MARTIN CONWAY, Deputy Sheriff.

PTOMAINS CAUSE SERIOUS ILLNESS

Mr. Turner Suffered for Months from Disordered System Result- ing From Food Poisoning

Debility may result from a great many causes such as grief or a sudden shock. It may follow an acute illness such as grippe or influenza. The symptoms are generally alike, stomach disturbances, nervousness, pale complexion, breathlessness, fluttering heart. In the case of Mr. Frank W. Turner, a motorman, of No. 84 Allen Place, Hartford, Conn., ptomaine poisoning was the cause of the disturbance to his system. "My stomach would not digest my food," Mr. Turner says, "and I was dizzy a great deal of the time so that I almost staggered when I walked. I was constipated, had no strength and felt weak all over. I suffered from flatulency and palpitation of the heart. I had pains after eating and sour risings in the throat. This resulted from ptomaine poisoning and for two months my system did not recover from the effects although I had medical treatment. "I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills years before with good results and I thought they might help this condition, so I tried them. While I was still taking the first box I noticed that my stomach was better and the gas spells less frequent. My heart stopped bothering me. All of the disagreeable symptoms disappeared and I am stronger now and feel good all the time. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to a number of people. They certainly helped me." Your own druggist can supply you or the pills will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write today for a copy of the booklet, "Building Up the Blood." It is free.—Adv.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"The Tidal Wave," also known under two other titles, "The Beachcombers" and "Mother Love," is creating a long line of drama lovers at the Opera House this week, and, judging from the opinions of those who have seen it, it is one of the best offerings so far this year. Fine parts are afforded for Victor Browne, Hazel Corinne, Miss Andrews, Lloyd Sabine and others of the Players. Great interest was expressed at the beginning of the week when Mr. Tommie Martelle is to appear at the Opera House the week of Oct. 29th.

THE RIALTO THEATRE

Comedy is comedy only when there is a laugh around. Nobody knows that better than Lupino Lane, the comedy idol of two continents, who is now appearing at the Rialto in his latest William Fox offering, "A Friendly Husband."

The added feature presents Reginald Denny in Jack London's virile story, "The Abysmal Brute." In this picture Denny is seen in the role of a Leather Pusher, a hero of the squared arena. He falls in love with a highly cultured, superlative society girl, but does not tell her his profession for fear that she will think less of him. When she does finally discover his vocation she dismisses him, although she really loves him. How he uses "cave man" methods to win her love back and how he succeeds makes "The Abysmal Brute" a dramatic tale above the par. Buddy Messinger, Mabel Juliette Scott and Hayden Stevenson are in the cast.

THE STRAND

Heralded throughout the country by critics as Maurice Tourneur's "greatest masterpiece" and a thrilling dramatic spectacle of unrivaled beauty "Lorna Doone" is surely winning unlimited praise and commendation during its run at the Strand during the week-end. Tourneur's fictionalization of Blackmore's famous novel has attracted world-wide attention and for once the critics have forgotten to complain that the "picture is nothing like the book." If you want to see what the bed of the ocean looks like, then don't miss the novel pictorialization "Vengeance of the Deep," a story of the South Sea pearl fisheries, where some of the most wonderful undersea scenes are shown and in which some of the most dramatic by the natives are also reflected on the screen. You will marvel at it.

CHAMPIONSHIP DANCE
Arthur Carroll and Dominick Monahan, who, with their female partners, will compete in a championship dance contest at the Casino tomorrow night, informed the management this morning that they are prepared to go on with the test and will be in their best shape for the competition when the judges make the "on with the dance" announcement. Since both couples are well known in this city and have large followings, a record attendance is expected. The rivals are evenly matched and will dance to music provided by Campbell's orchestra, which also will play for the general dancing before and after the contest.

SECOND DAY OF BIG ANNUAL FAIR BY TYNGSBORO GRANGE IN THE TOWN HALL

Undeterred by the frowning skies, the people of Tyngsboro and surrounding villages cheerfully wended their way to the Tyngsboro town hall this morning bent upon spending the whole day and most of the evening at the fair which is being conducted there by Tyngsboro grange, 222. Shortly after the doors of the hall had opened at 10 o'clock this morning, the affair was swept away and the committee in charge knew well that this year's fair had broken all records in attendance as well as in exhibits.

Don't Blame Wife's Cooking If Your Digestion is Poor!

When your appetite isn't what it should be and your digestion is poor, when food seems to cause you to feel sick, when you are nervous and uncomfortable after meals, when you don't get refreshing sleep at night and wake up half-dressed and often constipated, don't blame your food and don't take soda or drugs that may hurt the lining of your stomach.

Build yourself up! Strengthen your digestive organs so that they function naturally at every meal. Dr. H. S. Thacher, the noted stomach specialist, perfected a delicious vegetable tonic that is ideally suited to the weakened stomach. Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, as the affair were swept away and the committee in charge knew well that this year's fair had broken all records in attendance as well as in exhibits.

Today's program provides for something doing all day long. From 10 to 12 o'clock the exhibits were the main attraction and the judge's awards were carefully checked up. At noon a dinner was served in the basement of the hall by the women folks of the Tyngsboro grange.

At 3:30 p. m. a program of sports will be run off at the school yard weather permitting. The sports are open to all boys and girls in the town and cash prizes will be awarded the winners.

During the late afternoon the exhibits will be removed from the hall to make room for the entertainment and dance in the evening. At 6 o'clock supper will be served and at 8 p. m. an entertainment will be given. The entertainment, consisting of character sketches by a Boston actor, will last for about an hour and, following this, dancing will be enjoyed until midnight.

The fair opened yesterday at one o'clock and the afternoon was given over to a baby show and to the judging of the exhibits by C. B. Thacher, representative of the Middlesex County Farm Bureau, and Miss Forbes, who judged the household exhibits.

Baby Show New Feature

The baby show was a new feature of the fair and was held at 3 o'clock. About 20 babies were entered and the prizes were awarded by popular vote. There were three prizes offered, one for the prettiest baby, one for the best natured baby, and one for the youngest baby. Virginia Louise Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Knapp of North Chelmsford, was voted the prettiest baby; May Elaine Reno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reno, of North Chelmsford, was judged the best natured baby; and Gloria

Donovan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donovan of North Chelmsford, aged 3 months, was awarded the prize as the youngest baby exhibited.

Tell Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief for Acid Indigestion

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomachache and inability to retain food are in probably all cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

This distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating, or whenever gas, sourness or acidity are felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Bisurated Magnesia which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Adv.

Mothers know a dose of
SYRUP PEPSIN

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. Everett E. Hunt of Belzoni, Okla., who has three children and never any sickness, and Mrs. F. B. Kulenski of Prosser, Wash., always give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative," and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are poisons that never should be given to children—calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a coal-tar drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which concentrate the blood and dry up the saliva. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeding by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Syrup Pepsin.

Send me a free trial bottle. Address to: "Syrup Pepsin," 417 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

I need a good laxative and would like to prove what you say about Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by actual test. Send me a free trial bottle. Address to: Name..... Address..... Not more than one free trial bottle to a family.

Housewives Glad to Know New Starch Discovery Gives Beautiful French Finish to Garments

EVERY woman knows how provoking it is to work with starch that forms a thick, sticky jelly when it cools, and smears and clots, and makes your iron stick when you try to iron.

All these drawbacks to easy, satisfactory work have now been overcome with Linit, the new scientific starch.

A New Starch Discovery

LINIT is a scientific starch discovery—distinctly different from ordinary starches. After Linit is thoroughly dissolved, according to directions and is ready for use, you will notice it is THIN and

FREE-RUNNING LIKE WATER—with a "milky" appearance.

Be sure to use Linit according to directions, and unlike other starches, you will not find Linit stiff or jelly-like. This is why Linit goes much further than the old-fashioned kind of starches, and is much easier to iron with.

Linit penetrates the fabric, helps prevent wear, and prolongs the life of the material.

You will be interested to know that Linit was originally developed for the use of the great fabric makers to give that smartly fashionable finish now so much in vogue.

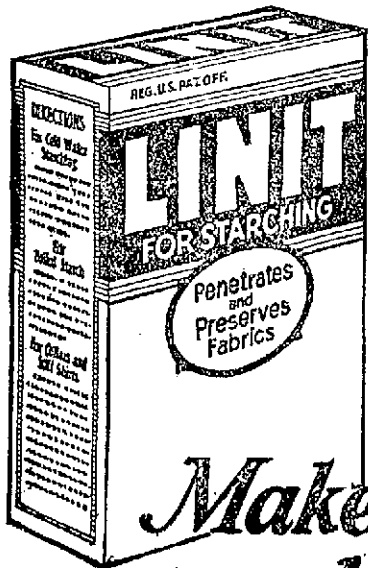

With Linit you can keep your shirt waists looking like new. The children can have their garments finished in the daintiest style, equal to the most beautiful French finish.

all grocers, 10c

THE NEW JEWEL THEATRE

Reginald Denny, devotee of the padded mitt, will be seen in the first chapter of a new series of "Leather Pushers" stories. This young man is fast becoming one of the great leaders in his profession, and he has already been starred in big productions, among them "Sherlock Holmes" and "The Abysmal Brute," both wonderful additions to the movie industry. Two regular length features, a comedy and other short novelties will round out a whiz of a program at this popular and cozy little movie house.

WARD MURDER TRIAL NEAR END

This is the best photograph yet to be published of Mrs. Beryl Curtis Ward, wife of Walter Ward, and their two children, since Ward went on trial at White Plains, N. Y., for his life for the slaying of Clarence Peters, former sailor. It was taken at Sutton Manor.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press)—Opening with a vigorous attack on the four hour and fifteen minute address to the jury yesterday by Judge N. Mills, chief of the defense staff, Attorney General Carl Sherman today began the summation of the prosecution's case against Walter S. Ward, charged with murdering Clarence Peters of Haverhill, Mass.

Mr. Sherman characterized Mr. Mills' address as a pitiful demonstration against conclusive and damaging evidence and said it was intended as a smoke screen to camouflage the inability of the defense to disprove the state's testimony.

The attorney general said there has been ample evidence to convict Ward since last year when he recommended prosecution after the first indictment was handed down.

Mrs. Ward, the defendant's wife, came to the court room before the session opened with half a dozen handkerchiefs in one hand and a packet of letters in the other from which several other handkerchiefs protruded.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27.—Evan J. David landed at the air mail field here at 1:30 a. m. from Dayton, O. In his race with death to reach the bedside of his dying wife at Lowell, Mass., which he lost when his wife died last night.

David left here at 12:10 p. m. in a government air mail plane for New York. Pilot Paul Collins expected to make a non-stop flight to New York reaching there in four hours. David was nearly prostrated when he learned of the death of his wife.

homes, appeared before Judge Enright in district court this morning to answer to a complaint of his wife charging non-support. He pleaded guilty, and an agreement was entered whereby he will contribute $12 each week towards his wife's support.

The court was informed that the defendant was leading man in a traveling company of Greek dramatic players.

Other Non-Support Cases
Three other defendants were also called before the court this morning to answer to complaints of non-support.

George Wade, father of six children, was given a sentence of six months in the house of correction, but entered an appeal, and the court ordered him to pay $25 each week to his wife while the appeal was pending. Later this sentence was revoked, and Wade was given another chance upon his promise to pay $18 each week towards the support of his family.

Mrs. Wade testified that trouble started when Wade began keeping company with another woman and Probation Officer Cronin informed the court that the woman in question is now on probation on a suspended sentence from the court.

Wade objected, however, to such testimony being introduced against him, and angrily inquired of the court:

"How long are they going to keep bawling over that?"

It was then that the six months' sentence was imposed but later Wade repented and as his wife was willing to accept $18 per week, the sentence was changed.

Doctor Christian was not in court when he was called to plead to a complaint of non-support, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Agred Man Assaulted
Alex Sedrick was fined $75 on a charge of assault upon Edward Broule in Chelmsford yesterday. Mr. Broule, an aged man, had to be assisted to the stand. He claimed that he delivered the milk at Sedrick's home and that the defendant owed him for three weeks' milk.

When he asked for the money, and told Sedrick he wouldn't leave any more milk until the bill was settled, he said Sedrick set upon him and struck him on the arm and over the head with a stick.

Sedrick admitted the assault, but said it was because Broule made improper proposals to his wife, Mrs. Sedrick also said that Broule had made advances to her, the first time last Tuesday morning, and again yesterday morning.

Because of the seriousness of the assault the court was at first inclined to impose a jail sentence, but in view of the finding of the court that the husband was probably angered because of the wife's complaint about Broule, Judge Bright said he would impose a substantial fine instead.

The case of Frank W. Chapman of Hudson, N. H., charged with drunkenness and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor, was continued one month for sentence. The court informed the defendant that if he made restitution for damages during that time, it would be taken into consideration. But, at any rate, the defendant was informed that there would be at least a fine of $100.

Chapman was charged with crashing into a machine owned and driven by Hugh Wong last night. The crash drove Wong's car forward so that it crashed into a car owned by Emmanuel Franks of Salem. Franks and Wong had stopped their cars behind an electric car, which had stopped to let off passengers.

Henry J. Savagau was fined $25 on a charge of operating an auto without a license and $25 for driving without a certificate of registration. The court was informed that the defendant was driving the car in such a manner that he nearly hit a woman.

Big Raid Near Philadelphia

barrel after barrel of whiskey to the trucks. How many were taken cannot be determined until an inventory is made.

The guards believe they were held in the engine room for an hour after the trucks left, so that they could not give the alarm. When the last of the barrels left the handcuffs of one of the men were unlocked by another of the guards, who found that the thieves had left a handout key behind them.

An alarm was immediately sounded and the police of Bucks county and Philadelphia rushed to the scene. The state police were also summoned and systematic search of all roads leading away from Philadelphia was under way today.

Councilor Lambert's suggestion was for the appointment of a traffic commission to include the superintendent of police, chief of the fire department, traffic supervisor, city engineer and one member of the planning board.

FINAL REGISTRATION FOR BOWEN TO BE RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

BROCKTON, Sept. 27.—William E. Bowen of Beaver, East Bridgewater, will be released from the Brockton hospital tomorrow. He has been under treatment there since he made an attempt on his life Sept. 16, when he drank a bottle containing a poisonous mixture and slashed himself with a razor. The police guard was removed from his bedside today. Arrangements to allow Bowen to go to his home were made through the efforts of his counsel, Attorney William J. Callahan, who today received a letter from District Attorney Reading of Middlesex county.

The letter contained a list of restrictions under which Bowen is to be placed. He is not to leave his home under any conditions and is to be constantly watched by members of his family. He is to talk to no one, except in the presence of his counsel and the district attorney. He is not to be allowed to read newspaper or magazine articles dealing with the case.

WHIST PARTY FOR CHURCH BENEFIT

A whist party for the benefit of the proposed new Notre Dame de Lourdes church was conducted in the parish hall in Middlesex street this afternoon. The affair, which was largely attended, was conducted under the auspices of St. Anne's sodality of the parish, the arrangements being in charge of a committee headed by the president, Mrs. F. N. Donahue. At the close of the card contest prizes were awarded the winners, a varied entertainment program was given, and refreshments served.

It was announced at Notre Dame de Lourdes rectory today that the kindergarten class for children of the parish has been opened in the new school building at the corner of Middlesex and Wilder streets and the registration up to date is 28. The Gray Nuns of the Cross of Ottawa, who are in charge of the school, have moved into their new home near the new school, and their former residence near the church will be occupied by the church sexton.

The pastor, Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O.M.I., wishes to announce that next Sunday services will be conducted in the church according to standard time. The masses will be at 6, 7:30, 9 and 11 o'clock.

F. Murphy, a member of the reception committee. The party remained in New York until this morning when they embarked for Lowell, being scheduled to arrive at the Middlesex street depot about 7:20 o'clock this evening.

The laymen members will assemble in their hall in Suffolk street at 6:30 o'clock and proceed to the railroad station in a body. Mr. Condon and Captain Smith will then be conveyed in automobiles through the downtown streets of the city and to the Lyceum hall, where the real celebration will be held, beginning about 8 o'clock. A monster turnout is expected.

MUST SEAL WITH WAX
Orders have been received at the local postoffice to the effect that all mail for delivery in Russia that contains money or valuables must be sealed with wax. This regulation was made by the Russian postal authorities and has been endorsed by the American authorities.

British Seaplane Capsized and Sank

COWES, Isle of Wight, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press) One of the two British seaplanes entered for the international races for the Schneider seaplane trophy tomorrow, capsized and sank in deep water during the seaworthiness tests for entrants this morning. R. A. W. Kenworthy, the pilot, was carried under by the machine, but rose to the surface and was rescued.

Island of Corfu Returned to Greece

ATHENS, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press) The island of Corfu, occupied by Italy on Aug. 31 was returned to the Greek authorities this morning, it is announced in despatches received here.

Glenwood

Makes Cooking Easy

"I never knew I was such a good cook"

AND I'll have to give most of the credit to our new Glenwood range, it certainly has made a difference in my cooking. I'm spending less time in the kitchen, too.

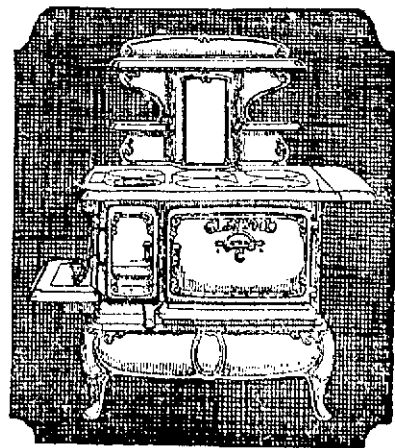

"It's a relief to have a range that doesn't need to be coaxed to cook."

A Glenwood comes as near to making cooking a pleasure as any range can. It does make cooking easy, which is really more important.

The Model "C" Glenwood is illustrated here.

Its big square oven bakes food exactly right—top, bottom and clear through. The balanced baking damper and the Glenwood Patent Indicator take care of that—you can't make a mistake.

Like every Glenwood, the Model "C" is built for a lifetime of service. It will give you a new idea of how easy it is to be a good cook.

Says Allenrhu Surely Conquers Rheumatism

Winchester, Ky., Citizen Cheerfully Recommends This Wonderful Remedy to All Sufferers.

His letter follows: "Burns Avenue, Winchester, Ky. I had severe rheumatism for three months; tried several remedies without receiving any benefit whatever. A friend advised me to try ALLENRHU as it had cured him. I bought three bottles from the George Drug Co., this city. When I began taking this medicine I was unable to do any work. I could neither dress myself nor move my hand to comb my hair. The last of the three bottles I am now taking will completely cure me. I can cheerfully recommend this truly wonderful remedy to any rheumatic sufferer. Signed, Anna F. Kent."

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony were intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Druggists guarantee the first pint bottle to show appreciable results or money back in every instance. All druggists can supply you.—Adv.

preserves shown at the show will be divided among the hospitals and other charitable institutions absolutely gratis at the close of the exhibit. There is not a jarring commercial note anywhere and the exhibit is better by far than many where the striving for commercial preference is the keynote.

Much credit for the success of the show is due to the untiring efforts of the school children of Lowell to put it across. The various schools are all represented by large exhibits, many of these exhibits being raised by the children themselves and many being donated in the name of the school by the children's parents through the children.

Dahlias in Profusion
The exhibits accredited to the various schools take up a considerable amount of room and are all extremely interesting to lovers of fruit, flowers and vegetables. Varnum, Washington and Pawtucket schools seem to have the largest and most complete exhibits. At the Pawtucket school display three of the school pupils, Frances Monette, William Walker and Edwin Montgomery, were at hand for a part of the time as a committee to meet the visitors and call particular attention to their exhibit.

Miss Alice T. Lee, supervisor of primary grades, arranged the schools' exhibits in the hall and was particularly proud of the exhibit of Cabot street school which consisted of strawberries, white carrots, raised from the pupils. Other schools represented by the exhibits were Lincoln, Sycamore street, Pine street, Laura Lee, Moody, Riverside, Middlesex Village, Morey, Bartlett and Greenhalge.

To many the outstanding feature of the entire exhibit is the dahlia display of Will Rounds. Scores of varieties, each tagged by its proper name, are exhibited by Mr. Rounds who was personally on hand to talk with the many admirers who stopped at the booth. All colors were shown in simple and the most remarkable combinations. The various tints, from the primary colors to the most unusual color combinations presented a pretty, pleasing, and kaleidoscopic effect. Judging alone from hundreds of examinations of surprise and pleasure or from the great number of inquiries the dahlia exhibit was to the majority of those adults in attendance, the greatest feature of the show.

Some fine specimens of apples are shown by the various farmers of the locality and the temptation to sample them is hard to down in many cases. These apples, without blemish or flaw, are indeed pleasing.

The School Exhibits
Varnum school requires two full tables. Several jars of jellies and preserves are shown together with some fine strawberries. Outstanding among the exhibits of Greenhalge school is the dahlia exhibit of Ernest Cingmar. A new guinea bean, a species of pout, is shown as a part of the large exhibit of the Washington school. Everything exhibited from this school was raised from free seeds provided through Congressman Rogers.

Several fine baskets of fruit are shown by the Moody school. Cleve League. It was a bit late for the Laura Lee school to exhibit its vegetables but the school children there bound to be exhibitors, sent several grocery displays. Edison school has a generous display. Chief among the Edison display in interest is a fine corner basket of fruit from the children of Miss Marren's room, the fourth grade. The exhibit of Lexington avenue school. White carrots, raised from free seeds secured through Congressman Rogers, are the featured articles in the display of Riverside school. Jams, jellies and preserves in tempting array are tagged as from Bartlett school. Lincoln school has a fine display that is very comprehensive in scope as is the display of Pawtucket school.

Vegetables Look Good
The vegetables, and there is a pro-

fusion of them, are all well worth viewing. Some monster heads of lettuce, pumpkins, squash and other farm yard specimens are at hand, all tagged by the proud exhibitors. Corn there is in fine lots.

The display of fruit and vegetable preserves is a fine one that it would be indeed hard to match anywhere. A display of groceries and bakers' goods is also highly attractive.

The list of individual contributors, listed by localities, follows:

BALTIMORE WOMAN'S

MESSAGE TO MOTHERS

At 820 W. Hayward Ave., lives Mrs. Henry Johnson, who a few weeks ago wrote what may be termed a good message to all mothers. She said: "I have used Dr. True's Elixir for more than ten years and know it is good." She used Dr. True's Elixir the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, to rid her children of worms. There is hardly a child but what needs Dr. True's Elixir, for they all usually have worms when growing up. Mrs. Johnson accomplishes what Dr. True's Elixir will be in better health through its use. Symptoms to watch: Constipation, offensive breath, slow fever, biliousness, pain in stomach, red points on tongue, swollen upper lip, starting during sleep with troublesome dreams. 40c-60c-$1.20.-Adv.

SAUSAGES
With the coming of cold weather, pork may be introduced into the diet. While this delicious meat is more difficult to digest, a moderate use of it can do no harm to the ordinarily healthy person.

If pork is well done and accompanied by the proper dishes there is no reason why chops and roasts and sausage should not appear on most dinner or luncheon tables once a week. The amount of fat in other foods served in a meal with pork should be decreased. Sausage is almost one-third fat pork, so choose vegetables lacking in fat. Let the salad be a simple green or fruit salad with French dressing and the dessert a custard or rice or fruit tapioca.

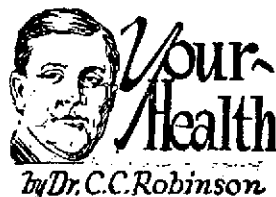

These recipes for sausage may be new to you. They provide a meat course lacking in protein but rich in fat, so supply the deficiency in the dessert.

Stuffed Apples
Four large apples, ½ pound bulk sausage, whole cloves.
Wash apples and remove cores. Stick a few cloves into the flesh of the apples. Fill cavities of apples with sausage. Put in a baking dish with a very little water. Cover and put in a hot oven for 30 minutes. Reduce heat and remove cover and bake an hour in a slow oven. Baste with the juice in the pan.

With Canned Apples
One pound sausage, 4 apples, 1 cup vinegar, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, cracker dust.
Small sausages or linked sausage should be used. Dip sausage in boiling water to cover and let simmer half an hour. Drain and put in a hot frying pan. Prick with a fork and fry half an hour, turning frequently.

Make a syrup of the vinegar, brown sugar and spices. Pare apples and remove cores. Cut in slices one-fourth inch thick. Drop in boiling syrup and cook until clear. Remove from syrup and roll in cracker dust. Brown quickly in hot sausage fat and serve around sausage.

Sausage Rolls
Four small sausages, 1½ cups flour, 1 tablespoon lard, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, milk to make a soft dough.
Parboil sausage for 10 minutes. Cool and remove skin. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in lard with tips of fingers. Cut in milk with knife. Roll on a well-floured board to about one-half inch thickness. Cut in oblong-shaped pieces large enough to completely cover each sausage. Roll and pinch edges together. Prick top of each roll several times with a fork. Bake 15 minutes in a moderate oven.
Serve with scalloped or creamed potatoes, spinach, shredded cabbage, curried custard or prune whip.

discovery, if such it may be called, of Dr. Fred G. Banting of Toronto, Canada.

Many efforts have been made during the past 20 years to carry the results of experiments in the use of pancreas extracts into the field of therapeutics. No direct success was attained as the extracts contained some protein matter which rendered hypodermic administration unsafe.

Dr. Banting is the first to arrive at a real logical conclusion. Quite a large number of patients have been under successful treatment during the past six months.

The idea that a properly prepared extract of the pancreas, freed of its digestive action, would be of great benefit in the treatment of diabetes was confirmed. It was experimentally tested in the laboratory and found to show surprising results. First with animals, then with great caution, on real patients.

Insulin seems to have the power of allowing the diabetic organism to burn sugar, thus causing sugar in the urine to disappear and blood sugar to drop to normal.

It has been given to patients to bring them out of diabetic coma, long enough to overcome serious infections. Surgical operations, under its use, may be performed on the severest cases of diabetes. Best of all, it is claimed that it will permit development and growth in children and young adults, where formerly there was no hope.

Insulin is given to the patient, hypodermically, three times a day before meals. It cannot be used without very careful diet control and must be administered by a physician.

To the sufferer from diabetes this new treatment—it is not yet termed a cure—comes as a welcome boon, almost a call to new life and action.

SAN FRANCISCO

BY A. H. FREDERICK

N. E. A. Service Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—This city plans expansion along the lines made famous by New York and more recently by Los Angeles.

With moves already started to bridge the bay at several places, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, and other nearby towns, will be brought into close contact which may eventually lead to amalgamation.

Also San Francisco is looking down the peninsula toward Burlingame, Hillsborough and San Mateo, and communities are working toward consolidation.

If the peninsula cities are brought within the city limits, San Francisco will have acquired, in Hillsborough, the best known millionaire colony in the west.

Burlingame, with 5000 population, is another exclusive millionaire colony. While San Francisco thus plans a moderate expansion, not so Los Angeles.

This city has the greatest area of any city in the country, and ranges in scope from the high mountains to the sea.

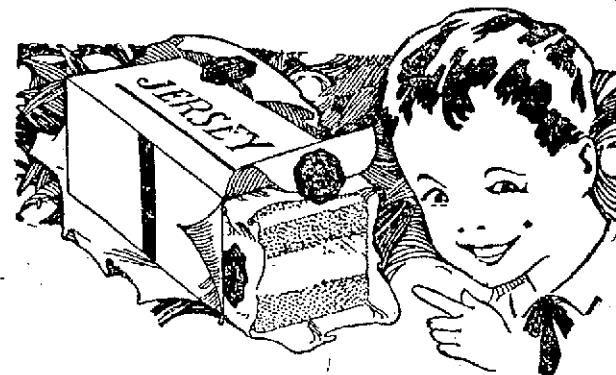

Tourists to Los Angeles, of whom there are thousands annually are greeted by the street signs and areas marked "New addition to So and So" long before they see any other marks of a city.

Oakland claims to be the nearest rival to Los Angeles for Pacific coast boom town honors. And to verify the claims, it points to:
Fifty million dollars in building permits in two years; whole tracts of orchard and grazing lands turned into urban dwelling districts; 300 new homes a month reported for postal delivery; and bank clearings showing an increase of $3,000,000 average over the similar week a year ago.

SOLVING THE RAILROAD PROBLEM

What shall we do with our New England railroads?

The answer to that question will depend upon the point of view. The stockholders who are thinking of their financial interests alone say, "consolidate" the New England railroads into one regional system, overcome local competition and mismanagement, cut down overhead expenses and thus rehabilitate all the roads under the new merger proposed and which is to be capitalized under the government valuation. That will do no harm, of course. Indeed it may do some good by eliminating some of the waste, dropping lines no longer needed, and overcoming the evils of mismanagement; but it can never make the roads prosperous.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford road is in bad shape financially. The Boston & Maine is in very fair condition at present; and the same may be said of some other New England roads. But are these roads in such a strong financial condition, that they can enter a combine on equal terms with the N. Y. N. H. & H.? Would they be as strong financially after taking on this bankrupt road and its obligations as they were before? We think not, and hence the consolidation scheme proposed could not, in our judgment, result in financial rehabilitation of the roads involved. The sum of the parts can never exceed the whole; and hence it is, that apparently too much is expected to result even in a financial way from this proposed consolidation of the New England railroads.

But what of the service to the public which is in crying need of improvement? Would that be greatly improved by the consolidation recommended by the Storrow committee? Possibly yes slightly; but it can never wholly solve the New England transportation question.

The claim made by the advocates of consolidation is, that the system could then give its outside business to the trunk line that offered the desired service on the most acceptable terms. They could have the Pennsylvania road, the N. Y. Central and the Erie, or the Baltimore and Ohio compete for the New England business. That sounds well, but it will not bring any of the great companies into New England with leased or proprietary interests which would assuredly induce them to make extensive improvements that are greatly needed.

On the contrary, let the Pennsylvania company come in here and take over the New Haven and Boston & Maine systems and we shall soon see changed railroad conditions in New England. Even the part of Boston would soon feel the benefit of connection with this great trunk line and all its progressive policies.

In a conflict among the trunk lines the New York Central might seek control of some of the New England roads; but it has leased the Boston and Albany and, in any case, it will favor that road as its pet system, for the reason that it has given the stockholders thereof financial guarantees that it must maintain during the life of the lease. Let another trunk line come in here and do for some of our New England systems what the New York Central did for the Boston and Albany.

The policy of the government is to have but seven or eight railroad systems in the country; and those that are linked with the great trunk lines will avoid the dangers of isolation which for New England—consolidation or no consolidation—would eventually be fatal. Therefore, we assert with all confidence and with firm conviction based upon study of the situation, and in spite of all the arguments to the contrary, that the safeguarding of the interests of New England demands that a substantial part of her railroad system shall pass into control of the Pennsylvania road.

This company at present comes only to Hell Gate bridge at New York, and would be glad to come to Boston and put new life into the moribund system of railroads that are making nothing for themselves and giving, with few exceptions, but very indifferent service to the public. The great railroad system that in spite of the Vanderbilt and Morgan interests entered New York, tunneling under the Hudson and East rivers at a tremendous expense, would soon bring prosperity to the New England system and to the port of Boston. It would then have a direct interest in New England prosperity and would be a competitor that would save our industries from the merciless discrimination of the New York Central and other trunk lines whose interests run counter to those of New England.

Anyone with the slightest comprehension of our present railroad problems can see at a glance that if the great Pennsylvania railroad could come into New England and do for its main lines what the New York Central has done for the Boston and Albany, the results would be incalculably benefit the railroads, the industries, the investors and the traveling public of New England.

THE SUGAR SITUATION

Price-cutting in sugar rations on the part of some of the large refining companies, has caused widespread comment on the part of both wholesalers and retailers, as well as the general public. That sugar refiners have apparently engaged in what many consider at present near-legal practices, has greatly disturbed the sugar market and has, therefore, caused most of the price-slashing, according to one refiner. The price is still too high.

Some of the sugar distributors have been consigning shipments to buyers' warehouses instead of placing it on the open market, in order to keep the price up as long as possible. This gives some buyers an unfair advantage over their competitors. This factor, together with lack of confidence in the general trade, has made the market a "waiting one."

Cuban producers continue to maintain that their sugar will shortly be in demand again at higher prices. Cuba's actual new sugar production plus probabilities for June 30, 1923, should total more than 25,000,000 bags, or about 3,500,000 tons, according to Island representatives of the larger sugar corporations.

OUR NATIONAL DEBT

The national debt now is a trillion under 23 billion dollars, after deducting Uncle Sam's surplus funds.

This means that the national debt is $207 for every man, woman and child in the country. While even that is a large sum, it is not enough to drive us to the poorhouse. The income of all the American people for less than half a year would wipe out every penny of the national debt. A great many Americans would be thankful if their personal debts were not any larger than their share of the national debt.

A NATIONAL CEMETERY

The people will heartily endorse the recommendation of Congressman Rogers that a National cemetery shall be provided in New England in which service men of all classes who may die in poor circumstances shall be buried. It is somewhat surprising that a cemetery of that kind has not been already established in New England while over 30 such are located

SEEN AND HEARD

Few of the successful gold-diggers of today, observes the Legion Weekly, are forty-niners.

No matter how great a range a slinger may have, it never sounds as sweet as the kitchen range.

A man often tells a girl he would die for her but that is because he never has tried it.

A Thought

A gentleman that loves to hear himself talk will speak more in a minute than he will stand in a month—Shakespeare.

Good For Huffy

Huffy, having moved to the country, had to stand for a lot of near-humors from his downtown friends, and got very tired of it. Hence the following dialogue: "Hello, Huffy." "Lo." "So you now live in the suburbs?" "Yes." "How high are onions?" "Four inches in the garden; higher at the grocery store."

Full of Triangles

"Have you a book writ by a fellow named Euclid?" The bookseller was disconcerted for a moment, but finally admitted that he had. "I'm in the movie business," continued the stranger, "and I think maybe this book would make a good five-reel feature." "What gave you that idea?" "I overheard a literary guy talking about it. He said it was full of triangles."

On Same Errand

"That guy," said the proprietor of a soft drink emporium, confidently indicating a departing figure with his thumb, is a prohibition enforcement gink looking for bootleg whiskey." "Som I," replied the new customer, drawing himself along the edge of the counter. "Wot? You a prohibition agent?" demanded the other in alarm. "No—O, no, no, no," hastily. "But I'm on the same errand."

A Short Story

It was between dances. They were sitting in a dim corner of the porch. He moved towards her, gently, earnestly, until her face was close to his. "You have such wonderful eyes," he murmured. "Yes," she inquired expectantly. "They are like stars," he went on. Her head went up to his. Her lips almost brushed his, as he murmured, "They are like stars." His arm went out, his hand fumbled in his pocket. With a quick gesture he drew forth a glittering object. "They are so very bright," he repeated passionately. He thrust his wrist into her. "See if you can see the time in the dark."—Williams Purple Cow.

Drawing a Fine Line

Many Indianapolis needy people go to a certain charity worker for advice as well as aid. The other day a woman came with a letter and said she told her story in plain language. Her husband had beat her whenever he wanted exercise. She wished the charity worker to tell her how to cure him of the "fault." The charity worker looked at her a few minutes. Then she said, "A man who beats a woman needs pretty severe treatment. Have him rolled up." For a minute the woman stared at her. Then she caught at what the other woman was suggesting. "No, I ain't got no rollin' pin," she returned. "But, lady, I has got a razor."—Indianapolis News.

Will of the Wisp

Three young men of a more romantic than adventuresome turn of mind who are spending the summer in the Catskills, were recently startled when after dark a man came with a lantern and appeared at irregular intervals under a neighbor's apple tree. In the safe sunlight next morning they sought their neighbor out. "Last night," said they in unison, "then we caught what do you think? A will of the wisp?" The neighbor grinned politely, neither agreeing nor contradicting, and they departed. Not for worlds was he going to give away his secret. He is an agent fisherman, hampered a bit by the difficulty owing to the dry season of obtaining worms. In fact, he might have had to give up his pastime altogether had he not adopted the scheme of secretly passing by a friend, "Sprinkle salty water on the ground," had been the advice. "At night the worms will come to the surface. Take a flash-light and rub them as they appear. And that's all there is to the whole thing."—New York Sun and Globe.

An Inopportune Time

Tommy Askit was parked at the top of the stairs, a book in his hands. He had forgotten to do his lessons the night before. "Pa, what is an epidemic?" The poor man had just begun to shave. You, who are paps, can just imagine. Narrowly averting a nick in his nose, pa answered gently: "An epidemic is anything that spreads," and started to shave his chin. "Is butter an epidemic?" asked Tommy. "Is it spread around for some thing to spread on?" "Pa, how many ways did Columbus sail?" The tortured parent swallowed hard. "Four: If I'm not mistaken," he replied. "But with which voyage did he die, pa?" With his eyes on the shaving brush full of lather, pa deliberately made a move toward it. Tommy took the hint and slid down the stairs quickly. "Pa, do you know a liquid that doesn't freeze?" he called up. "No," his father roared downstairs. "There is none!" "How about hot water?" asked Tommy. "Pa, you won't with his shaving." "And pa, what is helium?" asked Tommy. His parent kept silence. "And what is uranium?" Pa remained silent. "Now tell me what is the difference between helium and uranium?" asked Tommy. "If you ever bother me again when I'm shaving I'll wring your neck!" roared pa. After which the bathroom door went shut with a bang that vibrated the roof.—Detroit Free Press.

I Don't

Most motorists are blooming fools. They trifle with the traffic rules. I don't.

No man should try to get the drop on any seasoned traffic cop. Nor fall to head his men to stop. I don't.

A man should never drive too fast. Or buzz about the cars he's passed. I don't.

For Safety First should be his creed. There really isn't any need. To drive a car at reckless speed. I don't.

A man should never lose his head when piloting a gas-machine. I don't.

On city street or open road, a man should never break the code, Nor follow fast, I don't.

He should not scare equestrians. Nor chase the poor substrans. I don't.

In fact, I have no car to run. I'm shy the cash to purchase one. You'd think I couldn't have much fun. I don't.

Tom Sims Says

Do your eyes hurt you? Quit looking daggers at people.

People who worry about everything worry about nothing.

Are your feet swollen? This is not dangerous. Not half as bad as if you had the swell head.

Does dandruff bother you? Worry about it until you are bald and the dandruff will leave.

Do your trousers bag at the knees? Loan them to a now-legged man and he will take the bag out.

Always chew tobacco while calling on a girl you do not want to kiss. It works fine.

Cry when a girl starts kissing you. Stamping on her feet is another way to make her stop it.

Damp feet are said to be one cause of bad colds. It shouldn't be so hard to give them up.

When a bad cold meets a good disposition the bad cold wins.

Put on too much speed ahead and you may meet with reverses.

The first sign of winter is when you wish it was summer.

Is your face your fortune? That is why so many men feel cheap when they need a shave.

Screens may be taken down properly by hiring a man to help you and then helping him.

A woman marries a man to mend his ways and finds all he wants her to mend is his clothes.

Never worry about how late it is because it never is as late as it will be a little later.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Again I am indebted to Arthur Strout of Centralville for an ancient document concerning a meeting of the Continental congress in Watertown, Mass., in 1775. The old booklet, giving an accurate and comprehensive report of the meeting, was printed by hand in Watertown and although somewhat faded, the copy is legible and easy to follow. The late Kirk Mahan, an intimate friend of Mr. Strout's and a historical researcher, was shown the document some time ago and realizing its historical value, notified the Watertown Public Library of its existence. The authorities of that city wrote back and offered $10 for it, but Mr. Strout refused to part with it. Such records are rare.

In discussing city planning and zoning at the Liberty hall meeting last Tuesday evening, Patrick O'Hearn, chairman of the Lowell Planning board, said that many civic improvements could be had in Lowell if the people would only become interested in planning and zoning. Still in its infancy, the Lowell Planning board has accomplished much in arranging tentative plans for a better city, and it only remains now for the citizens to interest themselves in the development of the plans. In the near future 2000 questionnaires will be distributed among the citizens. If you have any suggestions to make, ideas that will tend to beautify the business or residential sections of the city, the Planning board will be only too glad to have you submit them.

According to statistics published in the Panama Canal Record, now at hand, the number of commercial transits through the canal during the month of August was 434. This is 20 less than those in July, but exceeds any month prior to July, 1923. In addition to commercial transits, there were seven transits of small launches on which tolls were paid but which are not taken up in the commercial traffic, and 23 transits of government vessels on which no tolls were paid, making the total transits for the month 453, or an average of 14.6 per day.

Tolls for the month aggregated $2,050,656.57 on the 454 commercial vessels and $25.15 on the seven launches, making a total of $2,050,681.72 or an average of $4,513.03 per day.

Considerable interest has been shown by the traffic officers in regard to the way the pedestrians and automobilists treat the recently laid out crossing zones. "Buddy," a Connecticut superman, says that 60 per cent of the people crossing the square cross on the space laid out for their use and that the other 40 per cent walk all over the streets before getting from one point of safety to another. He considers the painted crossings as great things for the safety of the pedestrian and expressed a wish that all the people would use them as lay-walkers only "ball-up" traffic and make it harder for the officers.

NURSES GRADUATED AT TEWKSBURY HOSPITAL

Twenty young women were graduated from the nurses' training school in Tewksbury yesterday afternoon. The exercises were held in the infirmary chapel, opening with the invocation by Rev. Dr. Benson. The graduates were seated in a semi-circle before the platform, while the junior nurses, dressed in white, occupied an entire section of the floor.

A trio comprising violin, piano and drum rendered the entrance march and also gave selections between the addresses. Calvin L. Stone, chairman of the board of trustees, presided and presented the diplomas. As the graduates received their diplomas they were decorated with the school badges by Mrs. Nellie E. Talbot, secretary of the board of trustees. After receiving her diploma, each young woman was presented a bouquet of beautiful flowers.

Robert Lincoln O'Brien of Boston and Dr. G. Foster, director of the city, who is a member of the board of trustees, addressed the graduates.

At the close of the formal exercises the graduates formed a line in front of the platform and received their friends. Luncheon was then served, and in the evening dancing was enjoyed from 8 to 12 o'clock.

The platform of the chapel was beautifully decorated with autumn foliage and flowers, forming a pretty background for the white-gowned nurses in their caps with the regulation black bands.

Mr. O'Brien, on being introduced, addressed the graduates in part as follows:

"You will expect me to say something to you about the honorable calling that you have chosen, but I feel so incompetent to do that that I am going instead to tell you a story of my own profession, a story of an aged editor and his four reporters. The reporters came into the office one after another and reported there was no news. They were rebuked by the editor who then went out and accepted the first three men whom he met, engaging them one after another in conversation, and each of the three men told him a story that made news of importance. The lesson is that there is a story in every one that you meet and talk with. Remember that you are entering into the story of the world. In that person's life there is some kind of a story. It may be a tragedy, a farce or a comedy. And you are contributors in your life to the story in the life of every person with whom you come in contact. And your study of the stories in the lives of others will add to your store of knowledge."

"I have been at the crossroads long enough to have a fairly good notion of the road that leads to the end. There are four headlines of attainment by which you may measure the usefulness of your school work here or your subsequent training or study in the world. First, by taking the concentrated wisdom of the past, 'By studying that we may walk into the experience of years.'"

"A second object in all studies is the development of perspective. The third object is the cultivation of the ideal. It is from the Chinese that we get a maxim that is the extreme of idealism: 'Our aim should be to speak the ineffable word, to do the impossible deed and to walk the impassable way.'"

"In conclusion I want to say that the world is waiting for you, waiting for you to help the world's suffering, the lives of others. We sometimes think that there is difficulty in finding things to do, but the truth is exactly opposite. The world is waiting for the young, for their enthusiasm, for their training and for their skill. Those of you who are graduating today may truly say that the world is waiting for you, for your service and your inspiration and your enthusiasm."

The names of the graduates of the class of 1923 are as follows:

Myrtle Marian Boyat, Mae Patricia Murphy, Florence May Hayes, Elizabeth Mildred Orniston, Marguerite Isabelle MacEachern, Mary Helena Johnson, Anna Mae MacKillop, Rose Gertrude Dowd, Beatrice Pearl Simpson, Helen Jane Doherty, Emma Marie Miller, Mary Margaret O'Brien, Gladys Geva, Guignion, Winifred Constance Guignion, Dorothy Helen Guignion, Catherine Genevieve Mc-

Mighty Healing Power of Peterson's Ointment

For Eczema, Ulcers, Old Sores and Piles

"I wish I could publish all the grateful letters I get every week," says Peterson. "I don't believe anyone on this earth has such a happy time at work as I have. All I do is make Peterson's Ointment and read letters like these that come right from the heart."

"I had an ulcer on my ankle—had it 30 years and could not get it healed. For the last six years I had several doctors. I got one box of your ointment and it almost healed it and it was entirely healed before I had used the second one. I don't think there is a better remedy on earth."—Mrs. J. C. Henderson, 520 Sprague Street, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Peterson's Ointment is just as good for ulcers as it is for old sores. It stops itching of eczema almost instantly. There isn't anything in the way of pimples or face blemishes that it won't chase away, and for sore feet, chafes, sunburn, scalds, cuts and bruises there is nothing as sure or speedy. 25 cents a box at any drug store.—Adv.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

Isn't It?

Things are always exactly right,
Luck will frequently go astray,
Skies aren't always entirely bright,
Yet, there's plenty to make us gay;
A lulling song, or a day in May,
A silver moon or a balmy sun,
A jolly dinner, a clever play,
Life is really a lot of fun!

I get a thrill from a cloud that's white,
From scents of flowers and new mown hay,
An aeroplane, or a gull in flight,
A ship that's sailing "To far Cathay,"
A romp with kids, or a holiday
Out in the car for a country run;
Of joys like these there's a large array,
Life is really a lot of fun!

The smile of a friend, or a softer light
In eyes of violet, brown or gray;
Love and laughter and work and fight;
A city street, or a country way;
The things that people will do and say,
The jokes well told and the yarns well spun,
Give a "kick" to this mortal clay,
Life is really a lot of fun!

ENVOY

Pessimists tell you it doesn't pay,
But they are the kind of guys to shun;
We're here, of course, for the briefest stay,
But life is really a lot of fun!

ation is regarded as full of possibilities but as furnishing no basis at present for any action on the part of the allies.

The authorities of occupation in the Ruhr however, are said to be prepared to meet any emergency as a consequence of today's proclamation in Berlin.

The extreme measures resorted to are regarded as partly in response to the action of the Bavarians in setting up a dictatorship, and in any case, as solely related to the requirements of interior politics, entirely independent of the foreign situation.

Neither President Ebert's proclamation nor the abandonment of resistance in giving the control over to the military authorities is considered as changing the situation so far as it concerns the allies.

It was said in official circles that it had been fully expected that the Germans would move in some direction to make their capitulation in the Ruhr "invisible."

Miners in Protest Strike.
DUESSELDORF, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press).—The miners in the Gelsenkirchen, Rockingham and Wanne districts, declared a general strike today as the first action in protest against the Berlin government's decision to give up passive resistance, and also against the exploitation of the district by the French. It is estimated that 6000 miners had quit work up to noon, with thousands of others expected to follow.

The report on the miners' action received at French headquarters here, caused some alarm, as it was feared the strike might be followed by general strikes, necessitating severe repressive measures. The French report says the movement was prompted purely by the communist factions, which have mustered an unusually large following since the position of the miners became so unsettled.

Aside from this movement of the miners the population of the occupied territory is apparently calm, taking the Berlin decision philosophically.

Communists Warned

MOSCOW, Sept. 27.—(By the Associated Press).—The German communists who are here for consultation with Russian leaders have been advised to proceed with extreme caution, according to an unofficial information made available here.

United States Senator William K. King of Utah, after interviewing Foreign Minister Tchitcherine and Minister of War Trotsky, said he gained the same impression. The Russians told him they wanted the peaceful reconstruction of Russia above all else, and that their attitude toward a German revolution depended on whether the Fascist movement menaced this country.

TO DRAW UP NEW TRAFFIC AND PARKING CODE

At a meeting of the public safety committee of the city council late yesterday afternoon Police Superintendent Thomas R. Atkinson and Traffic Supervisor Edward Connors were named to draw up a new code of traffic and parking regulations for presentation to the council in the form of an ordinance.

The meeting also discussed the need of more patrolmen, particularly on the traffic squad and although nothing was definitely decided, Sup't. Atkinson said his appropriation will allow him to put on several additional men and the mayor declared he would favor any reasonable increase to the force as recommended by the chief.

In connection with parking regulations in downtown streets Supervisor Connors strongly recommended an enforced time limit, particularly in streets that lead into the square.

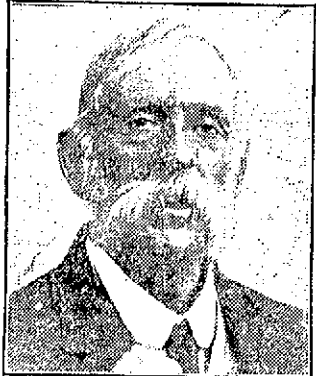

He said that he patrols Merrimack street up to John street to see that no cars remain parked too long and also goes into Prescott and Central streets as far as Warren street, it being proposed to have these streets open for traffic up to those points.

BOSTON COLLEGE ALUMNUS HAS SURPRISING RECOVERY

Years of Suffering From Indigestion, Gastritis, Constipation, Headaches and Nervousness Wiped Out by Dreo

SYLVESTER PARSHLEY

Sylvester Parshley, a well known G.A.R. veteran, living at Dracut, near Lowell, Mass., in talking of his experience with Dreo says:

"Treatments and medicines failed to help me a bit. I had insufferable pains in my back and limbs, so bad that I could not lay down and sit down without causing intense pain. "Food was my enemy. Whenever I ate I suffered for hours from sharp indigestion pains and my stomach bloated and felt sore. I would belch. I had terrible pains when everything would go black before my eyes and I would feel dizzy. I was thin and rundown, in a terrible state. My system was sapped of its strength by the poisons of constipation that clogged the passages and closed my bowels. "Night after night it was loss and loss till morning. I was never relieved of my suffering by sleep. And as I said before, everything that I tried failed to help me. Then I started taking Dreo. "Without pain this wonderful remedy soon got at the root of my troubles wiping out all signs of my suffering. The pains in my back and limbs are gone. I can eat and enjoy my food. I sleep and my system is a hundred per cent better and stronger. And now I only hope that Dreo will lift every sufferer out of the abyss of agony and torture as it has me."

Dreo is being specially introduced by Green's Drug store and sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Gov. Cox Issues Proclamation—Points to Loss of $14,246,228 Last Year

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Gov. Cox yesterday issued the following proclamation:

"I hereby designate and set apart Oct. 7 to 13, inclusive, as Fire Prevention week.

"The fire loss for the commonwealth of Massachusetts during the year 1922 was $14,246,228. The per capita loss in the commonwealth was $3.69. The total fire loss in the United States, ascertained from the most reliable figures, was over $600,000,000.

"Fire losses from the so-called preventable causes are always heavy. In our commonwealth such losses are estimated to have been more than $4,779,882 in 1922.

"To the tremendous losses already set forth must be added the loss of human lives and the great destruction of growing timber.

"It is appalling to think of this loss of life and property which might have been prevented by care on the part of individuals. Everything possible should be done to lessen the fire hazard.

"During Fire Prevention week let there be earnest consideration of methods to accomplish this purpose, and to make the fire loss for the next year the lowest in the history of the commonwealth."

JUDGE SAYS LAWRENCE IS "WIDE OPEN"

LAWRENCE, Sept. 27.—"The city of Lawrence is wide open," Judge Jeremiah J. Mahoney declared in district court yesterday when he dismissed a liquor case for lack of evidence. He commended the prosecuting officer, and said it was too bad he did not have more co-operation in his work.

"Police officers have plenty of opportunity to go out, catch offenders and bring them and plenty of liquor as evidence into the court," the judge declared. "Instead, an offender is occasionally brought into court with nothing in the line of evidence to help convict him."

through the appointment of new officers, he said that he knew the people would be willing to pay for more protection than that which they are at present receiving in certain districts of the city.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

"FLEW" ACROSS THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

About the time that a Lowell boy was swimming across the English channel a Chelmsford girl was flying over it from Paris to London. Miss B. Alta Byam, of South Chelmsford, has with four other friends, under the guidance of Miss Mabel Hill, spent the summer visiting places of interest in England. With one of the party Miss Byam left the others and spent a short time in Paris, from which they returned by aeroplane to join the party in London. The plane in which they made the trip is one of the regular "Handley-Page Twin Engine Service" fleet which is maintained between these two points.

Miss Byam describes the trip as a delightful one and a most pleasant way of traveling. Miss Byam sailed on the President Arthur from New York on June 16, and landed at Plymouth, and with the exception of a short time in Paris spent the entire summer in England, returning last week.

CROMWELL GIVES OFFICIALS' NAMES

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Seymour L. Cromwell, president of the New York Stock Exchange, yesterday disclosed to the grand jury the names of persons to whom he referred in his address before the American Bankers' association at Atlantic City on Monday, when he said that three public officials had threatened reprisals against the exchange unless favors they solicited were granted.

"I have disclosed the names and the public will know them within a few days," Mr. Cromwell said, as he emerged from an hour and a half session with the grand jury. He refused to amplify that statement. He will appear as a witness before the grand jury again today.

Three other members of the New York Stock Exchange, whose identities were not revealed, will be witnesses with Mr. Cromwell before the grand jury. They have made affidavits supporting the story told by Mr. Cromwell.

LOWELL SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

The Lowell school of religious education will open at the Y.M.C.A. on Oct. 15, continuing for twelve weeks, exclusive of Thanksgiving and Christmas. Classes will close on Jan. 18. Enrollments are now being made through various ministers of Lowell churches and their Sunday school superintendents.

Dr. John Suter, educational director for the diocese of Massachusetts, will be the instructor in "How to Teach Religion" and "Elementary Psychology." Miss Elizabeth Harris of Boston university, formerly young people's director for the New York state Sunday school association, will teach "Story Telling" and "Junior Methods." Dr. W. N. Donovan of the Biblical department of the Newton Theological seminary will teach "The Teaching Value of the Old Testament," and "How We Got Our Bible."

MOOSE AND AUTO IN COLLISION

BANGOR, Me., Sept. 27.—A big bull moose wandered into the city about 8 o'clock last night and when near the corner of Fourth and Union streets became bewildered by the lights of an approaching automobile driven by George J. Grant of 433 Main street and met it head-on, smashing the windshield and killing Mr. Grant's face with broken glass. He was taken to a hospital where it is said one eye is badly injured.

Leaving a trail of blood the moose ambled down Union street, across Main street, past the Bangor House and Central fire station in sight of hundreds of astonished persons and finally brought up at the Main Central drawbridge where he fell exhausted and was shot by a policeman. A game warden took charge of the carcass.

DRACUT FIREMEN ENTERTAIN

The firemen of the Navy Yard, Dracut, company were the hosts Tuesday night to 40 townspeople at an oyster supper and whisky party held in the company's quarters. Among the guests of the evening were several town officials and many of the men who formed the original Navy Yard fire company. The affair was the first social held by the firemen this season and the guests of the evening congratulated them upon its success and expressed the hope that it be but the first of many such affairs.

NERVOUS WOMAN COMPLETE WRECK

Tells How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"Now I want to tell you just what induced me to take your medicine. It seemed that I had some kind of weakness so that I could not carry a child its full time. The last time I was troubled this way I had a nervous breakdown and was a complete wreck. The doctor thought I would not live, and if I did that I would never be well again. But I told them I was going to get well, that I was not going to die just then. My husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took six bottles of it. I soon got strong again and had three more children. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound ever since, and if you could see me now you would think I had always been well."—Mrs. MARY F. HERRICK, 234 Detroit St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for expectant mothers and should be taken during the entire period. It has a general effect to strengthen and tone up the entire reproductive system, so that it may work in every respect effectually as nature intends.

There's a "dollars-and-cents" reason behind the fact that hundreds of big companies operate their motor vehicles with Tydol Economy Gasoline.

Here it is! Tydol holds their business because, in competitive tests, Tydol operates motor vehicles at less cost-per-mile. Tests prove that Tydol gives easier starting, increased power, more miles per gallon, lower oil consumption, and less carbon.

No matter whether you operate a single taxi—or a fleet of heavy trucks, you can operate on a "save-per-mile" basis with Tydol.

Why don't you let Tydol prove its economies in your equipment? Test Tydol's cost-per-mile against the gas you are now using. A Tide Water engineer will be glad to assist you. Write or phone today.

Before you buy, be sure the pump is marked "Tydol"

"Where is the land of jewels?" asked Jack. "Well, the best way to find out is to go there," replied Goldie Locks. "First of all we will walk over and watch the little band of chain men at work and then we'll go to the land of jewels." And shortly the chain men were reached.

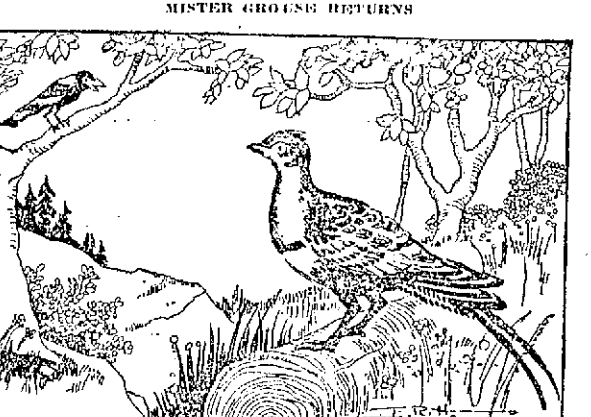

Jack was surprised at the sight that greeted him. It looked just like a blacksmith shop. Anvils were here and there and hanging from them were long watch chains and necklaces. And out of the little links of gold. There was a tap, tap, tapping of hammers as the chain men worked.

"That's the way they make chains," explained Goldie Locks. "Each little gold link is hammered into place and, after the chain is completed it is put in a box and sent to the land that you came from. In that land the chain is sold to women and girls." (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THERE, ON A FAIRY LOG, STOOD THE MOST GORGEOUS BIRD THAT EVER HAPPENED OUTSIDE A FAIRY TALE

Mister Grouse motioned to Nancy and Nick to come nearer to the place where Miss Grouse was talking to Chatterbox Magpie. So they all slid off their ponies and crept up ever so softly on their hands and knees. They were so close now they could see the wicked gleam in Chatterbox's eyes as he went on teasing poor Miss Grouse about her brown feathers and her plain family. "Why doesn't your husband stay with you?" teased Chatterbox. "Is it because he's ugly, too, and ashamed of being seen? I hear that he goes far back into the mountains and keeps bachelor's hall."

"Did you ever see my husband?" asked Miss Grouse in a queer voice. "Ha, ha, ha! No, he!" laughed Chatterbox. "That's a good one! Did I ever see him? Why, no, indeed! He never stays at home long enough for anybody to see him. I'll bet you he's as ugly as a mud fence!"

Miss Grouse didn't say anything. Indeed, she didn't appear to be listening to Chatterbox at all, but to something far away.

Then the twins and Mister Gallon heard a faint call that came nearer and nearer, and pretty soon a loud drumming that nearly deafened them.

OLD HOME TOWN

DRAMATIC PERFORMANCE

Altissima Club of North Billerica to Present "My Wild Irish Rose"

In Thomas Talbot Memorial hall, North Billerica, tomorrow, Friday evening, the Altissima Dramatic club of that town will present "My Wild Irish Rose," a comedy-drama of Irish life in three acts under the auspices of the Holy Name society of St. Andrew's parish. By mistake an item in yesterday's Sun said the play would be given tonight. This drama was presented last June in aid of the Father Mathew society, and the great success attained on that occasion prompted a repetition which was put off until tomorrow evening because the "indoor sports" season was about to close at the time of the original showing.

MYLES J. FINNEGAN,
Club President.

Good amateur work, therefore, will be witnessed by those who attend. The steady sale of tickets indicates that there are many in and around Billerica who are interested when a talented group of amateurs set to work on a clean wholesome show.

After the June success, the cast of "My Wild Irish Rose" met for the purpose of organizing a club whose aim would be to promote and present when opportunity or invitation warranted the best of amateur theatricals has to offer. This aim is reflected in the name the club chose to carry—"The Altissima," which means, the highest or best. The officers are as follows: President, Myles J. Finnegan, vice-president, Katherine A. Condon, secretary-treasurer, Mary A. McCarthy.

Rehearsals for Friday night's performance were held in Mathew hall through the kindness of that organization. Rev. Richard P. Goswell, who is temporarily assigned as assistant at St. Andrew's parish, is in charge. He will be assisted by Patrick J. Mahoney, president of the Holy Name society, Nell R. Mahoney, the well known postmaster, Edward M. Quinn, James P. Condon, Charles Lyons and John Kelleher. Miss Grace Finnegan will preside at the piano. The Misses Evelyn and Catherine Kearney will render a piano and violin solo. A dancing specialty will be given by Mary Healey, Henrietta Mullin, Anna Hayes and Ellen Wigglesworth. Norma Conley and Rena Brown, pupils of Miss Doris Conley, Lowell's youngest dancing teacher, will present the "Hinkville Rules." It is possible that solos will be contributed by visiting artists. The greatest hit of all, outside the show itself, will be Myles Finnegan and John R. Maxwell in "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheen." Although the Gallagher-Sheen stunt is old, the manner in which these two put it across will be positively and absolutely new. Those remembered in their "roll-call" are asked to keep their seats, until the performance is completed.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

Former Mayor Thompson
Will Address High School
Students, Monday

The regular weekly assembly of the students of the high school will be held in the Cyrus W. Irish Auditorium next Monday at 12:15 p. m. instead of 8:20 a. m. as has been customary in the past. The speaker will be Hon. Perry D. Thompson, who will address the students on a subject of vital importance. Last year Mr. Thompson succeeded in arousing considerable enthusiasm among the pupils in the support of athletics and other school activities.

Headmaster Harris has received an invitation from the entertainment committee of the Middlesex County Teachers' convention, which meets in Boston on Oct. 17, requesting the presence of the high school regimental band on this occasion. The convention will probably be held in Symphony hall.

Reports of first year classes will be distributed on Oct. 16, Nov. 13, Dec. 11 of this year, and Jan. 15, Feb. 19, March 25, April 28, May 27 and June 28, 1924. These reports must be signed by the parents and returned.

The first was in the sum of $10,000 and was brought by George Jojemetros. The other four were for $1,000 each, and were brought by Athanasios Piliadis, Lambros Michopoulos and Panagiotis Michoulis, who are also suing for personal injuries, and John Cambouras, who is endeavoring to recover for damage to his store front and chairs. The Jojemetros suit was entered by Tuohi, Wier & O'Donoghue, while the papers in the other four suits were from the office of J. J. Bruin.

MATRIMONIAL

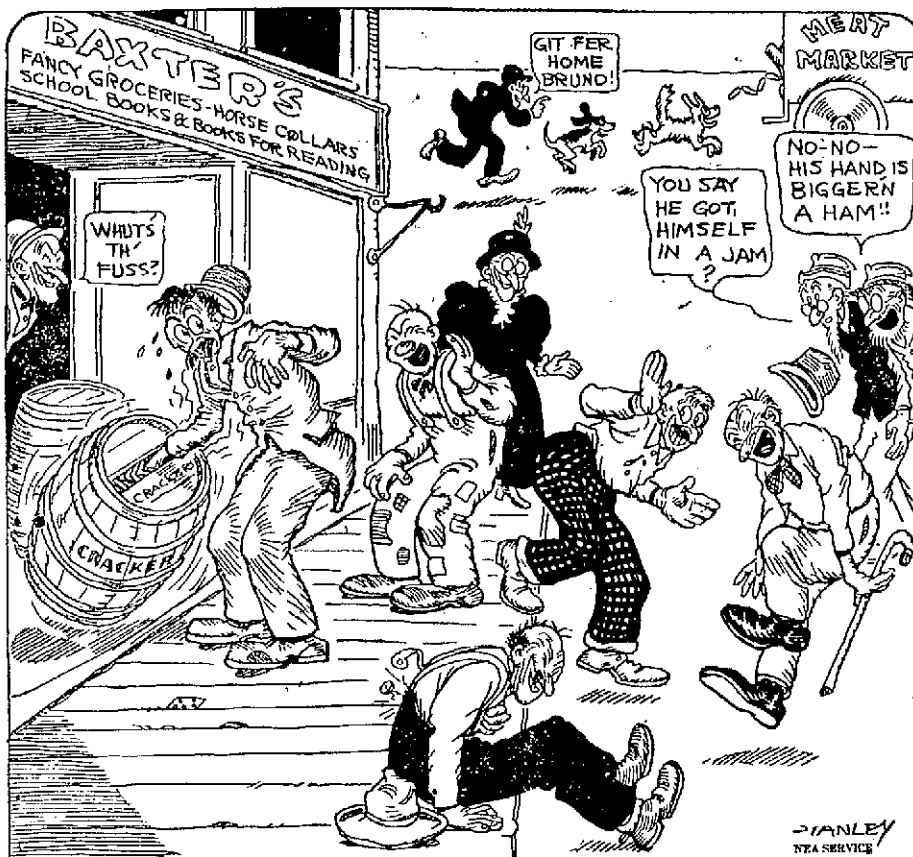

A very pretty wedding took place last evening at the Immaculate Conception rectory when Mr. Alfred A. Burns, son of Maria D. Burns and the late Andrew J. Burns, and Miss Winifred Regina Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Curran, of 158 Pleasant street, were united in marriage by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, assistant pastor of the church. The bride was attended in a gown of white tulle and lace, trimmed with charmingly lace. She wore a veil of tulle caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Cooper, wore a gown of orchid crepe and picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. Mr. John O'Brien was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. Joseph Tansey of Cambridge and Mr. Royal Cotter and Francis O'Brien of this city. Immediately after the ceremony, Miss Rose McCarthy sang "O Promise Me," accompanied on the organ by Mr. Frank Ralls. The altar decorations in the chapel were of palms and white chrysanthemums. A wedding reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The bride, who is a graduate of the Lowell high school, class of 1918, is an employee of the Chalfoux company, while the bridegroom was formerly a colonel of the O.M.I. Cadets and is now employed as a buyer for liners at the Chalfoux store. Mr. and Mrs. Burns received many beautiful gifts. They left on a wedding trip to New York and Washington. Upon their return they will make their residence at 158 Pleasant street.

Porter-Corfield

Mr. Charles Arthur Porter and Miss Mary A. Corfield were married last evening at the home of the bride, 24 Clifford street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. S. Setzer. The best man was Mr. Joseph Curran, while the bridesmaid was Miss Nellie Fletcher. The couple will make their home in the Lincoln apartments in Chelmsford street.

Smith-Daly

Mr. Edward G. Smith of Haverhill and Miss Evelyn M. Daly of Tewksbury were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, this city, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Alphonsus Archambault, O.M.I. The best man was Mr. Roland Irving Stewart, while the bridesmaid was Miss Cecile Boudreau. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in Haverhill.

FORMER LOWELL MAN SEEKS DIVORCE

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—A romance shattered after 23 years of married life was revealed in Suffolk divorce court yesterday by the suit of Everett M. Trauorgy against his wife, Emma L. Trauorgy. Both are 62 years of age. They formerly lived in Lowell, but at the time of their disagreement lived at 14 Willow street, Hingham. The husband charges desertion.

Court Will Review Action Which Closed Worthen St.

close the street in question. The action will be entered as the Attorney-General versus the City of Lowell. The petition for review of the supreme court contend that a substantial injury will be done to the general public if Worthen street is closed. They further contend the street was closed not because it was no longer needed as a public way but rather because the city council considered it offered an opportunity to increase the industrial capacity of the city and permit further extension of the Saco-Lowell shops. They argue the motives of the council were improper, although they make it clear there is no allegation of graft.

Whatever the outcome of the case, it is not believed it will affect the present building operations of the Saco-Lowell company whose new plant, built close to the sidewalk line in Dutton street, does not extend over any of the area formerly used as Worthen street. It was the contention of the shop representatives, however, when the petition to close the street was being sought, that additional expansion plans in future years contemplated the use of all the land as far back as the property of the Locks and Canal. The Saco-Lowell shops owned all of the tenement property, now torn down, which was on both sides of Worthen street and that side of Broadway between Dutton and Worthen streets.

They were married yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, this city, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Alphonsus Archambault, O.M.I. The best man was Mr. Roland Irving Stewart, while the bridesmaid was Miss Cecile Boudreau. After an extended honeymoon trip the couple will make their home in Haverhill.

DRAMATIC RECITAL AT NOTRE DAME ACADEMY

An excellent dramatic recital was given at the Academy of Notre Dame yesterday afternoon by Rev. Father Dawson Byrne, artist, actor, priest. Father Byrne has been touring the world interpreting the various characters in Dickens' novels and Shakespeare's plays. He has been on the stage since the age of 15 years, and has played with famous English actors such as Henry Irving and Martin Harvey. He has recently returned from London, where he played the role of "Sydney Carton," the hero of Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities," for nine months running.

He opened his recital with an interpretation of "Crispin," the red-haired, crippled, deceitful lawyer, in "David Copperfield."

This scene was followed by the pathetic scene of the "Old Grandfather" weeping at the grave of "Little Nell," and crying out "She's not dead; she only sleeps; she will wake tomorrow," from "The Old Curiosity Shop."

The part of "McCauley," "Daniel Peggotty" from David Copperfield, and "Hill Sykes" and "Eugene the Jew" from Oliver Twist, were equally well interpreted, by the priest-artist.

His interpretation of "Sydney Carton" from "The Tale of Two Cities" was simply wonderful. The robes which he wore in the presentation of this character at the Academy yesterday were the same which he wore in London in the same presentation which has been a nine-month success.

Father Byrne's interpretation of "Cardinal Wolsey," from Shakespeare's Henry VIII was most remarkable, and in his scarlet cardinal robes, Father Byrne made a striking appearance, as he quoted the cardinal's last words to "Cromwell."

Father Byrne closed his recital with the representation of an old Irish gentleman, who was returning to Ireland with his granddaughter, Anna, after spending 50 years of his life in America. They are seated on the upper deck of the ship and each is anxiously watching for the first glimpse of the Irish shore. At last the grandfather catches sight of it, and quotes John W. Locke's famous poem, "The Dawn on the Hills of Ireland."

In all his characterizations, Father Byrne wore the identical costumes worn by the various characters as depicted in the classics.

The reverend father left for Boston last evening and will leave today for Washington. From Washington Father Byrne will go west where he will present his world famous interpretations.

Fr. Byrne is connected with the American mission house, Catholic university, Washington, D. C. His aim in giving these recitals is to raise funds and thereby secure the necessary education for young men who wish to become "servants of God." Fr. Byrne said yesterday, "If any one present knows of a young man who desires to enter the priesthood, you have but to send me his name and address and I will put him through college. The work of Christ must be carried on, and I, in my humble way, am trying to perpetuate this work."

CHRETIEN'S CONDITION GREATLY IMPROVED

A cheerful word as to the condition of Councillor Joseph A. N. Chretien was brought back from the Sacred Heart hospital at Manchester last night by the delegation from the city council who visited him yesterday afternoon. His condition is greatly improved and it has been definitely established that no permanent, serious injury will result from his accident. He will be obliged to remain at the hospital for at least four weeks more, however. Councillors who took the trip yesterday were Maurice J. Lambert, Frederick A. Saffier, Daniel F. Moriarty, Arthur Genest and John A. Daly and City Messenger Owen A. Monahan.

OUTING AND CLAM BAKE BY YORICK CLUB

The annual outing and clam bake of the Yorick club is being held today at the Martin Luther grounds in Trappish, with approximately 150 members, their families and friends present to make it the most successful and enjoyable of a long series.

Between 11:30 and 12:30 a buffet luncheon was served at the club, the members then leaving for the outing grounds in automobiles. There they were in the hands of capable committees on entertainment until 4 o'clock when Uncle Dudley Zuker presided over the clam bake in the pine grove. Sports for men and women and a baseball game between teams composed of married and single men were on the program, this more strenuous portion of the day being under the direct supervision of Major Walter R. Jeyea. An

FORESTERS' CONVENTION

Lowell Man Returns From Convention of French-
American Foresters

Lawyer J. H. Guillet of this city, founder and past grand chief ranger of the French-American Foresters, has returned from the biennial convention of the order, which was conducted at Westbrook, Me.

Mr. Guillet reports that the convention was one of the most successful ever conducted under the auspices of the order and considerable business pertaining to the welfare of the members was transacted.

One of the features of the convention was the reception of the following message from President Calvin M. Coolidge:

The White House,
Washington, D. C.
To O. F. Moreau, F. F. A., Westbrook, Me.
Please express to the convention my sincere thanks for their message of encouragement and support. I know the members of your organization and indeed, our French-American citizens throughout New England can always be counted upon to uphold the fundamental principles of our government and that in loyalty and patriotism they yield to none.

THE BIG A. O. H. CARNIVAL

Monster Carnival Next Week at Kasino Will Be Best Ever

The committee in charge of the big A.O.H. carnival, which is to be conducted in the Kasino in Thorndike street all next week, will meet in A.O. H. hall, Grosvenor building, this evening, to develop plans. Since it is the consensus of opinion that the coming affair will be the biggest and best ever attempted by the local liberals, the members of the various Irish societies have united and will work together to perfect the arrangements.

Since the announcement of the carnival, interest has been at a high pitch and the liberals have received numerous inquiries regarding it. Tickets are now on sale and a large number have been disposed of to date. Season tickets, entitling the bearer to admission on each of the carnival nights, are selling at 50 cents apiece. The single admission will be 10 cents.

The several hundred prizes to be awarded in connection with the event are now on exhibition in the Grosvenor building headquarters of the liberals and may be publicly inspected any evening. They will be displayed in attractively decorated booths at the carnival.

Campbell's orchestra will be in attendance to furnish dance music, while special entertainments will be provided each night and on Saturday afternoon.
